The Printer Made an Awful Mistake

Last week we wrote our advertising copy to read: "The flavor and delicacy of Williams' Bread are unequalled." This was in our most perfect Spencerian chirography, but when it appeared in print we were dumfounded to read: "The FLOUR and delicacy are unequalled." But on second thought we guess it's all right. There's nothing good you can say about Williams' Bread that isn't so. We have it fresh every morning.

Chinese Dread of Milk.

A Chinese has the same dread of milk that an American has of oysters out of season. Several evenings ago a Chinese dignitary, who had just come into the country to study educational institutions, was taking dinner with a widely known educator in an uptown hotel. He ate freely of the American dishes until it came to the last course. Looking at the ice cream dubiously for some time, he finally took a mouthful. It must have given him a pleasurable sensation—this first taste of ice cream—for he smiled pleasantly at his host. Suddenly another Chinese, who was present and who had not taken any of the dessert, spoke quickly to him a single Chinese word. In an instant the dignitary spat out his mouthful on his plate, much to the consternation of every one at the table. "What did you say?" inquired the host of the Chinese who had spoken. "I said 'milk,'" was the stoical reply.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

How Macaroni Is Made.

This is how macaroni is made in Italy: To very glutinous wheat flour is added a plentiful supply of dried eggs. Mixed with water, this becomes a dough, which is so thickly kneaded as to be difficult to impress with the fingers. Then it is carried to a round press perforated with holes, through which the dough is pressed by means of a heavy plate worked by a screw. The result is macaroni without holes in the sticks. Pipe macaroni is made through a similar press, with the difference that a round piece of metal makes the central hole. As it issues in long, snaky ropes from the bottom of the press they are violently fanned to prevent them from sticking together and are afterward taken out into the open and laid on long bamboo poles to dry. Two or three days' exposure in the warm, sunny air of Italy makes the dough pipes hard and brittle and fit to use for food.

A Greatly Desired Lady.

It would appear from bits of the social gossip of her day that Miss Burdett Coutts' nearest approach to an occupation was refusing offers of marriage. It is stated in "Intimate Memoirs of Napoleon III." that the name of the "prince of adventures" was connected with hers, that she refused the Duke of Wellington and a score of lesser gentlemen.

For years the great heiress was the most glittering matrimonial prize in England, and when at last she consented to change her condition by marrying an American a London club wit struck a responsive chord by observing: "I don't blame Ashmead Bartlett for proposing to the baroness. I've done it myself. I regard it as a duty every Englishman owes to his family."

The Air Man's Dream.

A French aviation expert is of opinion that the day will come when communication between the earth and the moon and stars will be possible in aeroplanes. Providing that radium is one day found in larger quantities and that some way of harnessing its energies is discovered by scientists, he calculates that an aeroplane weighing a ton should be able to cover the 238,800 miles which separate the earth and the moon in three hours and five minutes. About 800 pounds of radium would be necessary to provide the fuel for the journey. At the current price about $10,000,000,000 worth would be required.

Trips to certain of the stars he considers equally practicable.—London Tit-Bits

Ants Walk on Water.

It may not be new to observers of animal life, but I have been much interested in watching the common house ant here in Rio de Janeiro. We have an American fly trap. The sugar was one day covered with ants, so I placed the trap on a finger bowl standing in a plate of water. The ants when they came to the edge of the water ran around the bowl until convinced there was no way across, and then calmly took to the water and ran across it by aid of surface tension without getting their feet wet. Having presumably been home to the nest, they returned for more sugar, crossing in the same way, and this went on regularly, a steady procession crossing the water.—Nature.

Modest John Kebble.

If John Kebble had had his way it is possible that his famous "Christian Year" might never have been published. He was extremely averse to it and only yielded to the importunities of his friends and the pleadings of his father. Even so he refused to have his name on the title page. In forty-five years it went through 158 editions, and since it went out of copyright they have ceased to be counted.

Consolation.

"When I was your age," the self-made man complained, "I was not spending money that had been earned by somebody else."

"Well," his spendthrift son replied, "you missed a good thing."—Chicago Record Herald.

Guerillas.

Guerilla, which is a Spanish word meaning "little war," was first applied to armed peasants who worried the French armies in the Peninsular war, 1808 to 1814.

Settled.

"Have you placed your interest in the estate in the hands of a lawyer?" "Yes, and in his pocket too."—Buffalo Express.

Let the only motive to read be the love of truth.—Thomas a Kempis

COTTAGE GROVE PENNANTWINNERS.

With a total of six games played, five won, none lost, and in only one of which their opponents succeeded in scoring against them, the Cottage Grove football team claims the championship of the valley. The only other team eligible to contest the honor is the Corvallis team, which the local team played, leaving Cottage Grove the champion. The games played, resulted as follows: Cottage Grove's points being given first: Eugene 6 to 0, Lebanon 36 to 0, Corvallis 0 to 0, Albany 13 to 0, O. A. C. Rooks 13 to 0, Drain 52 to 0.

BRYAN OUTWITS WOMAN

Secretary Escapes Ambush by Delivering Curt Evasive Answer.

Washington.—Secretary Bryan narrowly escaped a suffrage ambush at a meeting of the national popular government league, where he spoke on popular government. A delegation of woman suffragists took places in the hall, at which it had been advertised the secretary of state was to speak, and near the conclusion of his address Miss Helen Todd, a California suffragist, arose and called out:

"And how about popular government for women, Mr. Secretary?"

With flashing eyes, the secretary said:

"Madam, in your work you doubtless have followed your judgment and conscience. In my work, I have followed mine."

The suffragists made no further efforts to secure an expression from Bryan and the secretary immediately thereafter left the hall.

There is only one way to get all the news of the Grove country. That is in The Sentinel.

Within a 15 mile circle around IMPERIAL there are now several hundred prosperous farmers raising enormous crops of wheat, rye, barley, oats, potatoes, vegetables, etc. Poultry raising is also highly successful.

Three large stock ranches, owning several thousand horses and cattle are also in this circle.

IMPERIAL is now the trading point and will soon be the shipping point (the railroads are now building) for the products from thousands of acres surrounding it.
