IT IS YOUR PLAIN DUTY

To tell your Eastern friends that unless they have their ticket to the San Francisco Exposition routed by Cottage Grove when purchased, they will have to pay full fare from San Francisco to get to Cottage Grove.

THE REASON a political job is called a berth must be because it brings some people to life.

INSPIRATION FROM CRESWELL.

Cottage Grove might well take pattern from its neighbor Creswell in some ways. We have in mind the recent gala day celebration there in honor of the successful completion of the first year's operation of its cannery.

Cottage Grove might just as well as not have had such a celebration itself but for its slight oversight in not providing a cannery a year ago. It even appears now that such a celebration cannot be held a year hence. But The Sentinel believes that if every berry grower and gardener in the Cottage Grove country could have attended the recent stockholders' meeting at Creswell and could have witnessed the ease with which a couple of thousand dollars of additional capital was secured from those already owning stock, the money necessary to establish a cannery here would be subscribed several times over.

A fundamental principle of a cooperative plant is that the stock be subscribed by those who will furnish the raw material, but it seems impossible to get growers here to take up the proposition. Produce sufficient in value almost to build a cannery goes to waste nearly every year in the Cottage Grove country, and yet the growers hesitate to risk a few dollars apiece for fear of losing it through mismanagement or failure of some kind.

It is hard to understand why such conditions should prevail, but they do, nevertheless. And Creswell had the same experience that Cottage Grove is having. It remained for a few men, a very few, to take the matter in hand and push it to a successful conclusion.

It seems that such action will have to be taken here before any results are accomplished. The Sentinel is fairly well convinced that nothing will be done until two or three members of the grange and two or three business men take hold with a determination to push the proposition to an immediate and successful conclusion.

MIGHT GET INTO STATE HOUSE.

Legislative jobs are going a-begging this year in Lane County. Senator Calkins is a candidate for County Judge, Representative C. J. Hurd is a candidate for County Commissioner, Representatives Allen Eaton and M. Vernon Parsons are non-committal and Senator L. E. Bean is not anxious. This leaves plenty of opportunity for candidates from some other part of the county than Eugene.

There is no reason why Cottage Grove may not secure one of the places by asking for it. It is a long time since Cottage Grove has had a member of the legislature and it is barely possible that the indorsement of Eugene might be secured for a suitable candidate from here at this time.

Material is not lacking either. Among those that come to the mind of The Sentinel who would make suitable legislators are Mayor Chambers, who has had legislative experience, J. S. Medley, C. H. Burkholder, C. E. Stewart, J. F. Spray, Geo. O. Knowles, C. M. Shinn. Both parties are represented in this array of prospective timber, but there is a dearth of candidates on both tickets. Cottage Grove might play safe by having a candidate on both sides.

This is a proposition that is at least worthy of serious consideration. Cottage Grove should take its full part in the county of which it is so important a part.

Chas. H. Fisher, former editor of the Eugene Guard, has purchased the Salem Journal. The Sentinel is not an overly strong admirer of some of Mr. Fisher's editorial work, but nevertheless believes the Capital City will benefit by the addition of a newspaper man of Mr. Fisher's ability.

We have heard of another family which read The Sentinel a few months and billed its goods direct to Cottage Grove sight unseen. The moral is plain.

The growing need of the Cottage Grove country is a larger number of energetic farmers. That may be a pun, but it's no joke.

Cottage Grove wants a depot in keeping with the progress of the city.

MEXICAN FEDERALS REACH RAILROAD

Half Famished Army Arrive at Marfa, Texas, After Hard Three-Day March.

Marfa, Tex.—Footsore, ragged almost famished from their three-day march on foot of 87 miles over a windswept mountain road, the 3300 Mexican soldiers and generals routed from Ojinaga, Mex., by the rebels, arrived whence they are to be transported by train to Fort Bliss, at El Paso. With them are 1067 women and 300 children.

The ragged remnant of the Huerta army, which sought asylum in this country rather than face possible extermination by the rebels, will be formally interned at Fort Bliss as wards of the government. They are to be held indefinitely on the footing of prisoners of war. It will be the first time the American army has been called on to shelter, feed and clothe an entire division of a foreign army, which includes six disarmed generals.

Since they were routed from Ojinaga by General Villa's rebel forces and compelled to cross the border into the United States at Presidio, Tex., 10 days ago, the Mexican soldiers have had only scant food supplies.

SINGLE-TAX GETS SUPPORT

Fels Fund Commission Will Concentrate on Oregon and California.

Washington.—The Joseph Fels fund commission, at its annual meeting here, voted to lend considerable financial and other assistance to W. S. U'Ren and his lieutenants, who propose to renew their fight for the single tax in Oregon this year. Members of the commission, after a long debate, decided they could not at this time finance a nation-wide single-tax campaign, and they therefore decided to concentrate their efforts.

Oregon and California are the two states in which they are most hopeful of victory, and a large share of the fund available will be diverted to these states.

African Strikes Ending.

Cape Town.—The railway strike practically ended with the decision of the operating force to resume work immediately. The strike of the miners also is rapidly nearing its end.

It is estimated that the mobilization of the burghers will cost the government between $1,250,000 and $2,500,000.

WEALTHY SPOKANE MAN DISAPPEARS

Santa Barbara, Cal.—F. Lewis Clark, one of the wealthiest residents of Spokane, Wash., heavily interested in mines, flour mills, real estate and other enterprises, has been missing ever since he attended his wife to the train last week. His disappearance is proving a deep mystery.

Friends and the police believe Mr. Clark either was murdered or committed suicide. In support of one of these presumptions, Mr. Clark's hat was found on the ocean beach, a mile north of the Santa Barbara wharf.

Mr. Clark, who had been in this vicinity for the past three months, coming from Spokane for the benefit of his health, was staying at a hotel.

It is said that Mrs. Clark does not believe her husband is dead and will institute a vigorous search for him on the theory that he merely wandered away. When Mrs. Clark left Santa Barbara Friday night for Spokane she left her husband in his usual good spirits. Immediately thereafter he dismissed his chauffeur at the depot and he has not been seen since.

It was learned that the domestic life of the Clarks has not been entirely tranquil. Mr. Clark has been a sufferer for many years from a physical ailment.

Noted Pioneer Is Ill.

Portland, Or.—F. X. Matthieu, sole survivor of the convention of pioneers, May 3, 1843, when Oregon was saved to the United States by one vote, is seriously ill at his home at Butteville, Or., according to his daughter, Mrs. Bergevalm. She said her father cannot leave his bed without assistance.

Women Lose Point.

Washington.—The majority members of the house rules committee decided against the creation of a standing committee of the house on woman suffrage. The decision landed like a bombshell in the ranks of national suffrage leaders gathered here.

Europe's Weather Cold.

Paris.—What bids fair to be the worst cold snap in 50 years is holding the southern portion of western Europe in a tight grip. Temperatures as low as four degrees below zero (Fahrenheit) have been registered.

Things We Think

Things others think, and what we think of the things others think.

A case where a dozen added to a dozen leaves nothing—kissing. Work it out for yourself. But maybe kissing is an example in subtraction.

Many hot-headed people are also swell-headed. We suppose the heat causes the expansion.

Often a compliment is much more diplomatic than the truth.

Speech is a great gift and often as great a nuisance.

The man who builds a landing place and warehouse for the ship he expects to come in may be classed as a real optimist.

It's not strange that wives admire the advancement and progress of their hobbies—it is natural for any one to admire his own handiwork.

Some folks don't care how much they are out getting even with someone.

It isn't the happiest married life where the wife feels it necessary to accompany her husband as a chaperone.

"You should worry" may be perfectly good slang but it is poor practice.

Woman is almost as much a mystery as life itself. But, no wonder—doesn't woman give us life!

We should think there would be as much pleasure in reading the love in the eyes of the woman who has been your companion for forty years or more as in gazing into the limpid depths of the optics of the maiden of 16 years reposing her head upon your manly chest. But, of course, we cannot be certain, never having tried the former.

A Vancouver housewife finds that she walks thirteen miles a day doing her housework. Then hubby walks twenty feet across the clean floor with his muddy boots and spoils the whole business.

It's funny what inconveniences a man will put up with in his own house that he wouldn't tolerate in a rented house.

Some folks are about as consistent as the hen which will mother chicks which she has hatched from eggs laid by every hen in the flock, but will peck the brains out of a chick which it suspects some other hen has hatched.

The little folks are about the biggest problems there is in the world today.

At a recent meeting of the managers of the Oregon State Fair, arrangements were made for an eugenic exposition this year. The age limit will be the same as last year, from 12 to 48 months, and the boy and girl winning the championship prizes will be rewarded by a trip to the San Francisco Exposition in 1915, including all expenses for one week. O. M. Plummer, manager of this department, states that he has served notice on the whole United States that Oregon is going to send to San Francisco two of the finest babies and he expects, if the other states do accept the challenge, to see there a collection of 100 of the most perfect children in the world.

LOCAL DRUGGIST MAKES MANY FRIENDS.

The New Era Drug Store reports they are making many friends through the QUICK benefit which Cottage Grove people receive from the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-ika. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and it is the most thorough bowel cleanser known, acting on BOTH the lower and upper bowel. JUST ONE DOSE of Adler-ika relieves constipation and gas on the stomach almost IMMEDIATELY.

Every patron of The Sentinel is helping to give Cottage Grove what eminent authority has stated to be the best country weekly on the coast.
