Eastern Stars Have Birthday.
The new Masonic hall was the scene of a very interesting birthday party Friday evening, at which the Eastern Star was host. Each of the guests contributed a cent for each year of his or her age. The entertainment took the form of "stunts" arranged and carried out by the members whose birthdays fell in the different months. The Januaryites ushered in the new year and bade farewell to the old in a clever and laughable way; the February members were represented by a little boy covered with valentines; March was represented by women marching about clad in furs and veils which were blown about by the breeze from an electric fan and were showered with mica; April had a prettily decorated stage for its setting and when the guests were anticipating some remarkable happening, a voice called out "April Fool!" May was characterized by a miniature May pole of striped stick candy wound by gayly dressed dolls; two June lovers sat on a couch amid bowerlike surroundings and read the famous extract from James Russell Lowell's "Vision of Sir Launfal" beginning, "What is so rare as a day in June?" July's entertainment was furnished by a "glorious Fourth" parade, the firing of fire crackers and singing of the "Star Spangled Banner"; those born in August were awarded the prize as having the cleverest stunt—a camping scene with all the "fixes," including a picnic lunch, the star feature of which was a cake made in representation of the Eastern Star, and done in all the colors; September depicted Labor Day and sang the song, "Everybody Works But Father"; October ghosts flitted about and performed Hallows' 'en tricks; those who made their advent into the world in November enjoyed a sumptuous Thanksgiving banquet; the December members sang the "Star in the East" and gave "take-off" gifts to each of the members. After the program, luncheon was served.

Stanley-Witcher.
An attractive wedding occurred in Eugene Thursday, February 12, at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Stanley, when Miss Elsie Mae Witcher of Saginaw became the bride of F. George Stanley. The Rev. Howard Fagan was the officiating clergyman. Mr. Stanley is postmaster at Wendling. The out-of-town guests attending the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Witcher, Miss Mabel Witcher, Master Ivan Witcher, Miss Bettie Mae Angel, of Saginaw; Miss Florence E. Tift, Creswell; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stanley, Master Earl Stanley, Miss Dorothy Stanley, Mrs. Dave Corey, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Enslay, of Saginaw.

Married, February 15, 1914, Harry Tibbles and Miss Mabel Henry of this city.
Miss Myrtle Little of Divide was honor guest at a dancing party given by her father on the occasion of her seventeenth birthday anniversary, February 14, at the Brainard Lumber Co. hall. The decorations were in keeping with St. Valentine's Day and consisted of red hearts and greens. A delicious midnight supper of sandwiches, pickles, coffee, pie, cake and nuts was served. About thirty guests were present.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Christian Church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Emma J. Miller and enjoyed a very pleasant and profitable session. The subject "The Power of Gold," open for discussion, was treated in an interesting manner. A delicious luncheon was served at the close of the meeting.

Matthews, Mrs. Jas. Redford, Mrs. S. E. Wynne, Mrs. J.

In honor of their newly elected officers, the Order of Owls gave a dancing party at Armory hall Saturday evening. The affair was a very enjoyable one and a success in every way.

P. Carrin, Mrs. A. S. Powell, Mrs. M. Cargar, Mrs. Harry Armstrong, Mrs. A. J. Armstrong, Mrs. Chas. Beidler, Misses Elsie and Maggie Short and Miss Jessie Smith.

Mrs. Ilma Beager was hostess to the teachers of the grades who met at the home of Mrs. H. J. Shinn Monday evening to grade the papers from the recent spelling contest. After finishing the work on the papers an social time was enjoyed and refreshments served. In addition to the teachers, J. B. Starr of Iowa was also a guest.

The Ladies' Aid Society and Loyal Women's Class of the Christian Church met in a social in the parlors of the Church Wednesday afternoon and passed a very enjoyable time. About 30 were present and for amusement indulged in a riddle guessing contest, a buttonhole making contest, a peanut hunt, and a popcorn contest. Light refreshments were served.

The fifteen boys of the Christian Church who are enrolled in J. M. Wayland's class gathered at his home for a surprise party in his honor Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lurch entertained the Five Hundred Club at their home Tuesday evening. The three tables are made up of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Knowles, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. Lurch. The club meets fortnightly and will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Miller at its next meeting.

Saturday evening the Christian Endeavor of the Christian Church gave a valentine party in the church parlors at which about thirty were present and enjoyed a delightful evening.

Steel Splinter in Eye.
In splitting a log with a steel wedge at the L. P. McCoy place Saturday, John Murray knocked a splinter from the wedge in such a manner that it flew into his eye and embedded itself in the iris. The accident was a painful one but it is thought that no serious effects will result as the splinter was removed shortly. The pupil of the eye was not injured.

Is Candidate for County Clerk.
It seems that some sort of a united effort is to be made to oust Stacy M. Russell from the County Court House. As a part of this movement, Jesse A. Fountain is out for the County Clerkship on the Republican ticket, announcing that his candidacy comes as a reluctant yielding to the requests of numerous friends. He has had four years' experience as deputy and in his announcement says that he feels competent to fill the position.

Miss Alesia Hawley left last week for Silver City, N. M., where she will join her brother Momer.

CRESWELL NO MATCH FOR GIRLS' TEAM

The Cottage Grove girls' high school team won a decisive victory from the Creswell girls' team Saturday evening, clearly outclassing them in every department of the game. The final score stood 19 to 9. Only one field basket was scored by the Creswell team, which won seven points out of nine free throws. Nine fouls were also called on the Creswell team.

COUNTY TO COLLECT OVER MILLION DOLLARS

The present week will see about 18,000 tax notices sent out over the county demanding from the taxpayers the payment of something over a million dollars, to be collected on 46,500 items during the year 1914. The total tax fund will be $225,000 greater this year than last, for which the increased state tax is largely responsible.

Special school	162,729.21
Special high school	8,057.93
Special road	28,242.20
Special city	162,092.86
Port of Siuslaw	21,928.28
Forest patrol	991.30
	$1,098,727.28

Insurance and Assurance.
They were talking the little group of agents, about the words insurance and assurance, some claiming that the first and some that the second was the better word to use.

When Macaulay Was a Boy.
At one period of his boyhood Macaulay's fancy was much exercised by the threats and terrors of the law. He had a little plot of ground at the back of the house marked out as his own by a row of oyster shells, which a maid one day threw away as rubbish. He went straight to the drawing room, where his mother was entertaining some visitors, walked into the circle and said very solemnly, "Cursed be Sally, for it is written, 'Cursed is he that removeth his neighbor's landmark.'"—From G. O. Trevelyan's "Life of Macaulay."

Considerate.
Clubleigh (at midnight)—My wife is very ill, and the doctor says she must have no sudden shock. Clinton—Then what are you doing here at the club at this hour? Clubleigh—I'm afraid to go home before the usual time lest I give her a shock.—Boston Transcript.

Thoughtful Husband.
She—Are you wearing those pretty suspenders I gave you for your birthday, George? He—No, dear; I was afraid the mill I'm using as a button would rust 'em.—Yonkers Statesman.

A Caution.
"Darling, I will tell you in poetry of burning meter that you are the light of my life."
"All right, but don't do it with the gas meter."—Baltimore American.

Easy Work.
He (bitterly)—I suppose you consider it quite a triumph to make a fool of a man? She—Oh, dear, no! A triumph is something done that was difficult of achievement.

Making Connection.
Knicker—Life is hard, Bocker—Yes; by the time your mother stops forbidding you to eat jam the doctor begins.—New York Sun.

Drawn Work.
To draw threads for hemstitching or drawnwork wet a small brush, rub it over a cake of soap until a lather is produced, then scrub the threads that you wish to draw. You have no idea how easily they may be pulled out without breaking.

Potato Test.
Test potatoes by cutting in two and rubbing the cut surface together; then press the two parts together. If they stick the potatoes are good.

Didn't Like Dogs.
Hobson—Are you in favor of that curfew law? Dobson—Yes, I'm in favor of any law that reduces the number of dogs.—Judge.

"A Very Monstrous Great Ship."
In her "Life of James IV," Miss I. A. Taylor says that James was untiring in his efforts toward the realization of a good Scottish fleet. In 1511 the building of the St. Michael, "a very monstrous great ship," was completed. "All the woods in Fife, save one, had been laid waste to build her," and material was also imported from Norway. According to Lindsay, this wondrous ship, which was 240 feet long and 30 broad, "umbered all Scotland to get her to the sea." Her sides were ten feet thick within walls of oak, and she cost the king, all told, some £40,000. He paid her daily visits when she lay in the roads, often dining and supping on board, and exhibiting her to the lords and ladies he brought with him. Henry VIII, was covetous of her, but when the singular request was preferred that James "would grant Henry the loan of the apple of his eye, the great St. Michael, the king's reply was to the effect that if he would make peace with France he might command all his ships." Six months after their king's death the Scottish government sold this desirable ship to Louis XII.

A Mystery of Diplomacy.
Of disappearances, most mysterious was the case of Benjamin Bathurst, who vanished on Nov. 25, 1899, while engaged on a secret mission for the British foreign office. Vienna was the young diplomatist's objective and, with a friend and valet in a post-chaise, Perleberg, a small posting town in North Germany, had been reached. Here Bathurst supped and slept, awaiting the arrival of fresh horses. Waking, he asked if the horses were ready and passed out of the inn door to make inquiries. Eight people saw him go out, but none ever set eyes on him again. Various theories were set afoot—Napoleon's spies, robbers, illness. About three years ago, in the forest near Perleberg, a skeleton was discovered with a hole in the skull as from a heavy blunt instrument. Was it that of "the English lord," as Perleberg people surmised?—London Tatler.

The Illegible Writer.
A protest which Michelangelo made to his nephew against his sending letters in illegible handwriting will arouse a great deal of sympathy in the breast of modern sufferers from the same form of rudeness. It is contained in a letter given in the "Life of Michelangelo."

"I never receive a letter from you without being thrown into a fever before I can read it. I am at a loss to know where you learnt how to write! Little love here! I believe if you had to write to the biggest ass in the world you would take greater care. I threw your last letter into the fire because I could not read it. I cannot therefore reply. I have already told you, and constantly repeated, that every time I get a letter from you fever attacks me before I succeed in reading it."

All Mail Will Be Weighed.
Every ounce of Cottage Grove's incoming and outgoing mail will be weighed for a period of 105 days, beginning at midnight, February 18. This is in accordance with the quadrennial weighing system of the postoffice department for the purpose of checking up the exact amount of mail handled. This will give data upon which the government may estimate the cost of handling the mail and the increase or decrease in volume during the past four years.
