The Wolf, the play of the Canadian woods that made Eugene Walter's name famous, will be presented by a home talent company under the direction of Steve Burton, February 24 at The Arcade Theater. This play, which ran a phenomenal success of a year in New York City, is strong, full of action and redolent of the deep Canadian woods where the scenes are laid. It is a thrilling story of love and adventure, and promises to be remarkably well handled by a caste including Miss Eunice Vandenburg, Steve Burton, Roy Baker, Bob Earl, Nelson Durham and Ernest Bisby.

BASKET BALL TEAM MEETS TWO DEFEATS

The high school basketball team met defeat at the hands of both the O. A. C. freshman and the Corvallis high school on their trip to that city Thursday and Friday. The freshmen, many of whom are practicing daily with the first squad, gave the team the count with a score of 35 to 15. They played intercollegiate rules, which allow dribbling, while the local team played interscholastic rules, which proved a decided handicap. The following evening the boys, somewhat sore from the hard game the night before and suffering somewhat from stage fright in the immense college armory before a large crowd, were unable to duplicate their performance on the home floor some weeks ago when they gave Corvallis a thorough trimming. The score stood 46 to 9 against them. Calvin, guard of the Corvallis team, played a remarkable game, shooting the majority of baskets. Beck also acquitted himself creditably.

All the news of the Cottage Grove country is published in The Sentinel. Half of it is published in no other paper.
