After the University Choral club concert Wednesday evening the members of the club were regaled with refreshments in the domestic science room of the high school building, the high school faculty and several members of the Oregon Club acting as hosts. Through the courtesy of the Commercial Club the rooms were placed at the disposal of the young women until their departure on the early morning train.

Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Dunton entertained Dean Walker, graduate manager of the University of Oregon, and Prof. Ralph H. Lyman at dinner Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Adams had as guests for dinner Wednesday evening the Misses Marie Churchill, Lois Parks and Margaret Spangler of the University Choral Club.

Miss Florence Johnson, Miss Wilhna Young and Miss Georgia Cross of the University Choral Club were dinner guests of Miss Nellie Hemenway Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Alsted entertained Miss Rozella Knox and George Knox at dinner Wednesday.

Mrs. H. A. Miller entertained the Social Twelve Club at her home Thursday afternoon when she had in addition to the members of the club, Miss Frances Howard.

The Rebekah Social Club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. David Sterling. Thirty ladies were present and the afternoon was pleasantly spent in conversation and needlework, after which a dainty luncheon was served. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Lee Nixon and Mrs. Roy Baker.

The Panama Five Hundred Club was entertained at the attractive home of Mrs. W. B. Cooper Friday afternoon when Mrs. C. E. Frost and Mrs. Cooper acted as hostesses. The house was artistically but simply decorated with huge jars of greenery. The afternoon was a most pleasant one. In addition to the members of the club Mrs. Ernest Bisby and Mrs. David Griggs were also present.

St. Patrick was honored in the decorations and appointments at the luncheon which Mrs. Merle L. Scovell entertained the M. P. G. Club yesterday afternoon. The long, white-spread luncheon table was centered with a bunch of daffodils, the place cards were little green cardboard hats, the favors were shamrock with little clay pipes and green hat, and the potato salad was surmounted by tiny silken flags bearing the harp and the legend "Erin Go Braugh." After the refreshments were served, consisting of two courses in which the Irish idea was made prominent by the potato salad, the green frosted cakes and the vanilla and pistachio ice cream, the guests enjoyed a "smoke" in genuine clay pipes. Only club members were present and they spent the afternoon at their fancywork.

Mrs. S. L. Mackin's home was the scene of the Emanon Club's meeting Thursday afternoon. The time was spent in fancy needlework. Mrs. Rice of Oakland, who was the house guest of Mrs. C. E. Umphrey last week, was the only additional guest. About ten of the club members were present.

One of the jolliest informal parties of the season was that with which Mr. B. B. Groff and Mr. W. B. Cooper surprised Mrs. Groff and Mrs. Cooper at the Cooper home last evening, the occasion being the birthday of the two honor guests. The evening was spent playing all sorts of old-fashioned games and the hosts served a delicious collation of which the chief feature was the two birthday cakes on which the ages of the two young matrons were heartlessly displayed (to say nothing of the fact that the figures were purposely made misleading). Twenty-four friends of the two young couples were present. Mr. Milo Roach of Eugene pleased the guests with several musical selections.

The Royal Neighbors Club met with Mrs. A. E. Hamloft Tuesday afternoon and enjoyed a very pleasant session. Mrs. Hamloft provided work for the guests which occupied them during the afternoon. After the thimbles were laid aside Mrs. Hamloft served refreshments consisting of sandwiches, olives, ice cream, wafers and coffee. Additional guests were Mrs. Lee Roy Woods, Mrs. Corney Coffman and Mrs. McKernon.

Mrs. Harris Dies at London.
 Mrs. David R. Harris of London died this morning at 8 o'clock after having been ill for about two months. Mrs. Harris, who was 75 years of age, is survived by her husband and four daughters, all of whom were with her at her death. The daughters are Mrs. O. P. Wills, Mrs. W. C. Shortridge, Mrs. W. P. Jones, and Mrs. J. P. Small.

Burial will be made in the Taylor cemetery on Coast Fork at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The value of a newspaper to community can be accurately measured by what outsiders think of it. The Sentinel is willing to be thus measured.

Former deputy game warden Geo. Knox left the city last evening for Portland and Albany. His plans for the future are not definite and he may possibly return to this city later.

An eight pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Blackmore Wednesday.

The pupils of the high school yesterday heard a lecture on "The Panama Canal and Its Benefits" delivered by W. K. Wheeler, the officer in charge of the United States recruiting station at Eugene.

J. D. Palmer received bounty of $4 Monday for two wildcats which he killed on his place a short time ago.

Because he provoked a fight with a former husband of his present wife John Doe Stenmons was arrested during the encounter in fistfights last evening. The trial will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The fight occurred in Main Street near Seventh.

MRS. AGNES ANLAUF DIES AS RESULT OF FALL

As the result of injuries received in a fall about four weeks ago Mrs. Franz Anlauf of Anlauf died at the family home Friday, March 6. She was buried Sunday afternoon in the Comstock cemetery, Father Kane of the Catholic church of Roseburg conducting the services.

Mrs. Anlauf was 85 years of age, having been born in Saxony, Germany, in 1828. Her maiden name was Agnes Suthan. Soon after her marriage to Mr. Anlauf they came to America, settling in Pennsylvania in 1852. After a short residence in that state and in Wisconsin they came to Oregon, where they have resided continuously since that time.

Surviving Mrs. Anlauf are her husband, two daughters and five sons: Mrs. Ida Ward, of Anlauf; Mrs. Bertha Burg, of Portland; Herman Anlauf, of Santa Paula, Calif.; Joseph Anlauf, of Myrtle Creek; and Robert, Pius and Frank Anlauf, of Anlauf.

Presbyterians Hold Annual Meeting.
 The congregation of the Presbyterian church met in their annual business meeting last evening. The meeting was preceded by a sumptuous banquet which was served at a cafeteria in the parlors of the church. Moderator of the congregation A. C. Kieter called the meeting to order and election of officers was held resulting in the choice of Curran Cooley as moderator for the coming year; Curran Cooley, J. C. Moss, Oliver Veatch, M. M. Wheeler and Edgar King, elders; Mrs. J. W. Gowdy, trustee and Mrs. B. R. Job, clerk and treasurer of the congregation. The reports of the various committees were heard and approved. The meeting adjourned to next Monday evening, March 16.

QUICK BLAZE RAZES GROOM HOME

The home of James Groom on South Pacific Highway was burned to the ground last evening when a fire broke out on the roof from a defective flue. The loss was only partially covered by insurance. Practically all of the furniture of the lower floor was saved, but the fire gained such headway before the hydrant, which was quite a distance from the house, was located that the fire company was powerless to save the building.

SCHOOL LADS WIN FIRST GAME OF SERIES

The high school defeated the military club in a hard fought game last evening, which was the first of a series of three games to be played off during this week. The military club outplayed the high school lads during the first half and piled up a score of 22 to 12 against them, but the high school team came back strong in the second half and rushed the military club off its feet, the final result being 40 to 35 in favor of the schoolastics. The military boys contested the game hotly throughout and gave the winning team a stiff fight.

Woodard Makes Good Sale.

Frederick Spaulding, cousin of Albert G. Spaulding, the American sporting goods man, has purchased the famous old placer mining camp known as "The Headquarters Place" on North Myrtle Creek in Douglas county. Mr. Spaulding has a favorable report on the gold bearing gravel of the creek bed, which was untouched by the miners in former days, and it is expected that the camp may again become conspicuous in mining circles. Mr. Spaulding announces that he will establish a summer home on the property. The property was purchased from John F. Woodard, a local timber man.—Portland Journal.

Papenfus Gives Platform.

Creswell, Ore., March 10.—(To the Editor.)—As a candidate for county commissioner, I wish the voters of Lane County to know that I stand first, last and all the time for the best highway possible. Germany, my native country, is world renowned for its superior highways and my experience in the construction of those roads, I believe, can be applied to the building of better roads in Lane County, and not such roads as would have to be re-constructed every six months, and the money practically wasted, as has been in the past. I believe in economy in all departments of county affairs, not impairing the very best efficiency. I believe the county court should, as far as possible, conserve the wishes of a majority in the selection of road supervisors or the development of any public work in the respective districts, and if elected, I shall feel it my duty to live close to the people and consider myself their servant instead of their superior, and safeguard their best interests at all times, and above all, I believe in a reduction of the present burden of taxation.
 R. PAPPENFUS.

MIXED PLACARDS CAUSE OF STRANGE CONFUSION

There is hardly any connection between the play "Everywoman" and the "Everybody-Go-To-Church Sunday" movement, but the fact that the two followed within a couple days of one another here caused one man considerable bewilderment. At the Oregon hotel corner he had seen advertising placards for both, one placard above the other and a few minutes later rushed into his home to inform his wife that he had seen a sign down town which said that every woman who didn't go to church Sunday would be fined 35c, 25c and 50c. The Sentinel force is smoking perfectos and that's the reason no names are mentioned.

The Sentinel is recognized as among the best country weeklies in America. There is a whole lot of satisfaction in knowing that you have the best that can be obtained.

vision in the constitution providing that at no time can any one person own but a certain amount of stock, thus guarding against the securing of control by any group of persons at any time in the future.

The statement has been made that a certain person is to handle the money subscribed by the business men of the city. The editor of The Sentinel, who is also president of the commercial club and a member of the committee appointed by himself to solicit the subscriptions, can assure the doubtful ones that there is absolutely no probability of the money subscribed by the business men being collected until the cannery association is completely organized and when collected it will be turned over to no one but the proper official of the association, who will be elected by the shareholders themselves, the majority of whom will be farmers and producers.

EVERYWOMAN STIRS EVERYONE WHO IS PRESENT

AMATEURS SAY THEIR LINES AND ACT THEIR PARTS AS IF TO THE STAGE LIFE BORN.

Everywoman's attendants, Youth, Beauty and Modesty played by Miss Lavilla Buell, Miss Laura Smith and Miss Maude Hooper, made a charming and effective trio who acted as a foil to the principal character. Mrs. Ralph Robinson of Portland sang delightfully during the intermissions between canticles.

The play is by no means an easy one to handle and consequently the success attained by the cast is all the more notable. It is a play which, though not lacking in those features which make a popular appeal, is educational in nature. At its appearance two or three seasons ago in New York it was hailed by the critics as a worthy companion to the great English classic, "Everyman," a play which is purely allegorical in its nature and which does not, as the "Everywoman" does, embody both types and personalities.

So popular did the play prove and so well was it received Friday evening that Mrs. Hemenway is considering repeating it at an early date at the urgent request of many who were unable to attend and of those who are desirous of seeing it again.

program and the applause which greeted the charming arrangement by Dudley Buck was warm and prolonged. The club seemed to excel themselves in their rendition of this favorite.

The solo work was delightful and "The Spring" by Professor Ralph H. Lyman, director of the club, was of particular interest. Miss Janet Young's reading, "Bill Smith," was a real hit, provoking hearty applause which brought her back with an unusually clever interpretation of "I Ain't A-goin' to Cry No More." The quartette was a pleasing feature and the chorus songs were tuneful and rhythmical appealing to the popular ear without sacrificing anything to the ragtime craze. The encores were dainty and clever and the lullaby feature of the "Kentucky Babe" song received unmitigated approval.

SUPERVISOR ESTABLISHING INDUSTRIAL CLUBS

Supervisor C. E. Stahlman has been visiting a number of the schools of Supervisory district No. 1 during the past two weeks, and has established industrial clubs at each of the schools visited. These clubs will take up any four of a suggested list of ten projects which they find most suited to the community in which they live and handsome prizes are awarded at the close of the year. Among these prizes are trips to the State Fair, and ten trips to the Panama Exposition at San Francisco, the ten fortunate contestants to be chosen from the entire state.

The schools which Mr. Stahlman visited last week were Camas Center, Camas Swale, LeBlue's, Green Door, Lorane, Fawa Creek, and Cartwright; those visited this week were Silk Creek and The Cedars.
