30,000 VOICES

AND MANY ARE THE VOICES OF COTTAGE GROVE PEOPLE.

Thirty thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and badder ills. They say it to fr'ends. They tell it in the home papers. Cottage Grove people are in this chorus. Here's a Cottage Grove case:

Mrs. M. Kebelbeck, 1010 Birch Ave., Cottage Grove, Ore., says: "I have nothing but praise for Doan's Kidney Pills. About four years ago kidney complaint came on me and I was caused much annoyance by the kidney secretions. I never found anything that would help me until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They benefited me in every way. I use this remedy once in a while and it keeps me free from kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealer. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. mr4-11

SAYS LAW IS CONFISCATORY.

Springfield, Ore., March 3, 1914.—To the Editor of The Sentinel: The new tax law not only makes the burden of taxation harder to bear but is a sort of clap-trap to catch the unwary property owner and abstract from him a still greater toll in taxes, and may become actually confiscatory.

The new law requires the taxpayer to swear to the true cash value of his property or be liable to a fine of $100 should he fail to do so. The unreasonableness of such a requirement is that there are few if any who know what the actual cash value of their property is. They may know what they want or hope to get for it but this is nearly always far in excess of the true cash value or the price that is actually made when buyer and seller reach an agreement. No one can know what the agreement will be before it is reached.

The law requires to be done that frighten some property owners into giving as the true value the price which they hope to get, a sum which will be far above the cash value. Now the law gives the assessor the power to raise all lower valuations on adjacent property up to the highest sworn value but does not authorize him to lower excessive valuations to a lower level. It can easily be seen what a disastrous effect this law will have if enforced.

The assessor is left to follow one or more of the following plans at his own discretion: to let some impose upon themselves a ruinous tax by their own timidity or to impose a ruinous tax upon all alike, or ignore the law and make an equitable assessment.

Nothing is more needed than the repeal of the present tax law and the reenactment of the old tax law virtually as it existed formerly, with 3 per cent discount on taxes paid in full when due and payable in two semi-annual installments without interest or penalty, based on an equitable valuation.

TALKING GOOD ROADS AS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION

WAY TO GET IMPROVED HIGHWAYS IS TO SHOW THE FARMERS PROFIT TO THEM.

In a common sense talk on good roads, F. W. Vogler, a Portland automobile man says:

The one point in the question of good roads that seems to have been overlooked by the majority of its advocates is the ability to prove to the farmer, the business man and the man in the street that each and every one of them will gain by their adoption in hard cash. If you can show anyone that the good roads proposition will add to his net yearly income, then you have made that man a big booster. If you have not, he is no successful business man nor will he ever be.

The majority of advocates have gone about the proposition, or so it seems to me, on a wrong basis. They have gone up to a man and said, "Look here, William, you've got to subscribe to this good roads fund. You pride yourself on being an American citizen, don't you? Then come on and show your patriotism by planking down five of the best," with the result, frequently, that aforesaid planking down of such sum is not forthcoming.

The stand I take is that the money would have been gladly put up had this man William been able to see where the roads would have done him any good. We are essentially a commercial people. Therefore, if we are to have good roads, we must be shown where it will benefit us commercially.

Let us take one item to begin with, real estate. A piece of real estate is valuable, roughly speaking, in proportion to the number of people who pass it daily. One of the biggest of all our store proprietors founded his store in an unique way. He went down town to all the street corners and he stood at each one of them for a day. He was busy counting the passers-by. Finally he selected a spot which most people thought was a very poor one. There were no large buildings near it, there seemed nothing in its favor. "Man, you're crazy, and you'll be broke in a year," they all cried. But he wasn't. He had selected a spot where traffic was excessively heavy, where passers-by were continually going to and fro and in two years he was having to rebuild, owing to expanse of business.

Good roads will do more to increase the number of passers than anything else. For every one person who will tramp in the mud and the slush on a poor road there are ten who will make the trip, rain or shine, if the road is good.

Town property increases with the importance of the town, and the importance of the town increases in proportion as the numbers of rural people come into it and visitors go to it. Country people come to town to spend money. They come more frequently with good roads, therefore they spend more money in town.

All the same the farmer is the man who benefits most. Take the case of a man with 150 acres, with a road skirting one side of it, a road that is axle-deep in mud during the winter. Picture that road changed to a macadam or hard surfaced road. It will have cost that farmer about $150. That road has increased the value of the farm at least $5 an acre, the ease and the frequency with which he can now get to town also has meant an increased earning capacity of $5. Thus, by spending $150, our friend, the farmer will have $750 in his pocket, to say nothing of a similar amount for increased valuation, and he has probably earned most of that before he is called on to pay the road tax.

Once a farmer can be got to see the proposition and to understand that we are not making an appeal for the plutocrat and his high powered machine to go tearing over the country, but for every type of honest, hard working American citizen, then we shall have good roads. They are up to the farmer and the business man, that's the truth of the matter, and only through the willing cooperation of these types of people can we get them.

Next time you go to the theater or to the "movies" just notice, if you please, how many of our home ladies have beautiful hair—glossy, lustrous, and well-dressed. Then, if you will pick out five or ten of those whose hair seems to be particularly pretty and will ask them what they use on it, we feel sure that at least more than half of them will say "Harmony Hair Beautifier." It is fast becoming the rage with both men and women who are particular about the appearance of their hair.

OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Events Occurring Throughout the State During the Past Week.

Women Active In Politics.

Baker.—"The Woman's Booster" club, is the latest suffrage organization in this city, formed primarily to interest women in political affairs and to spur them to desire to take advantage of their right to the ballot. Primaries will be held in May. Committees will be stationed each day at the courthouse to instruct those who desire to register how to proceed, and a series of political meetings has been planned.

Game Hearing Asked.

Albany.—That a public hearing be held at which the sportsmen of western Oregon may submit evidence to federal authorities looking toward a change in the open season on migratory birds is a suggestion of Albany sportsmen.

An open season from November 15 to February 16 is desired. Local sportsmen assert that under the present regulations the birds do not begin to come into the Upper Willamette valley until the open season is over.

Lawyer Involved In Shooting.

Baker.—Charles F. Hyde, formerly district attorney of Baker county, was arrested on a charge of assault with intent to kill for the shooting of Tom Williams, a rancher, following a quarrel over the case in which Williams' son is involved, Hyde being one of the attorneys. The latter claims the shooting was accidental. He explained having the gun by saying he expected an attack by another person. Williams' injuries are not thought serious.

Dunes May Grow Trees.

Eugene.—Completion of the five-year task of reforesting Mount Hebo, in Tillamook county, and the beginning of an experiment with the forestation of the sand dunes about Gardiner, have been announced by H. L. Rankin, supervisor of the Siuslaw National forest. The Mount Hebo burn, which was one of the largest tracts of burned-over land in the west, was caused by the great fire of 1861, when the Indians set fire to the timber of the coast and destroyed vast areas.

WANT COMPENSATION ACT

Many Who Had Decided Otherwise Change Minds at Time Is Near.

Salem.—A number of employers, who had filed with the state industrial accident commission notices of their election not to come under the provision of the workmen's compensation law, are now sending in requests to have such notices withdrawn and declaring their intentions to take advantage of the benefits offered by the law according to F. W. Hinsdale, secretary of the commission.

Mr. Hinsdale says this change in opinion among employers is due to the educational work being done by the members of the commission and the inspectors. He said that letters from employers withdrawing their former notices were being received in practically every mail. The insurance features of the law will become effective July 1.

Drinks Disinfectant.

Pendleton.—Crazed by his desire for drugs, Roy Chambers, recently sentenced to jail for stealing auto tires, seized a bottle of disinfectant which had been put in the cell, and took a long draught which almost proved fatal. A physician administered an emetic which saved Chambers' life.

Douglas Fair Date Set.

Roseburg.—The Douglas fair will be held this year September 16 to 19, inclusive. This is the same date the fair was held last year, and will come the week following the fair at Medford and the week before the fair at Eugene. The State fair will be held the week following the Eugene fair.

Senate Abolition Urged.

Salem.—C. E. Spence, head of the grange in Oregon, announced that bills to abolish the state senate and to provide for proportional representation in the house will be offered for initiation at the coming election.

Plan New Electric Road.

Drewsy.—A movement is on foot here to organize a company to build an electric railway from Riverside, a town on the new Oregon-Eastern railroad, up the middle fork of the Malheur river, past Drewsy to the timber belt.

Game Warden Re-Employs Deputies.

Salem.—State Game Warden C. H. Evans has appointed 27 deputy game wardens, practically all of whom are men who were in the service before the reorganization.

How to Detect the Alum Baking Powder

"Which are the alum baking powders; how can I avoid them unless they are named?" asks a housekeeper.

Here is one way: take the can of a low-priced powder in your hand and read the ingredient clause upon the back label. The law requires that if the powder contains alum that fact must be there stated. If you find one of the ingredients named alum, or sulphate of aluminum, you have found an alum baking powder.

There is another and a better way. You don't have to know the names of the alum powders. Use Royal Baking Powder only; that assures you a cream of tartar powder, and the purest and most healthful baking powder beyond question.

WE HAVE FAITH IN THIS STOMACH REMEDY

A woman customer said to us the other day, "Say, you ought to tell everyone in town about Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. I would myself if I could." That set us to thinking. So many people have used them and have so enthusiastically sounded their praises both to us and their friends, that we had an idea you all knew about them. But, in the chance that some of you who suffer from indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia, or some other stomach complaint, don't know about them—we are writing this.

They contain Bismuth and Pepsin, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science. They soothe and comfort the stomach, promote the secretion of gastric juice, help to quickly digest the food and convert it into rich, red blood, and improve the action of the bowels. We believe them to be the best remedy made for indigestion and dyspepsia. We certainly wouldn't offer them to you entirely at our risk unless we felt sure they would do you a lot of good. If Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets do not relieve your indigestion, check the heartburn, and make it possible for you to eat what you like whenever you like, come back and get your money.
