BOHLMAN :: The TAILOR

THE UNIVERSAL CAR The Ford

There are more Ford cars used in Cottage Grove than of all other kinds combined, yet you never saw a Ford stuck or worn out. They are cheapest in price, but the highest priced material goes into them. They are a comfort to the pleasure seeker and a comfort to the pocket book of the purchaser. As a time-saver for the busy man they pay for themselves many times over.

Society

The present week is marked by a dearth of social events. Doubtless one of the contributing causes for the lack of social activity is the production of "Priscilla," which occupies two nights this week, as well as much time on the part of the large cast, so that nearly everything is given up to that. Several of the clubs meet however, Mrs. Harry Short entertaining the Emanon club tomorrow afternoon while Mrs. C. H. Burkholder entertains the Social twelve at the same time.

Mrs. D. H. Hemenway and Mrs. J. P. Graham will entertain the Panama Five Hundred Club at the home of Mrs. Hemenway Friday afternoon.

The meeting of the Woman's Club yesterday afternoon was chiefly devoted to a discussion of ways and means for staging the spelling match which the club is planning on giving in the near future.

The officers of the O. E. S. have issued cards for a silver tea to be given at the Masonic Temple Saturday afternoon. The guests are asked to bring their needlework.

FADS AND FANCIES.

By Harriette

Fortunately for the young girls and women who have not already ruined their ultimate good looks, their health and their carriage by adopting the "debutante slouch," which was certainly slouchy enough, that very ungraceful mode of carriage has already been taken by the ultra-stylish, and a more erect and beautiful carriage is again taking its place. The debutante slouch was, of course, never anything more than a fad, as all silly styles of walking are. Nothing ever will quite take the place of the natural, beautiful carriage which is the result, inevitably, when a young woman raises her chest, drops her shoulders to a comfortable and natural level, and lets her spine hang straight. The "chest out, abdomen in" of the physical director, rather than the "chest in, abdomen out" which dame fashion and her devotees last winter dictated, is the slogan of the young woman, for again it is style, as well as common sense, to shun the ugly, ungraceful lines of "the slouch."

One of the very newest fads, which is being shown in the city shops, costing as much as $15 in its more embellished forms, but which can easily be made at home for the little spring frocks and suits, is the calla lily collar which seems to have taken the fashion world by storm this spring. It may be made of either linen, organdie, or other like material and can be kept rolled and trim about the neck by either wiring or starching. The collars are cut straight, with no notching or frilling of any kind and roll up about the neck like the medic collars which have enjoyed such popularity. They truly resemble the calla lily.

The local shops are showing some very pretty and clever little accessories which are sure to please the woman who likes to be up-to-date in the details of her costume. The dainty little chemisettes of net for spring blouses, lace corset-covers for the sheer waists, dainty bags with the omnipresent tassel, and handkerchiefs with the borders in bright tango shades are among the novelties seen last week.

A particularly pleasing feature of most of the spring toilettes is the string of beads of some sort which harmonizes with the gown. These strings of beads are made up of all sorts of combinations and odds and ends. Some are as much ribbon as beads. In that case eight or ten ebony beads, each ebony bead being flanked by crimson wooden beads are strung at intervals on a rather wide black grosgrain ribbon. Many of the beads end in tassels of the same or a contrasting color to finish them off, and others are made up of gayly colored cords, fancy beads and tassels of silk or beads.

A local hardware store is giving away with purchases, cunning and effective little kettle and pan scrapers of tin. They are triangular in shape, with rounded corners and are very handy. A hole is punched in them so that they may hang conveniently at hand.

Fichus are very fetching and very much in style. They are made of net, lace and sheer materials, the long ends are trimmed with frills of lace and embroidery and are charming touches to the quaint summer gowns.

Bright colored vests are considered very smart for the new suits.

With the advent of asparagus, that delightful spring delicacy, various ways of preparing it for the table are sought. The manner of preparing it with a cream gravy or with drawn butter are commonly enough employed not to need explanation, but it is less generally known that a delicious salad may also be made of the tips. One cooks the vegetable in the usual manner, allows it to become chilled and serves it on lettuce leaves with a French dressing. The French dressing is prepared by mixing olive oil and vinegar thoroughly and adding a dash of sugar, salt, pepper and cayenne.

A burnt sugar cake in which one Cottage Grove housewife finds much satisfaction is made as follows: Beat $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of butter to a cream and add gradually $\frac{1}{2}$ cups of sugar, yolks of 2 eggs, 1 cup water, 2 cups flour. Beat the mixture for five minutes and add 3 tablespoonfuls of caramel syrup, 1 teaspoonful of vanilla and $\frac{1}{2}$ cupful of flour in which has been placed 2 teaspoonfuls of baking powder; stir in last the well beaten whites of 3 eggs.

To make the caramel syrup, brown or burn 1 cup of sugar which has been moistened by adding $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of water. The filling for the cake is made by boiling 1 cup of sugar and 4 tablespoonfuls of water until it threads, pouring this syrup over the whites of 2 eggs, well beaten and adding 1 tablespoonful of the caramel syrup, flavoring with vanilla.

CHURCHES OBSERVE EASTER

ELABORATE MUSICAL SERVICE IS RENDERED BY METHODISTS.

Beautiful Easter services in sermon and song were held in all of the churches of the city Sunday in commemoration of the Resurrection Day. Altars and pulpits were beautifully decorated with spring blossoms.

The attendance was large in all the churches at both services, the fair weather of the morning bringing out no more people than gathered to the special song services of the evening in spite of the inclemency of the rains that set in during the afternoon.

At the Christian church Mrs. Fagan gave a beautiful rendition of "The Palms" at the morning service and the Sunday school furnished an unusually interesting program in the evening, while the Presbyterian Sunday school gave its program at the morning service before a large congregation.

The services at the Methodist church in the evening were very elaborate and the building was filled to overflowing. Appreciation of the efforts of the fifty or more well trained voices was shown in the rapt attention given the two and a half hours' program. Every number was so well rendered that it is impossible to pick out any for special mention. The solos and quartets were possibly the best received if there was any difference in the reception. The pathetic reading, "One Flower for Nellie," was prettily rendered by Miss Bertha Stephens, this being one of her first appearances in public. Miss Eunice VanDenburg rendered the difficult reading, "Going of the White Swan" in her usual expressive manner.

GROVE GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT BEFORE CRESWELL

Muddy Grounds Result in Gingerless Game

WITH BETTER STICK WORK THAN THAT OF VISITORS LOCALS GET SHOUT END OF SCORE.

Total number of hits made by Creswell were gathered in this frame and all hands came to bat before the third man went down, and six counters were chalked up for the visitors. Earl gave way to Cellars in the seventh, to the surprise of the fans who thought Earl was going in mid-season form. Cellars proved even more of a puzzle to the Creswell batsmen and not a single hit was made off his delivery during the three stanzas in which he worked. Eight of the eleven men who faced him went down via the strike-out route.

Medley, a recent addition to the team, is a natural ball player. He stands up well at the plate and handles himself with ease around the keystone bag, although his regular position is on the mound.

The game was played on Stouffer field on Railroad Street, the club's new grounds.

Sunday afternoon marked the opening of the official season of the Upper Willamette Valley League. The three winning teams were the Eugene Cubs, who won from the Marcola team at Marcola, 10 to 3, the Coburg team which won from the Eugene Colts (later to be taken over by the Junction City as the Junction team) at Coburg, and the Creswell team, which won from Cottage Grove.

Next Sunday, April 19, the local team meets the Eugene Cubs at Midway Park, Eugene. Those wishing to go to Eugene to see the boys perform may secure round trip tickets at one and one third fare by purchasing them from the base ball management.
