MEXICANS ATTACK AMERICAN OUTPOST

Small Force Demands Major Russell Surrender Waterworks Station.

Vera Cruz, Mexico.—A considerable force of Mexicans attacked the American outpost at the water plant nine miles out last Saturday morning, according to a wireless message, which asked for aid.

A Mexican force estimated at from 300 to 500 men appeared beyond the waterworks station, and a lieutenant and a non-commissioned officer bearing a white flag advanced and presented a demand for the Americans to surrender within 10 minutes.

The American commander Major Russell's reply was:
"Hurry right back and do not waste any of the time your commanding officer has stipulated."

When Colonel Van Vleet and Colonel Lejeune, with supports, arrived at the waterworks station, Major Russell and his men were not at all hard pressed.
The Mexicans had contented themselves with a scattering fire, consisting of not more than four or five shots, at a range of about 1500 yards.
From Major Russell's lines only one shot was fired.

The threat to take El Tejar is regarded here as having been made by one of the junior Mexican officers and not by General Maas himself.

NAVAL FUNERALS FOR DEAD

National Ceremony Planned for Those Fallen in Mexico.

Washington.—Sailors and marines who were killed at the occupation of Vera Cruz will be honored with funeral services of a national character on the arrival of their bodies aboard the United States cruiser Montana at New York.

With all martial pomp and ceremony, the bodies of the dead bluejackets and marines, killed in Vera Cruz April 21, 22 and 23, will be brought to New York next week. A national requiem there is planned, a memorial service typically American.

The leaden caskets, each enveloped in the Stars and Stripes, will be the biers and shrine at which the country will mourn.

Federals Ordered To Stop Operations.
Mexico City.—War Minister Blan-quet issued orders to General Maas, commanding the Mexican federals near Vera Cruz, immediately to cease all military operations looking toward the recovery of the seaport now occupied by General Funston's fighting Fifth brigade of regulars and marines.

Methodist Bishops Oppose War.
Philadelphia.—The board of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church in semi-annual meeting in this city passed a resolution indorsing President Wilson's effort to "avoid a war with the people of Mexico."

CONFERENCE CALLED BY WAR MEDIATORS

Washington.—The three South American envoys which have undertaken the task of pacifying Mexico by diplomacy made another decisive move in their plan by requesting the United States government, General Huerta and General Carranza, to appoint representatives to confer with them in Washington.

When the delegates of the three parties arrive it is expected the mediators will be ready to take up the crucial issues between the United States and Huerta, and if possible between Huerta and Carranza.

It became definitely established that General Carranza would not agree to the request of the mediators that he suspend military operations against Huerta, pending the mediation proceedings. It is said this will have no effect on checking the general plans of mediation.

tude he has taken in the Colorado trouble.

Rebel Commanders Carranza and Villa agreed to remain spectators of the trouble between the United States and Huerta, president of the de facto government in Mexico.

Announcement that Foreign Minfirmation of reports that formidable opposition to the dictator is developing in Mexico City.

In accordance with Secretary of War Garrison's order, General Funston is in absolute charge here. Civil Governor Kerr and the other civil authorities have retired. The Mexican city council suggested the prohibition of bull fights and the signing of an order to that effect was Kerr's last official act.

Farmers surrounding Vera Cruz have asked Funston to extend his lines as they have found the Americans excellent customers for their products and want to continue supplying them but are harassed by "snipers" except within the zone under American control.

Admiral Fletcher made a personal inspection of the fortress of San Juan De Ulna at Vera Cruz. The horrors he found rivaled those of the dark ages. There were 116 prisoners living in indescribable filth and under conditions of the most awful degradation. Many were barely alive. Others were in caverns under the sea. Rats were everywhere. The admiral ordered the place thoroughly cleaned and all the prisoners transferred to light cells.

Carranza Will Not Cease Hostilities.
El Paso, Tex.—General Carranza has formally declined the suggestion of the mediators that he cease hostilities against Huerta pending the outcome of the plan of mediation. His note, sent to Washington, was made public here.

NEWS FROM OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL

Mexican War Situation Subsidi-ing, Congress Turns to Legislative Duties.

Washington.—The war spirit is slumbering in congress. Unless there are unlooked-for Mexican developments during the present week both senate and house will turn attention to subjects less spectacular than talk of invasion.

The senate promises to be busy with debate on the bill to repeal the toils exemption clause of the Panama Canal act. The house is expected to dispose of the naval appropriation bill, provide in it for two battleships, as the administration has requested, pass the diplomatic and consular bill and possibly reach the anti-trust bill.

Prolonged Session Feared.
Members of the house and senators whose terms are drawing to a close are becoming uneasy over the complications that have arisen in congress threatening to prolong the session indefinitely. The fear is general that little opportunity will be afforded for campaigning this fall. In fact, there are a few senators who begin to fear that the session may drag out through the fall and merge into the regular session in December. This extreme view, however, is not generally held.

It is evident, however, that unless the president is willing to surrender a part of his legislative program, the session will continue well into the late summer or fall.

Appropriation Bills Behind Schedule.
First congress must pass the appropriation bills, to keep the wheels of government revolving. This part of the program is way behind schedule especially in the senate, and so many other questions are arising, from time to time, that the appropriation bills are being postponed indefinitely.

After the appropriation bills comes the Panama Canal tolls repeal legislation, and this is likely to occupy the senate six weeks or more, unless the administration forces night sessions.

Trust Program in House Made

The anti-trust legislative program in the house was made up, when judiciary committee ordered formal reported its omnibus bill designed cover the administration recommendations, and Chairman Clayton induced a resolution proposing consider the most important rules on record rush the measure through.

The bill is mainly the same as introduced less than a month ago a revised combination of separate bills on holding companies, interlocking directorates, etc.

The house rules committee considered 16 hours of general debate, 30 minute speeches on any item, but strictly in the total to a maximum four hours—an unusual limitation the bill then to be voted upon without intervening motions.

Little Change in Labor Section.
The so-called labor section changed but little. It declares "nothing in the anti-trust laws shall be construed as forbidding existence and operation of fraternal, labor, agricultural or horticultural organizations, orders or associations instituted for purposes of mutual benefit and not having capital stock or deducted for profit, or to forbid or strain individual members of such organizations from carrying out the legitimate objects thereof."

National Capital Briefs.
President Wilson ordered the complete disarmament of all civilians in the Colorado strike districts.
The senate defeated the bill of Senator McCumber providing for federal inspection and grading of grain, designed to obtain uniformity in classification of grain.

sion, its report to congress, urges the
