THIS CITY LEADS COUNTY IN YEAR'S SCHOOL BUILDING

Eugene Will Erect More Expensive Structure During Coming Year but for Year Past Cottage Grove Leads All Districts In Lane.

Special Attention Is Paid to Comfort of Pupils

Kompp, Vida, Cedar Flat, District No.
155, Meadowview, Crow, District No.
184 and Lowell Are Among Those
That Have Built or Will Build

Of the school buildings erected in Lane County during the past year, Cottage Grove heads the list with its $40,000 high school structure. Eugene has voted bonds for a more expensive building than the one erected in Cottage Grove, but for the past year this city the new Eugene building is completed that will be the only one in the county to excell the Cottage Grove building.

A recent issue of The Eugene Guard contained the following information

School buildings in Lane County outside of Eugene, dedicated this spring or to be erected during the summer months for occupancy at the opening of the fall term of school represent an investment of between $50,000 and $60,000, according to figures obtained today at the office of County Superintendent of Public Instruction E. J. Moore. There are nine that have been completed are thoroughly modern in every respect, special attention having been paid to lighting, heating and ventilation systems. Buildings to be erected are of similar type.

A new building is to be erected at Kompp, district No. 133, at an estimated cost of $1,500.

The board of school trustees of vlad, district No. 137, have advertised for bids upon a two-room building which will cost in the neighborhood of $300.

District No. 155 in the northern part of Lane county (joint with Benton county) will spend $1,200 for a new building.

A contract has been awarded for the ure at Meadowview, district No. 21, and work on this building is already under way.

The Crow union high school will occupy a new $1,500 building next fall.

rene, will be compelled to erect a school house before the opening of the fall term, but no announcement has been made by the trustees in the district regarding building plans.

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe; she had so many children she didn't know what to do. She wanted ty clerk for an application for a hunting license. The reply he received contained an application for a marriage license. There is a well-founded belief that he has no need for a hunting all the "killing" in this line that the law allows. Mr. Godard has a suspicion that in some way Martin Anderson was responsible for the mistake made by the county clerk's office.

A few days later, possibly after receiving the hunting license, a horse which Mr. Godard was driving became frightened at an automobile, pranced around on his rear legs, busted up the back and injured Mr. Godard and the other occupant of the vehicle into a wire fence. Neither Mr. Godard nor the young woman were injured, but he has decided that until the fates are more propitious he is going to take than shank's mares. This was the second runaway within a few days.
