Mrs. F. W. Robbins was honor guest at an unusually enjoyable afternoon given by Mrs. H. A. Miller Friday. The guests brought their fancy work and spent the chief part of the afternoon sewing and chatting. At four o'clock Mrs. Miller summoned her guests to a dainty luncheon table where they found their places by cunning couplets characterizing each one. Those who shared Mrs. Miller's hospitality with Mrs. Robbins were: Mrs. W. H. Abrams, Mrs. J. H. Chambers, Mrs. O. L. Nichols, Mrs. A. C. Kinter, Mrs. W. P. Hall, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. John Bader, Mrs. George Kerr, Miss Esther Silby, Mrs. C. C. Cruson and Mrs. C. H. VanDenburg.

Mrs. A. C. Kinter entertained a group of friends Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. Kinter's birthday anniversary. She served a delightful dinner which was followed by five tables of five hundred. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Short, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kem, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Ingram, Mrs. C. C. Cruson, Emerson Wilcox, H. J. Kinter, Miss Eunice VanDenburg and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. VanDenburg.

Salem, Ore., June 8.—At the commonwealth conference during the past week, held at Eugene at the state University, propositions were made for a state employment bureau and insurance against unemployment.
Hop contracts for the 1915 crop are being made at 16 cents.

W. N. Turner and E. N. Booth of Eugene will erect a large cannery at McMinnville.

During May 72 vessels cleared from the mouth of the Columbia with 70,684, 615 feet of lumber, against 39 vessels with lumber in May, 1913.

Shaniko shipped 122 double-deck cars of sheep the last week of May.

length this summer don't fail to provide yourself with a traveling apron in which are pockets for your various toilet articles. This apron can be put on and worn in the dressing room and is very handy as well as being much neater than any other arrangement.

Sheep dip, just plain ordinary sheep dip, is acquiring a great vogue as a shampoo, and is being found to be very effective in curing dandruff and falling hair. Some find the odor slightly objectionable but really it is very clean smelling.

Robin's egg blue is one of the shades in greatest favor.

A great many people have beautifully embroidered Chinese and Japanese silk awnings which they never use merely because a shawl is a little difficult to keep about the shoulders. Now if they would only fold them cornerwise and cut them out a bit about the neck and bind the neck attractively in a silk cord or braid and let the ends hang to tie it loosely about the neck they will find themselves in possession of one of the most fetching little wraps imaginable to wear over dinner gowns, at dancing parties or after the outer wrap is removed at the theatre and the need is felt for some protection about the shoulders. They are simply handsome.

A recipe for a banana cream which is a delightful dessert is as follows: Peel bananas and rub through a coarse sieve. Add as much cream as you have fruit and a pinch of salt. To one pint of this mixture put two ounces of powdered sugar and beat it with a whip until it becomes light and frothy. Pile the mixture in glasses and sprinkle over the top with chopped nuts.

A new way to fix eggs which is especially nice for the summer breakfast is designated as "bird's nest on toast." It is made as follows:

Four eggs and four pieces of buttered toast. Separate yolks and whites of eggs. Beat the whites until they are stiff and arrange them as a nest on the toast and slip the yolk into the center of the nest. Sprinkle with salt and set into the oven until the egg is set and slightly brown.

Everyone is invariably anxious to get hold of a new combination for a salad. Here is one known as "Juno Salad" which is very fine:

Half bunch of cress, one neufchatel cheese, fourth of cup chopped walnuts, third of cup french dressing. Cream the cheese, nuts and a small portion of pimento and form into small balls, place on beds of cress and dress with the french dressing.

Ruffles around the bottoms of the dainty summer gowns of lawn, organdie or muslin are most fetching and stylish. Ruffles about the daintily shod feet of the summer miss were ever bewitching and have again come into undoubted and well-deserved popularity.

Pichus of net and lace are prettier and more in vogue every day.

Colorado is famous for the "beef steak fry" in which its residents indulge when they go on picnics. Often in fact they are accused of getting up a picnic merely for the sake of the beef-steak fry. The frying is done over the coals and is a sort of a miniature barbecue. Why not try them ourselves and see if we won't like them as well at the end of an automobile trip in Oregon as they are liked at the ends of similar trips in Colorado?

Minimum Wage Wrong in Theory.

Editor Harris of the Labor Press went on record at the Eugene Commonwealth Conference by saying that the minimum wage is wrong in principle and theory. A California college professor had delivered a paper on the unemployed problem, advocating insurance against nonemployment, when Mr. Harris spoke and is quoted by the Eugene Daily Guard as saying: "The minimum wage is wrong in theory. The minimum wage presumes it possible to fix a living wage of subsistence for one class by another, when no class has any right to deliver what the level of existence for another should be." Editor Harris came to Oregon from Washington to take charge of the Labor Press in 1913 and is a member of the Portland central labor council.

Pastor Preaches Farewell.

Rev. R. M. Broadbooks preached his farewell sermon at the Presbyterian church Sunday but is not yet certain as to his future field, although it is quite certain to be in Washington. No one has yet been selected to take the local pulpit.

The Hill railroad will build its industrial tracks up Sullivan's gulch in Portland before July 1st.

GROWERS LARGEST FREIGHT PRODUCER ON PACIFIC COAST

Organization and Co-operation Necessary to Be Necessary to Get the Treatment That Such a Tremendous Business Factor is Entitled to.

Cost of Marketing Reduced to 2 1/2 Per Cent

North Pacific Distributors Has Increased Return to Grower and Same Time Reduced Price to Ultimate Consumer.

ers of Washington and Montana have been saved from almost certain bankruptcy through the work of the association of which he is an officer which is a non-profit organization having no assets and controlled by the growers themselves.

The tricks used by buyers to keep the growers out of his legitimate proceeds were thoroughly explained. Mr. Sampson said that last year the association which is now the largest freight producer in the American Northwest, 3,986 cars of fruit, 58 per cent being sold f. o. b. at shipping point for before loaded on the cars and 42 per cent f. o. b. at shipping point for before delivered. The tremendous output of last year, Mr. Sampson would be doubled and quadrupled trees came into bearing. He also stated that co-operative marketing had reduced the price to consumers while increasing the return to growers.

The purpose of Mr. Sampson's visit was to get Cottage Grove fruit growers to become members of the North Pacific Fruit Distributors through sub-central organization that would include the Willamette Valley and be entitled to one director in the larger organization. Cottage Grove will send a delegate to Portland June 25 to assist in the organization.

Mark Woodruff, publicity man for the P. E. & E. and for the Southern Pacific in Oregon, accompanied Mr. Sampson and made a short address last night endorsing the work explained by Mr. Sampson.

$127,479 DEFICIT IS REGISTERED AGAINST COUNTY

Lane County has some $127,479 charged against it by the accounting department of the state insurance commission at Salem and nobody in Eugene at least as far as county officials are concerned, know what it is for. "Agency Funds Liability" is the name of the item on the liabilities side, which stamps all county dignitaries when it comes making an explanation.

And the item swells the county's deficit by nearly a half. Nearly all that it exists on paper only and is nothing which must be paid in cold cash.

The counties are credited with liabilities under this item. Multnomah has $128,894 worth of "Agency Funds Liability," and Umatilla has $227,505 of the same thing booked against it, so that nothing that runs in ratio to the population or wealth of the counties.

S. W. Taylor, county treasurer, is not even hazard a guess.

"I don't know," he says. "There's nothing in my reports that looks like that."

H. W. Thompson, county judge, stamped and so is Stacy Russell, county clerk, who called his staff of duties into conference over the problem and emerged none the wiser. The district attorney did not know, and several of the Eugene bankers scratched their heads and made random guesses.

Does not represent funds held by county in trust, says Treasurer Taylor.

Although Lane County failed to show a surplus in funds on the insurance commissioner's report, and in fact is loaded with a deficit, county officials hold the financial condition is good.

Lane County is in a period of transition, and this accounts for the existence of $203,639 worth of county warrants. This is the figure at the first of May. It is smaller now.

Until last year this county made point of staying in debt. In fact, it was always a year behind. It contracted this year were paid by next year's levy. This was done to the theory that it is not economical to tax money away from the taxpayer until actually needed. In other words, it actually preferred to issue 6 per cent warrants as the money funds needed for more than a year in a bank until needed coming year in a bank must pay off and now Lane County must pay off over a period of two years. A three-year levy was made last fall to take in standing warrants. This will take about half, or $110,000 worth; and similar levy next year will take in balance.—Eugene Guard.
