THREE MEN DIE IN FOREST FIRE AT LEONA

Charge of Dynamite Sets Conflagration; Wind Veers and Flames Surround Fighters; Several Others Suffer Severe Burns.

Three men were burned to death in a forest fire in a lumber camp two miles west of Leona yesterday. The fire was set by a dynamite blast. By a veering of the wind the men were surrounded by the flames and were unable to escape. The men burned to death were John P. Durfee, Albert Safely and George Hughes. Hiram Applegate and several others were badly burned and several families and their homes barely escaped. A considerable quantity of camp equipment and logging machinery was destroyed, including three donkey engines.

A large force of men was required in getting the fire under control. It is still burning but there is thought to be no further danger.

One charge of dynamite did not explode and the fire fighters worked in continual fear that it might go off and cause further loss of life.

Albert Safely was a nephew of Carl Cellars of this city and a nephew of Tom Cox.

Mr. Durfee is survived by a wife and two children, and Mr. Hughes leaves a bride of three months.

MR. AND MRS. J. R. COOLEY IN RUNAWAY

Mrs. Cooley suffered a sprained wrist and other minor bruises.

The buggy was badly damaged but the horse was uninjured. It was stopped at the John Spray place. George Miller took Mr. and Mrs. Cooley home.

PLENTY OF DEER AND MANY CHINA PHEASANTS

Signs Are Thick on Row River Close to Civilization—Fifty New Deputies Appointed.

Deer are very plentiful this year according to the statement of Deputy Game Warden E. C. Hills who visited this vicinity last week. He says that he has never seen deer signs more plentiful or nearer civilization and attributes this condition to the fact that running with dogs has not been permitted and that a large number of cougar and bear have been killed in the last year. He says that signs are very thick on Row River. China pheasants are also very plentiful, says Mr. Hills, and he is having considerable difficulty in certain sections in restraining overzealous hunters from shooting them now instead of waiting until the season opens October 1. He has already appointed 18 additional deputies and will appoint 32 more.
