Terrors of Pass Creek Highway Are No More

Within two weeks, and possibly in a shorter time, the formidable stretch of road which has made the Pass Creek canyon notorious will be a memory only, replaced as it will be by the excellent 8-inch macadam highway now nearing completion. The grading has been completed and most of the road has received the rock and is now being rolled and travel is passing over it. Two miles have been built this summer and two more will be built next summer.

FORMER GROVE BOY IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Harvey Dyer, Victim of Tuberculosis Contracted Through Exposure, Is Buried Here.

Harvey P. Dyer, of Myrtle Creek, formerly of this city, died Sunday, August 16 at the tuberculosis hospital at Salem and was buried in the Masonic cemetery in this city yesterday afternoon. Mr. Dyer was but twenty-six years of age. He had been ill for many months and was taken to a Portland hospital in February, but shortly afterwards was removed to the Salem institution. He contracted the disease as the result of exposure in logging camps. He was born in Goodland, Kan., March 12, 1888 and came with his parents to Oregon when he was but two years of age. He came to Cottage Grove about twelve years ago and made this city his home nearly continuously from that time. Realizing that his death was certain, he requested some weeks ago that he be buried in this city. He is survived by his father, G. H. Dyer, a brother, George, both of Myrtle Creek, a brother, Charles of Portland, and two sisters, Mrs. Walter Sanford of this city and Mrs. Linnie Hembree of Los Angeles. All attended the funeral except the latter.

CANNERY ASKS FOR EVERY KIND OF PRODUCE

Many Varieties of Produce Which Cannery Is Anxious to Go to Waste.—Growers Do Not Thoroughly Understand Method of Buying.

There is considerable produce going to waste in the Cottage Grove country that could be handled by the Cottage Grove cannery just as well as not, thus giving the farmer something for stuff that would otherwise bring him nothing and at the same time help the cannery. Among the things thus allowed to go to waste are green gage plums and peach plums. Many growers do not know that the cannery can handle these and Manager Bales wishes to again make it emphatic that the cannery will take anything that can be canned. He is particularly anxious for large quantities of blackberries, tons of which are going to waste for lack of being picked. Some growers do not understand why they can not get their money when they deliver their produce. The explanation is simple: The growers are most of them part owners of the cannery. SECOND CONCERT SUCCESS

The second of the out-door concerts by the newly reorganized Cottage Grove band was given Friday evening. These concerts are to be continued every two weeks as long as the weather permits and the band hopes by that time to make some arrangement whereby they may give indoor concerts during the winter. The concerts are greatly enjoyed as is evidenced by the large crowds which have gathered each time they have been given. The band received a large quantity of new music, including a good many of the latest popular hits, Monday, and will begin practice on them immediately. They expect to be able to use them at the next concert, which is scheduled for the first week of September.

GOOD PLAIN COOKS ARE EXTOLLED BY GRANGERS

"Eat Right and Live 100 Years," Is Advice of A. Stevens.—Men Want Plain Cooking, Women Would Have It Well Served, Also.

Cooking gave the Grange food for thought at their meeting Saturday afternoon. The subject was discussed from every possible angle by the men and women members. The consensus of opinion apparently favored plain cooking, done with a mastery and artistic hand and served daintily for the women, and just most any way for the men.

Among the men who took a particular interest in cooking and expressed that interest was A. Stevens, who pled for plain cooking, wholesome and nourishing, and who declared that if one took sufficient care with one's diet one could easily live a hundred years. Mr. Stevens said that he himself expected to live 100 years, and expected to do it mainly by eating right. G. W. McFarland expressed it as his opinion that the schools which are giving courses in domestic science are prone to teach the preparation of fancy dishes rather than standard foods suitable for everyday consumption.

The various subjects treated were "Good Cooking—What It Means in the Home," Mrs. M. M. Wheeler; "Plain Everyday Cooking," general discussion; Reading, "The Good Old Fashioned Cooking," Mrs. P. H. McGee; "Cooking As a Science," Mrs. J. R. Cooley; "Men's Cooking," M. M. Wheeler and Mr. Dickey; "Teaching Boys How to Cook," G. W. McFarland. A number made general remarks on the subject at the close of regular program.

CITY STREET WORK IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Eighth and Ninth Street Paving Is Completed, Tenth Street Is Nearly Finished and Work on Pacific Highway Is Begun.

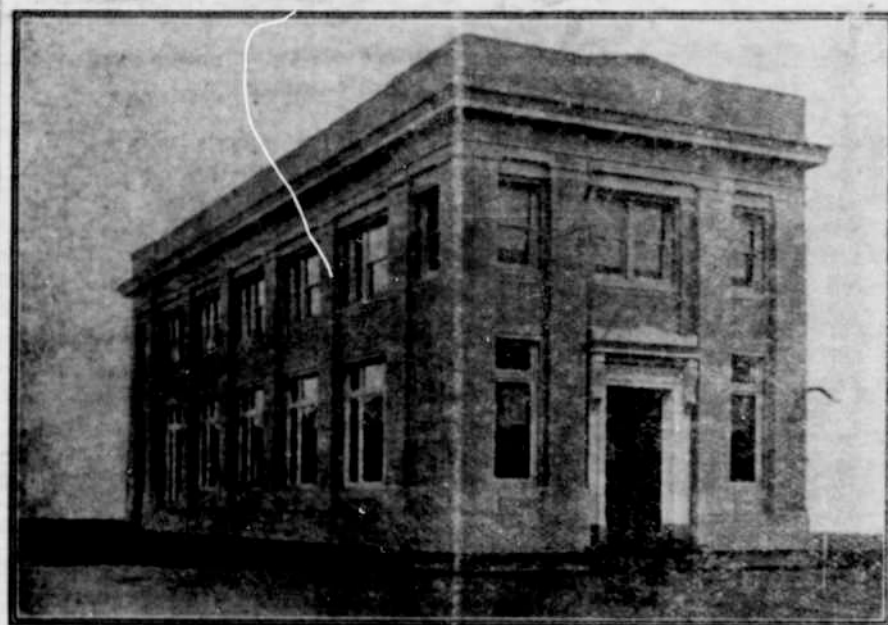

All street work now going on in the city is progressing rapidly and will soon be finished. The work of paving on Eighth and Ninth Streets is practically done and the macadam which is to extend from the end of the paving on Ninth Street to the bridge will be completed within ten days by present calculation. City Engineer Nichols also expects to see the work on Tenth Street from Main Street to the Brown Lumber Co.'s mill completed by the end of the week. The work of putting in the curbs on Pacific Highway from Main Street south to Nellis Place was begun Monday and the grading of the Highway will be begun as soon as Ninth Street is finished so that travel can be routed that way.

The west approach to the Main Street bridge will be torn away as soon as the Ninth Street work is finished also, so that the Ninth Street bridge can be used. The approach will be filled and will be paved in the spring when the fill has had opportunity to settle.

Six Births, Three Deaths.

Thirty-two births and twenty-five deaths were reported to the County Health officer in the month of July. In this city six were born and three died. Of the thirty-two who were born sixteen were males and sixteen females. No deaths were caused by contagious diseases.

Cottage Grove Business Houses FIRST NATIONAL BANK

One of the oldest and most firmly founded business institutions in the city is the First National Bank. It was founded in 1890 as the natural outgrowth of demands made upon the firm of Eakin & Bristow to care for their customers' money, cash checks and do other things in the banking line. Gradually the merchandise business was discontinued and the firm gave its whole time and attention to banking. It was in 1900 that the bank was chartered as the First National Bank of Cottage Grove. The business grew rapidly and was moved from time to time to better and more commodious quarters to keep pace therewith. In 1911 the bank was moved into the present handsome building at the corner of Sixth and Main Streets.

Herbert Eakin, now president of the bank was one of the original founders. Darwin Bristow, the other founder, severed his connection with the institution in 1902, and is now assistant cashier of the First National Bank, Eugene.

The age, the stability, the reliability, the courteous treatment afforded its patrons, have all been important factors in bringing the institution to the forefront as one of the city's most important businesses.

The bank epitomizes its position as follows: "The First National Bank has been a part of the wonderful growth of Cottage Grove and surrounding country. It has grown with the city, has aided in that growth and also benefited by it."

Meeting Is First in 40 Years

A family reunion which brought together three brothers who had not been together for forty years was that of the Huff family held Sunday afternoon at the home of W. P. Huff on Pacific Highway. The reunion was occasioned by the visit of W. R. Huff of Sullivan, Ill., with his two brothers, V. O. and W. P. Huff, both of this city. The three men, all now aged, declare that they would never have recognized one another if they had not expected to meet.

Thirty-two members of the family were present at the reunion. It was the largest gathering of the family ever assembled at one time on this side of the Missouri river. Four generations of the W. P. Huff family were represented. The day was spent visiting, recalling old times for the older folks, swimming in the river for the younger folks and having a general good time. A big dinner was served, and a picture of the group was taken as a souvenir of the day.

Taxidermist Shop Opened.

Arthur Woodring has opened a taxidermist shop on Main Street near the depot. He is an expert in his line of work, and his exhibits, which are very handsome ones including many different breeds of animals, have attracted a good deal of attention since they have been placed on display. A live porcupine in one of the show windows has also come in for its share of attention from the passersby.

Rev. Robert Sutcliffe and son arrived in the city Monday and were followed by Mrs. Sutcliffe Tuesday afternoon. Miss Armored Sutcliffe is expected to arrive Saturday afternoon.

Praise for Buyers' Week Is Voiced by Local Participants

Delighted with the advantages and pleasures of Buyers' Week, held last week in Portland by the Northwest Buyers' League, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wright returned home Saturday evening singing the praises of the event. Mr. and Mrs. Wright, who were Cottage Grove's only representatives at the big affair, say that the management was sorry that so few came from this city, but hope that next year a large delegation will come from here.

The "week" this year was more than double the size of the first session held last year, between 500 and 600 attending this year as compared to about 250 last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright say they were royally entertained every moment of their spare time. Among the features of the entertainment which the Wrights found particularly delightful were the Ad. Club luncheon at the Portland Hotel, the luncheon at the Oregon Packing Co., the inspection trip and luncheon on board the St. Cecilia, and the two-hour automobile ride throughout the city.

All in all they declare that it was a most profitable and enjoyable session and feel that the time spent there was of great advantage.

CITY CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE DECIDED TOMORROW

Third of Outlaw and All Star Series Promises to Be Exciting and Close Contest.

The All Stars and Outlaws have now each won a game, the one Thursday evening resulting in a 11 to 3 victory for the latter.

For some reason the All Stars were in poor form and made fatal errors at critical moments.

Both teams have strengthened their batteries for the game to be played tomorrow night, which will decide the championship.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Kay and daughter, Miss Marjorie Kay, of Salem, passed through this city Friday and spent the night at the Oregon Hotel. They have been on a motor trip to Crater Lake. Mr. Kay is state treasurer.

ONLY MONTH OF REST LEFT FOR YOUNG IDEA

Just thirty-two days from today, Monday, September 21, the Cottage Grove schools open for another nine months' session. The term begins slightly later this year than usual for the reason that the Grange Fair is to be held in the old building September 17, 18 and 19.

The teaching force for the new year is complete except for one position in the high school. No one has yet been elected to teach the classes in physics and mathematics.

The N. E. Compton, W. P. Hall, Lindamood, Nixon and Hogate families returned Friday from their outing at Winchester Bay.

TANGIBLE EVIDENCE OF REGARD FOR DORWARD

Friends Subscribe Fund to Help Tide Family Through Present Misfortunes.

Members of the Christian Church and other friends of Max Dorward, who was so seriously injured a short time ago in the accident which resulted in the death of his little son, last week started a subscription fund to help tide the family over their present difficulty. The sum of $33.25 has already been subscribed and the list has not yet been closed. Mr. Dorward is doing nicely and his injury is being healed rapidly. It will be many weeks, however, before he will be able to go about his duties as before.

A second wood-hauling day is being planned for Mr. Dorward by his friends. Twenty-five cords of wood were hauled on his contract two weeks ago, by friends.

Adventists Picnic Sunday.

A very enjoyable picnic was held Sunday by members of the Seventh Day Adventist church near the Thornton place on Row River. About fifty attended, the majority going out on the big motor truck. The day was spent informally playing games and doing the usual picnic stunts, and a big picnic dinner was served about noon.

Two Mighty Nimrods Are Looking Peeved

The wail of the deer slayer is loud in the land. Sportsman Dave Griggs thinks it's just a mean shame—and him with two tags still dangling from his hunting license. And then there's C. A. Bartell, the w. k. and p. landlord and deer hunter. He has tags to burn. Honestly, the Governor ought to reimburse them in the amount of a hunting license fee if he is going to maintain the embargo.

BROTHER OF POSTMASTER PASSES AWAY

Had Been Ill for Months.—Body to Be Shipped to Old Home in Michigan.

The death of Frank Vandenburg of Litchfield, Mich., occurred at the home of his brother, C. H. Vandenburg in this city early yesterday morning. Tuberculosis was the cause of death. Mr. Vandenburg had been ill for nearly a year and a half and had come out West early in June to visit his brother, realizing that he had no chance for recovery. Mr. Vandenburg, who was the oldest of four brothers and two sisters, all of whom survive him, was in his sixty-ninth year. He was unmarried. The body was shipped back to Litchfield for burial.

100 Socialists Picnic.

About 100 Socialists met en picnic in the City Park Sunday. Members of the party from Creswell and Walker joined their Cottage Grove constituents and all had a delightful time. A bountiful dinner and a program consisting mainly of songs, recitations and music from a Victrola were among the chief features of interest. Fred Moore of Creswell made an interesting speech.

GRAVE FIRE DANGER AFTER LONG DRY HOT SPELL

Many Bothersome Small Fires in Neighborhood Restrained by Heroic Efforts On Part of Fire Wardens.—London Country, Reported Threatened, Is Safe

With continued dry and hot weather the danger of forest fires is becoming real. Several serious fires have already occurred in other parts of the state and serious ones in this vicinity have only been prevented by heroic work on the part of fire wardens and their assistants.

A report reached here Friday that the London country was in danger of being wiped out, but hunters returning from there said that the situation was not at all serious although they found so many small fires that hunting was almost impossible. No further reports having come from there it is presumed that the flames have been extinguished or gotten under control.

The slight precipitation of Saturday night and Sunday morning served to clear the atmosphere considerably, but did not even settle the dust, much less put out any fires. What rain and mist fell was grateful and cooling, but scarcely useful as far as vegetation or fires were concerned.

WAR PRICES PROTESTED

In protest against the war now raging in Europe and particularly against trade conditions, which make the food-stuffs of America soar in price on its account, the Socialists of the city passed the following resolution at their picnic meeting Sunday:

Resolved that: We, the Socialists of Cottage Grove and neighborhood, assembled in the Park the 16th day of August, 1914, do hereby protest against the struggle now taking place in Europe; and especially do we protest against the shipping of food stuffs and other supplies to the detriment of our own country, inasmuch as it raises the price of commodities here and continues the war in Europe
