Will You Do It?

The Metropolitan Shop has another new idea for catering to the pleasure and profit of their clientele. We want to publish each week a tested recipe in this space. These recipes will benefit every housewife in the entire community, for every one who cooks, is of course, constantly on the look-out for delicious new dishes to serve her family or her guests. Our favor to the famous cooks of this community will be the publishing of these tested recipes. And now, comes the point of your favor to us. We want to know before we publish any recipes that really are fine ones. For that reason we are asking that each of the ladies of the city and country who have a recipe which they consider very fine, to hand it to us, and we will publish it in this space signed with the contributors name. Who will be the first to contribute?

CARLTON FIRE ENTAILS A LOSS OF $500,000

Mammoth Mill and Twelve Cars Loaded With Lumber Destroyed in Fire of Mysterious Origin.

Fire, breaking out mysteriously at 11 o'clock Wednesday night by the main saw while the night crew was at work, destroyed the plant of the Carlton Lumber Company, owned by Charles E. Ladd of Portland and leased to the company of which Philip Buehner is president, entailing damage of $500,000.

Twelve loaded cars of lumber, valued at $40,000, were burned on the tracks. Ten million feet in stock were saved, while the planing mill, only a short distance from the burned plant, was not damaged.

Fire departments from McMinnville and Yamhill were rushed to the fire by a special freight train of the Southern Pacific. With the Carlton department, the fighters concentrated their efforts on the mill along the waterfront of the Yamhill River. For a time the flames raged under the piling on which the lumber was stacked and the departments thought that the supports would have to be dynamited in order to save the property.

The lack of wind to fan the flames, however, gave the crews time to concentrate on the undamaged buildings and to protect the plant from a further spread of the fire.

The lumber lying in the path of the flames that was saved by the concentrated efforts of all of the departments is valued at $100,000. The plant carries $250,000 insurance on the mill and stock. Mr. Buehner rushed to the scene of the fire in an automobile from Portland.

Too Smoky to Hunt, They Fish. Arch Thompson and Victor Kem returned Sunday from a trip to Bandon made in Vic's runabout. They originally intended to hunt at West Fork but found the country so disagreeably smoky when they reached there Wednesday that they went back to Riddle and took the machine on over to the coast where they had a delightful time claming and catching crabs.
