nation my friends had my consent to write my name upon the ballot, if they so wished.

I am pleased to say that I am not a stranger to the voters of Lane county, having lived here about thirty years, and having served them for twelve years as Sheriff and Deputy Sheriff, having been twice elected Sheriff against a large adverse majority, and I believe my administration of the affairs of the Sheriff's office was not only economical but entirely satisfactory to the voters and tax payers of this county.

During my term of office I had opportunities and did become familiar with all the departments of business of the county, and from that knowledge so gained I believe

I can give a fair, just and economical administration of the affairs of the county, and if elected county judge I promise you my best endeavors to do so and to see that you get value received for every dollar spent, and that every part of the country has equal and fair treatment; being familiar with every part of the country I would be in a position to deal fairly with each section.

I believe in good roads, but with taxes piling up mountain high I would economize on these expenditures as well as all others. I look upon the matter as impossible in this sparsely settled country to build as good roads as in the eastern states where population and wealth are a hundred fold greater than here.

For the same miles of road where we have one party and one thousand dollars of property to draw from, they have a hundred people and one hundred thousand dollars of property to draw upon. I believe in our present condition that a road thrown up thoroughly drained and covered with a good coat of crushed rock and thoroughly rolled, sufficient for most of the roads in this county. At least I believe such a road is all the already over-burdened taxpayer can afford to build at this time.

I am in favor of each road district choosing its road supervisor, and each road district should receive its part of the road money based on the taxable property in each district.

Also, if I am elected I shall endeavor to get full value for every cent expended. I want full value without favor to anyone. I shall have no favors to bestow on anyone that does not return full value to the country.

I have a deep interest in Lane county, and expect to make my home here for my allotted time, and your interests and my interests are mutual, what is for your benefit is for my benefit.

Thanking those who have so kindly supported me without solicitation for the nomination, I promise all the voters and taxpayers, if elected, to give my whole and undivided time to their interests, and shall do my utmost to reduce your taxes and will greatly appreciate the honor if you should elect me county judge.

Yours truly,
HARRY L. BOWN.
