Euterpean Club.

The first meeting of the season of the Euterpean Club was held at the home of Miss Esther Silsby Friday evening.

After the program the following officers were elected: President, Ren Sanford; vice president, Jessie Smith; secretary-treasurer, Jessie McCord. The remainder of the evening was spent in progressive games. Light refreshments were served. The club at its first meeting enrolled a membership of 35. Following is the program that was rendered:

I Hear a Thrush ..... Cadman
Ursula Lockwood
Vocal Duet.... Absent ..... Metcalf
Messrs. Edwards and Sanford
The Rose Maiden ..... Marks
Mrs. Roy Short
Love's Sorrow ..... Shelley
George Matthews
The World and You ..... Hodson
Jessie McCord
Cornet and Trombone Duet.....
.....Life's Dream Is O'er
Messrs Scovell and Veatch

Mrs. J. W. Grant entertained two tables at "500" Monday evening in honor of Mr. Grant's birthday anniversary. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Groff, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Frost, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Bede. Dainty refreshments were served.

The Social Twelve Club was entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. H. H. Veatch and Mrs. T. M. Hunt. In addition to the usual entertainment the guests enjoyed looking at pictures of Alaska scenes brought here by Mrs. Hunt. Refreshments were served. The guests outside of the club were Mrs. C. Adams, Mrs. C. Kinter, Mrs. Merle Scovell, Mrs. J. E. Young, Miss Janet Davidson, Miss Caroline Schilling, Mrs. Merryman.

A meeting was held at the Dr Kime home last night to organize an orchestra for the Christian Church under the leadership of Leon DesLarzes. After the business meeting there was a social hour. Those present were Miss Atna Widdersheim, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knox, Miss Carrie Woods, Mr. and Mrs Leon DesLarzes, Roy DesLarzes, B. B. Richmond, Guy VanRipper, Dan Woods and Dr. and Mrs. Kime.

Quiet Wedding; Noisy Charivari

Henry M. Lake and Miss Myrtle E. Combs of this city were quietly married Wednesday of last week, but the quietness of the affair gave way before the charivari party that descended upon the Lake home the next evening. The firing of guns, yelling and hollering led many residents of the city to believe that the police must be in pursuit of some band of terrible desperadoes.

The Emanon Club meets next Wednesday with Mrs. Bert Richmond.

The Emanon Club held a meeting Friday at the home of the president, Mrs. C. E. Umphrey. Mrs. Roy Short, Mrs. Frank Knox and Mrs. J. W. Grant were elected to membership. Plans were made for a Christmas tree and for a study course.

The members of the Constellation Club entertained their husbands with a banquet Thursday evening in one of the most pleasant affairs of the season. The feed was a Thanksgiving meal and was in four courses. It was prepared by a committee composed of Mrs. C. C. Cruson, Mrs. K. K. Mills and Mrs. Andrew Brund. The evening was spent in progressive games. About fifty were present. The men presented the women with thirteen steins for use in decorating the dining room of the Masonic Temple, where the session was held.

To prevent pictures from slipping and hanging uneven, hang them first with their face to the wall, and then twist around so that the wires cross. This will prevent them from slipping.

Does Man's Responsibility to Those Dependent Upon Him End at Death?

THE LOVE and care that do not extend both sides of the grave, are short at one end. Statistics show that less than five in a hundred save a competence for dependent old age. Every family has an intention to save, but seldom is the intention carried into practice. Sickness, additional family, temporary loss of employment, are the obstacles. But do you know of any renter who escapes paying rent?

No! Then you admit that every renter could save his rent by applying it on a home purchase, and every such home-buyer would extend his responsibility to his family both sides of the grave. Apply at Sentinel office for particulars of home that can be purchased by merely paying rent.

FADS AND FANCIES

If lemons are warmed before you squeeze them nearly double the quantity of juice can be extracted.

Tinware may be cleaned with very little trouble by using dry flour applied with a piece of newspaper.

* * * * *

Powdered rock ammonia, applied with a soft brush, will clean tarnished gold lace and embroidery.

* * * * *

To remove stains from the tops of zinc kitchen tables use a cloth dipped in vinegar.

* * * * *

Cheese may be kept soft and good for a long time if it is wrapped when it is fresh in a cloth wrung out in vinegar and then wrapped in a dry cloth.

* * * * *

To turn a cake out of its pan easily stand the tin, directly you take it from the oven, on a cloth which has been wrung out of hot water. Leave it there for about five minutes and then turn out. The cake will come out of the pan without any trouble.

The lightness of batter puddings is much improved if two teaspoonfuls of ground rice are added to the flour before mixing.

* * * * *

When boiling eggs, wet the shells thoroughly in cold water before dropping them into the boiling water, and they will not crack.

* * * * *

You can prevent a steamed pudding from becoming heavy by putting a cloth over the steamer before placing the lid on. This prevents the moisture from settling and making the pudding soggy.

* * * * *

Before using tinware of any kind rub it all over with fresh lard. If treated in this way it will never rust.

Many people know how sausages burst when fried, but if they are dipped in boiling water first they will fry quite whole.

TESTED RECIPES.

Spanish Cream.

Materials—Milk, two cups; sugar, one-half cup; salt, one-fourth teaspoonful; eggs, 2; granulated gelatin, one rounded tablespoonful; cold water, one-half cup; vanilla, one-half teaspoonful.

Utensils—Double boiler, measuring cup, tablespoon, teaspoon, eggbeater, bowl.

Directions: Heat the milk in double boiler, add the salt and sugar and stir until dissolved. Beat the yolks of the eggs, add to the milk and stir until smooth and thick. Soften the gelatin in the cold water, add to the hot milk, stir until smooth and remove from the fire. When cold and nearly set, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and set in the refrigerator until firm. Serve in sherbet glasses with cream.

* * * * *

When icing runs, put it back on the stove, on top of an asbestos mat, and stir until proper consistency is restored. This can be done after syrup is added to the white of the egg.

* * * * *

Creamed Oysters.

Materials—Oysters, one pint; oyster liquor, milk; butter, four tablespoons; flour, four tablesppons; salt, one teaspoon; lemon juice, two tablespoons; chopped parsley, one tablespoon.

Utensils—Measuring cup, teaspoon, tablespoon, chafing dish.

Directions—Drain and reserve the liquor from oysters. Pick over oysters carefully, removing any bits of shell that may be found. Heat the liquor in one pan, strain and add enough milk to make two cups of liquid. Melt butter in other chafing dish pan, add flour, and, when thoroughly blended, add the liquid gradually. Cook, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens, then place over hot-water pan; add salt, parsley and oysters. Cook until oysters are plump and the gills begin to curl. Before serving, add lemon juice; serve on toast or crackers.

Delicious Mocha Cake (1 Egg.)

Materials—Butter, two tablespoons; sugar, threefourths cup; egg, one; milk, three-fourths cup; salt, one-fourth teaspoon; vanilla, one-half teaspoon; baking powder, one teaspoon; flour, one cup; chocolate, two squares.

Utensils—Mixing bowl, mixing spoon, measuring cup, teaspoon, tablespoon, two layer-cake tins.

Directions—Cream butter and sugar, and egg yolk, milk, salt, vanilla, flour, baking powder and chocolate. Beat well, then fold in white of egg, beaten light.

CHURCH NEWS

[Every religious organization is invited to use this column for announcement of its services and other news. Contributors are requested to omit exhortations and other editorial matter, and to make the announcement of services as concise as possible. Social functions, etc., and news outside of the weekly announcement may be elaborated upon.]

Services at the Christian Science Chapel, 242 Second Street, every Sunday at 11, and Wednesday evenings at 7:30. All are welcome.

Special Thanksgiving services will be held at the Methodist Church Thursday evening at 7:30. The subject of the sermon will be, "Why America Should Be Thankful." The choir will sing Rudyard Kipling's Recessional by DeKoven. Mrs. Leon DesLarzes will sing "Thanksgiving," by Frederic Cowen. The services will include communion. At its close a reception will be held for the new deaconess, Miss Bell M. Menzies.

The public is cordially invited to the service.

Special Thanksgiving services were held at the Presbyterian Church Sunday. The decorations were unique, as well as appropriate. In addition to the green and flowers there were an immense cornucopia displayed immediatly in front of the pulpit and unique well filled pumpkin baskets distributed around the chancel. The decoration committee was composed of Mrs. H. A. Miller and Mrs. T. C. Wheeler.

THANKSGIVING.

(Dr. Crane in St. Paul Pioneer Press)

We, the people of the United States of America, in accordance with time-consecrated custom, once a year take inventory of the favors of fate, and observe a national day of thanksgiving. We hereby record our thankfulness:

That although we have not reached the millenium, we are on our way;

That while we have not attained unto Utopia, we are getting every day a clearer idea of what it is;

That every national crisis brings us nearer to fundamental justice;

That we live in American and not in Europe;

That we were born in the twentieth century and not in the tenth;

That we have within us the seed of a constant and healthy unrest, so that we are never satisfied with what is good, but always press on to what is better;

That no cruel and tyrannical despotism dominates us;

That we are free of the burden of kings, czars, emperors, nobles and hereditary aristocrats;

That we are committed to the theory that every human being has equal rights before law, and that we are steadily working toward the time when that theory shall be made of universal practice;

That we are less and less disposed to do things simply because they always have been done, and are more and more disposed to do things because they ought to be done,

That we have a public school system free to every child;

That the day of the great ruler has passed, and that no one among us can remain in prominence and power except as he shows himself to be a faithful public servant;

That little by little the walls of unearned privilege are falling and the people are coming into their own;

That we have less of dominant ecclesiasticism and more real religion—that is more men and women who want to be just, loyal and kind—than ever before;

That this nation is consistently pursuing its policy of good will toward all other nations, binding itself to them under treaties of arbitration and promoting the federation of the world;

That we are the big brother of the world; we hate no nation; none hates us;

That our business thrives, our land is fruitful and our factories are at work;

That our workingmen are citizens, are improving their conditions, and are learning how to safeguard their rights;

That we have so many honest men and good women;

That prisons are losing their inhumanity;

That our press is free, and intelligence widespread;

That our people are optimists, and believe that day by day, year by year, the earth is rolling upward into the light of liberty, equality and fraternity.

Whereas, owing to the fact that physicians in various dry parts of the state have been unjustly arrested and convicted and fined heavily on purely technical grounds for writing alcoholic prescriptions, and

Whereas, the undersigned physicians have been annoyed by spotters from time to time, who falsely plead sickness and hope by misrepresentation and fraud to entice some unwary doctor in writing a prescription that they may secure his arrest, thereby placing physicians in the category as an ordinary criminal, and

Death Penalty Is Abolished.

Capital punishment as a penalty for murder has been abolished in Oregon by a majority of sixtyfive votes on complete returns as they now stand. The result is so close, however, that the final check on the official count might change the result.

Complete and official returns from twenty-nine counties and complete but unofficial returns from five counties indicate that the people of Oregon at the recent election voted favorably on the measure providing for discontinuation of the death penalty.

Complete and official returns from every county in the state give Dr. James Withycombe, republican, for governor, a plurality of 26,443 over Dr. C. J. Smith, democrat; and George E. Chamberlain, democrat, for United States senator, a plurality of 23,421 over Booth, republican. William Hanley, the progressive candidate for the senatorship, received 24,314 votes.

Ice Man Is Vindicated.

The Sentinel recently received a copy of The Leader in which an item concerning "Wink" Wallace's peaches was marked, with the request, "please copy." We presume the idea is to get the item where it will be seen, and we herewith give it its first real publicity. The Sentinel's reason for so satirical and caustic a statement will be seen when the story is read.

It is as follows:

"The Leader editor and Archie Thompson called upon Farmer C. W. Wallace Sunday. Among the products of his 7-acre tract about ready for market are five head of fine Chester White hogs. These porkers were allowed to run in a clover patch until six weeks ago when they were put in a pen and are being fed on corn of Mr. Wallace's own growing, and are now in first class condition. Mr. Wallace milks two cows, has a good flock of chickens and ducks and has marketed large quantities of vegetables, fruit and berries, and would have had some peaches for market had they not been appropriated on the eve of picking, circumstantial evidence in the latter case pointing to our esteemed contemporary. Mr. Wallace says the day following the theft of his peaches, he found a rather heavy pair of old shoes under one of his trees. A few weeks later he wore these shoes down town and upon meeting Editor Bede, the live wire man exclaimed: "Hello, where did you get my shoes?" "You are just the man I have been looking for," exclaimed Mr. Wallace. Then and there the peach incident was amicably adjusted, consideration not stated. This rather sensational disclosure completely exonerates John Silsby, upon whom the real offender attempted to cast suspicion and thereby shield himself. The ice man's reputation as a nice man is fully sustained."

EATON IS CANDIDATE FOR HOUSE SPEAKERSHIP

Says His Program Would Mean Change in Methods of Organization of Legislature.

Allen H. Eaton of Eugene is an avowed candidate for the speakership of the house of representatives of the next legislature, and is vigorously pushing his campaign. In reply to a query as to whether he was a candidate, Mr. Eaton said: "Yes, I am out for the speakership. I think I am entitled to it in as much as I am the oldest member of the entire legislature in point of continuous service."

Mr. Eaton is sending out a statement to each member-elect of the legislature, and promises, if elected, fewer bills and a saving in the cost of the session. In his statement he says:

"I am a candidate for speaker because I think that I am qualified for the position and because I stand for a definite and important policy for the organization and procedure of the house. I shall ask for election by a clear majority of the members and I will not try to bind any members to my support through party caucus.

"I shall make no promise of committee appointments and I shall have no campaign manager to make arrangements for me. I would rather be free on the floor than tied in the speaker's chair. The only way that I can afford to become speaker is through the support of a clear majority of the members who believe that I will make a fair and efficient presiding officer, and who feel a confidence in and the importance of the legislative policy which is responsible for my candidacy. Every man who supports me will do so because he places the interests of Oregon above any personal or social interests and if a majority of the members hold for this I promise among the results:

"1.—Fair and equal consideration for every man and every measure.

"2.—Fewer bills and more time for important legislation.

"3.—A saving of at least 25 per cent in the cost of the legislative session, without any sacrifice in efficiency.

"We have a good representative lot of men. What we need now is a good, practical method of procedure.

"Such a program means a change in methods of organization, in the manner of hiring clerical help and in the rules governing the house. These changes I hope you will be interested in, as I feel they are more important than any or all the candidates for the speakership."

COMPENSATION MEASURE WORKS WELL

That the state industrial accident insurance law is working out very well is the statement of C. D. Babcock, member of the commission. He says that 1612 claims have been paid during the past four months, 28 of which were on account of fatal accidents.

"We have collected $227,000 in the four months," said Mr. Babcock last week, "and have a balance on hand of $152,000. Eighty-five per cent of the employers of the state have accepted the law so far and more are coming in all the time. The law is working out very satisfactorily and I think it is a splendid thing for the working men as well as for the employers. The commission tries to pay all claims promptly. A short time ago we paid a death claim within five days after the accident occurred.

"In all fatal cases the widow of the workman who is killed, received from $30 to $50 a month as long as she remains single but as soon as she is married again the pension is cut off by the state. If she has no children she receives the minimum, if she has children her pension is based upon their number."

Mr. Babcock said that when the case is clear and the commission has the evidence the claim is not held up longer than is absolutely necessary.
