M. P. G. Club Takes Unique Journey

One of the most unique and original social affairs of the season was a farewell party given by the M. P. G. Club at the home of Mrs. K. K. Mills Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Harry Short, who leaves for her new home in Washington about the first of February.

The party took the form of a railway journey in which all the members of the M. P. G. Club took part. The club members gathered at the home of Mrs. Mills about two o'clock, where they were furnished with transportation to represent the trip they were about to begin. On the tickets, which were gotten up in a very original manner, containing several stubs, was the time of the departure of the train, 2:15, also instructions as to routing, etc. Promptly at 2:15 the journey was begun, via walking. The first leg of the trip brought the members to the Armstrong Studios, where a group picture of the club was taken, after which they returned to the Mills residence, where a parlor car had been arranged depicting as near as possible everything as found in such a car. Porters were on hand as well as the "peanut butcher" with his magazines, drinking cups, candy and chewing gum. Members had beforehand been provided with a number of pennies, which in this case represented dollars, with which to make purchases. After traveling for some time in this manner and having a general good time, the members retired to the dining car. Here small sewing tables had been arranged in two rows to represent a dining car, the idea being carried out to perfection, even to a printed menu card.

As The Sentinel was unable to make out what the feed consisted of after having read over the menu it decided to reproduce the same herewith.

Mrs. Short was presented with a beautiful sterling silver spoon, suitably engraved, as a token of remembrance by the club.

Following is a reproduction of the railway ticket and menu card used on the trip:

PADS AND FANCIES
Cheese and Macaroni Loaf
One-half cup macaroni, one cup milk, one cup soft bread crumbs, one tablespoonful butter, one tablespoonful chopped green pepper, one tablespoonful chopped onion, one tablespoonful chopped parsley, three eggs, one teaspoonful salt, one-half cup grated cheese.

Cook macaroni broken into small pieces, in boiling salt water until tender and rinse in cold water. Cook the onion, parsley and pepper in a little water with butter. Pour off the water to allow it to boil away. Beat the eggs, white and yolk separately. Mix all ingredients, cutting and folding in the stiff-beaten eggs at the last. Line a quart baking dish with a buttered paper; turn the mixture into it; set the baking dish in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven from one-half to three-quarters of an hour. Serve with tomato sauce.

Boston Roast
One pound can of kidney beans or same amount of cooked beans, one-half pound grated cheese, bread crumbs, salt.

Mash the beans or put them through a meat grinder. Add the cheese and sufficient bread crumbs to make the mixture stiff enough to be formed into a roll. Bake in a moderate oven, basting occasionally with butter and water. Serve with tomato sauce. This dish may be flavored with onions, chopped and cooked in butter and water.

To remove fruitstains from tablecloths and serviettes, apply powdered starch to the stained parts and leave for several hours till all the discoloration has been absorbed by the starch.

To remove a splinter, nearly fill a bottle with warm water just off the boil. Press the finger hurt by the splinter tightly over the neck of the bottle and hold it in position for three or four minutes. The steam will cause the splinter to come out and relieve the pain.

A good way of stiffening the bristles of hair brushes after washing is to dip them into a mixture of equal quantities of milk and water, and then dry before fire.

To Stop a Nose Bleed
Nose bleeds unless it is of frequent occurrence or unusually severe is not an alarming ailment and some people have them quite often, especially young children, who are often relieved by losing a little blood in this way.

A blow on the head will often produce nose bleed or a strained look to the eyes, but the usual cause is nature's means of relieving some pressure and weakening should not be checked too suddenly.

The simplest means of checking nose bleed is to lay cold applications on the bridge of the nose and forehead and to lie back quietly until the discharge ceases. Holding the hands above the head and the sudden application of a cold article, such as a key or a cloth wrung in cold water or the hand dipped in cold water and the feet in hot water ought, one or all, to be efficacious, if not, prepare a small roll of absorbent cotton or lint tied by a piece of thread. Thrust the roll up the nose to press the blood vessel and check the discharge. When the latter is over, withdraw the plug by means of the thread.

A child should be made to lie quiet for a time after a nose bleed and be strengthened by a course of cold plunges and salt baths under the direction of a physician.

The membrane inside the nostrils is very delicate and a child must be taught not to poke anything up the nose or to touch it with the nails. Sometimes when a child is run down physically, an irritated spot or sore will come in the nose. If this does not yield to simple remedies, consult a physician for a healing lotion and in regard to the general toring up of the system. The temptation is great to pick the scab off such a sensitive spot, so that it takes a long time to heal and may tend to become chronic aside from the habits men while acquired of penetrating the inside of the nose with the fingers.

Pumpkin Cure
Among the novel cures advocated for various ailments is the pumpkin remedy for kidney trouble, advocated by a well-known Russian physician. Through a German medical journal this physician claims that he has made many cures, but that large quantities of pumpkin, three to six pounds a day must be consumed. He has the pumpkin cut into small pieces covered with water and boiled for two hours over a slow fire, to be served with butter and milk or cream.

The series of revival services are still being held in the Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. Aldrich, has a helper, Rev. A. C. Braekenburg, pastor of the Methodist Church of Brownsville, and is much pleased with the very able way in which this brother presents the claims of the Gospel. No sensational features are introduced in any of the services but plain presentation of the needs of salvation, and an earnest appeal to the listeners to accept and live the same. The Deaconess, Miss Bell Menzies, in her quiet, but devoted and helpful manner is doing splendid work.

Last Sunday several were baptized by the pastor and received into membership in the church. Rev. Braekenburg will preach each evening this week including Saturday.

EARLY MORNING FIRE VISITS SPRINGFIELD

fire. It is thought that the blaze started either in the bicycle shop or in the rear of the Perrin store. The night policeman first noticed the light in the building and telephoned to the power house to turn on the siren whistle and the chief of police who was sitting up with a sick man, ran to the corner and rang the fire bell, and in a few minutes the streets were alive with the fire fighters and spectators. Four lines of hose were turned on the blaze, but it did not seem to do any good. The flames were then in the center rooms up stairs and could not be reached. The alarm was turned in at 12:30 a. m.—Register.

Obituary

Henry Clay Cook was born at Ticonderoga, N. Y., November 14, 1846, died at Yoncalla, Ore., January 11, 1915, being 68 years, 1 month and 27 days old. During his lifetime Mr. Cook was an able, energetic man, a graduate of Eastman College. At the age of 18 years he became identified with the St. Antonio and Dakota Elevator Company, of Minneapolis, Minn., which company he served for a period of twenty-five years as general superintendent, being also a member of the Chamber of Commerce at that place. About eight years ago Mr. Cook moved with his family to Oregon locating at Central Point, where for two years he followed the orchard business, later moving to Cottage Grove, where he engaged in the mercantile business for three years, after which he moved to Yoncalla, where he resided until summoned to cross the tide which separates life from eternity. Mr. Cook was a member of the Masonic fraternity having been made a Mason forty-five years ago in the leading lodge in Minnesota. He leaves a widow, two daughters and one son and a myriad of warm friends to mourn his departure. None spoke of him but to praise, none knew him but to admire.

EARTH SHOCKS KEEP ITALIANS IN TERROR

Detailed Reports Increase List of Dead and Injured and Property Loss.

Rome.—A renewal of seismic disturbances has served to add to the terror of the people in parts of the district that was visited by the heavy earthquake last week.

Although the shocks were light, buildings which had been cracked and were tottering from the effects of the first disturbance, were completely razed. In Avezzano and Sora, the towns which suffered most from the disaster, the people left their temporary shelters and took refuge in open places.

Detailed reports received in the capital regarding Italy's stupendous earthquake disaster increase rather than diminish the appalling list of the dead and the enormous property loss.

The Messaggero, after making a careful compilation of all the figures it has been able to gather from the districts and villages hitherto isolated, announces that the number of dead and injured in the Abruzzi district alone is 30,000, without including the Sora district.

San Atollio has 200 dead and 500 injured, Morino 1500 dead, Canistro 600 injured, Corvaro 300 victims, Borgo 50 dead and Valleroveto 1800. At Civitella Roveto almost the entire population escaped because they were at work in the fields when the shock occurred.

Twelve thousand bodies, it is semi-officially estimated, are buried under the fallen walls of the earthquake-ravaged city of Avezzano.

ALLIES GAIN IN FLANDERS

Paris and Berlin Agree Artillery Duels Are Chief Activities.

London.—Official German and French reports agree in saying that late activities of the armies on the western front have been confined chiefly to artillery engagements. The German account tells of the blowing up of a foundry at Blancy, east of Arras, and the French version admits losing this position, but asserts that it was promptly regained and is still held.

A feature of the German report is the estimate it makes of the losses of the allies since the general advance was reputed to have been decided on in December. These are given by Berlin as 20,000 killed and 17,860 prisoners, and it is added that the grand total, including wounded, sick and missing, must have been 150,000 men.

"Our total losses for the same period," says the Berlin account, "do not amount to one-quarter of that number."

American Loan to Russia Ready.

New York.—The loan of the group of New York bankers to the Russian government has been perfected.

The amount of Russian bills accepted by L. P. Morgan & Co. and their associates, reaches $25,000,000 for 90 days, subject to renewal for an additional 90 days, at a rate of 5 per cent per annum.

S. P. Issues Neat Booklet

"Oregon For the Settler" is the title of a neat 64-page booklet on Western Oregon being circulated by the Southern Pacific Company. The booklet is well printed and is profusely decorated with beautiful scenes in half tone of both city and country.

Beginning with a general statement concerning the geographical divisions of the state, "Oregon For the Settler" takes up a discussion of the Western half as it is known to Oregonians. It gives general descriptions of the Rogue River Valley, the Umpqua and the Willamette Valleys, and the country bordering the West Coast. Farm products are then given intelligent discussion, the last third of the pages of the book being given over to furnishing exact information as to where land-seekers may find cheap and desirable lands in the four sections of the territory served by the Southern Pacific lines. It tells where cheap lands are located in the Rogue River country, along the Umpqua, along the Willamette, and what they are good for.
