JESUS DIED A HUMAN RAISED A SPIRIT BEING

"Put to Death In the Flesh, Made Alive In the Spirit."

The Resurrection of Christ—The Bible Clear and Harmonious on This Subject—Erroneous Theories Unreasonable as Well as Unscriptural—"Flesh and Blood Cannot Inherit the Kingdom of God"—Natural Men Cannot Appreciate Spiritual Things.

April 4.—Pastor Russell addressed a large audience today, as usual. We report one of his sermons, from the text, "With what body do they come?"—1 Corinthians 15:35.

Beginning with his context, the speaker showed from St. Paul's words that without God's purpose of a resurrection all those asleep in death would have perished as brute beasts. He pointed out the Apostle's assurance that Christ arose from the dead and became the First-fruits of those in the death sleep. Others, indeed, were temporarily awakened but soon relapsed into death. They did not have a full raising up to life—a resurrection—such as Christ's redemptive work guarantees to Adam and all of his race who willingly accept that work under the terms of the New Covenant.

Then he demonstrated conclusively from Scripture that the soul, not the body, is promised a resurrection, that it was our Lord's soul that went to Sheol, to Hades—the tomb; and that the Father raised Him out of death on the third day. He pointed out the difficulties into which all Christendom is plunged by the unscriptural theory that the body is to be resurrected, and showed the reasonableness of the Bible presentation of the subject.

The ordinary thought respecting our Lord's death and resurrection is that when Jesus seemed to die, He did not actually die; that He, the Soul, could not die; that on the third day He returned to get the body which had been crucified; that forty days later He took it to Heaven, where He will retain it to all eternity, married with the nail-prints, the thorn-marks and the spear-wound in His side. Some endeavor to gloss the matter by suggesting that our Lord's flesh shines—the shining presumably making the scars and wounds all the more conspicuous.

All this, the speaker declared, comports with the theory that at death the saints go to Heaven, but return on the Judgment Day to get their bodies—inconveniences of which they had been rid for centuries, in some instances. He pointed out the absurdities of this theory handed down from the Dark Ages, and presented the Bible teaching on this important theme.

What Say the Scriptures?

The Bible presentation is reasonable and consistent. St. Paul explains that "there is a natural body and there is a spiritual body," and that "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God." A human being is so different from a spirit being that, as St. John says, "It doth not yet appear what we [the Church] shall be," in the resurrection change; and the Bible does not attempt an explanation, but merely declares that as we now bear the image of the earthy, so the Church shall, by the resurrection change, share our Lord's nature and likeness.

To be like our Lord and to see Him as He is, the Church must be changed from flesh and blood conditions to spirit conditions by resurrection power. This fact proves that our Lord is no longer flesh and blood—a human being.

St. Paul calls attention to the difference between celestial and earthly bodies. He tells us that the first Adam was made a living soul, a man; but that our Redeemer who took the earthly nature "for the suffering of death," thereby became the Second Adam—the Heavenly Lord. The wide distinction is thus clearly set forth. One was earthy, and the other Heavenly.

The Scriptures teach that our Redeemer, before becoming a man, was a Spirit Being. His leaving the spirit plane to become a man is described as a great humiliation on His part; for man is "lower than angels." Adam, the perfect man, had sinned; and according to Divine Law his redeemer must be on the same plane—a corresponding price. Hence the death of an angel or of our Lord in His prehuman condition would not have paid man's penalty and released the condemned race. So we read of our Lord, "A body hast Thou prepared Me"—"for the suffering of death."

The very Apostle who tells of our Lord's humiliation "unto death, even the death of the cross," assures us that the Father did not leave His Son on the lower plane. "Wherefore," says St. Paul, "God hath highly exalted Him, and hath given Him a name above every name." This is in harmony with our Lord's prayer, "Glorify Me with the glory that I had with Thee before the world was." He was quite content to serve the Father's Plan and then to return to His former glorious estate. But the Heavenly Father's response was, "I have glorified Thee, and I will glorify Thee again," or further—implying a still higher glory than that which our Lord enjoyed before He was made flesh.
