The Woman's Missionary Society of the Christian Church met in the church parlors Thursday afternoon. After the usual devotional exercises a brief period was devoted to the topic, "The Child in the Midst." Miss Lura Hefty gave a delightful talk on the children of China and the customs of the people, showing a number of curios. A cafeteria lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed. About 45 women were present.

The Misses Landess entertained the Neighborhood Club Friday evening. Cards were the diversion, after which light refreshments were served.

Mrs. John Bader was pleasantly surprised Thursday by members of the Constellation Club, the day being her birthday anniversary. Mrs. Bader was presented an Eastern Star souvenir spoon. An immense cake, made by Mrs. T. C. Wheeler, had the figures "88" formed on it with candles. Punch, cake and cookies were served. About thirty were present.

A well-attended reception was held at the Methodist Church last Wednesday for Miss Lura Hefty.

The Emanon Club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Stanley Martin. The afternoon was spent in the usual manner and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Nelson Durham.

The Social Twelve Club met Thursday with Mrs. L. S. Hill. Mrs. W. H. Abrams of Eugene, an honorary member, was present. Refreshments were served.

The M. P. G. Club met yesterday with Mrs. C. C. Cruson. The afternoon was spent in the usual manner and refreshments were served. Guests were Mrs. B. K. Lawson, Mrs. H. K. Metcalf, Mrs. Chas. Beals and Mrs. O. L. Nichols.

The Rebekah Club meets with Mrs. A. W. Kime Friday.

FADS AND FANCIES.

Spring Fashion Notes.

Tulle is as much used as ever. It has made itself a fabric of necessity, and it is difficult to imagine a change in styles great enough to change the position of tulle. A great deal of it is used on summer frocks that are already shown.

Popular Gray.

Gray is one of the most popular shades of the spring. It is cool and when it is becoming is really charming. But there are many types of face and color that cannot stand gray and it should

KLAMATH SAWMILLS START WORK THIS MONTH

One Plant Resumed Operations Monday and Will Give Employment to 200 Men.

Klamath Falls, Ore., April 6.—With 15,000,000 feet of timber to be cut the Algoma Lumber Company reopened its saw mill Monday morning for a busy season's work. The plant, which cuts 125,000 feet of lumber every ten hours, will give employment to 200 men. Besides the new crew to be employed by the saw mill, there is a box factory crew employed by the Algoma Lumber Company that has been working all winter, shipping about twenty carloads of box shooks a week.

On April 10 the Long Lake Lumber Company's plant on the upper lake will begin cutting. The management plans to cut 50,000 feet a day during the season.

Electrical equipment for the new plant of the Pelican Bay Lumber Company is now arriving, and F. Hill Hunter of the Sawmill Construction Company in charge of the building of the mill, expects to have the plant ready for operation not later than May 1. This mill which replaces the plant burned last summer, is the largest in the county.

Col. Hammond Reappointed.

Col. Creed C. Hammond of Eugene is the only member of the Oregon National Guard military staff reappointed by Governor Withycombe, who made his appointments known last week. Col. Hammond two years ago was the only member of the staff reappointed by Governor West. He has served on the staff six years, under Governors Chamberlain, West and Withycombe.

The general staff has charge of all military business in the state such as the erection of armories, and the control of the national guard companies.

Col. Hammond is commander of the Oregon Coast Artillery Corps, which position he has held since its organization from the Fourth Infantry in 1911. At that time he was a major in the Fourth Infantry.

be worn, especially in the paler shades, only after careful thought.

Hand Embroidery.

Hand embroidery plays a prominent part in the trimming of thin frocks. There are many lovely frocks of net almost covered with embroidery. Blouses of sheer fabrics, too, show much embroidery.

Fringe as Trimming.

Fringe of many sorts is still used. Some of the newest skirts show an edging of fringe at the bottom. There is a silk corded fringe that is often used with faille. And there is a fringe made of strands of beads that is used a good deal on evening frocks.

Ribbon Bows.

Bows of ribbon are effectively used on some of the new wide-skirted frocks of satin and silk. One that is pretty has little square bows of satin reaching from throat to hem. They are distinctly in keeping with the wide skirt.

Loop Trimming.

Loops of ribbon, too, are often used for trimming. One skirt of silk is edged around the bottom with loops of ribbon about two inches wide arranged fringe-wise, and the same trimming is used on sleeves and bodice.

Bolero and Zouave Jackets.

The bolero and zouave jackets, both usually becoming, are employed in many spring frocks. They are especially pretty when they are used in the thin frocks of net, organdie, batiste or other summer fabrics, for then they are usually elaborated with frilling or embroidery.

Changeable Taffeta.

Changeable taffeta has been used in the models shown at the February openings in Paris; and it has made its appearance here in some of the new models. It is a distinctly suitable fabric for summer, for in appearance and feeling both it is crisp and cool.

White and Black Stripes.

White and black stripes are used in almost every fabric, but perhaps no more attractively than in voile or chiffon, mounted over a foundation of white taffeta. Often the overdress of stripes is edged with blue or black velvet ribbon, which gives it a stability and charm it would otherwise lack.

Sheer Fichus.

The fichu has many advocates this spring. There are some pretty frocks of taffeta, with hemstitched fichus of the sheerest muslin. Many lingerie frocks have ruffled fichus draped about the shoulders. And even some evening frocks show this quaint adjunct.

The Useful Sailor.

Everyone is glad that the sailor shape is in evidence in spring millinery. Many hats there are of picture type, poke shapes, too, that are vastly becoming. But for general wear nothing is so smart as the sailor. It will probably be worn a good deal when warmer weather comes.

Within the past few days definite action has been taken at Salem in regard to starting the flax industry in this state. In order to encourage the farmers to experiment with the new crop, it is planned to offer $15 a ton for flax straw, a considerable advance over prices in other sections of the country. Seed will be furnished at $3 per bushel, payment to be made when the straw is marketed.

During the coming summer an important meeting of financiers and engineers interested in water power development will be held in Portland. Delegates from all the Pacific Northwest states will be in attendance as well as from North and South Dakota, Montana and California. It is expected that the action taken at that meeting will have an important bearing on future water power legislation in congress.

TESTED RECIPES.

Baked Apples Glace.

Wash and core red apples. Fill centers with sugar, cinnamon and cloves — $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful cinnamon, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonful cloves to $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar is a good proportion. A few nut meats can also be added. Then place in a baking dish, barely cover the bottom with boiling water, put on the lid and bake slowly until of a dark, rich red color. Remove from the oven, chill and pour over them a glaze syrup made of equal parts of sugar and water, boiled together for five minutes.

Eye Bread.

Materials—Two cupfuls of rye meal, $2\frac{1}{2}$ cupfuls bread flour, 2 tablespoonfuls sugar, $1\frac{1}{2}$ cupfuls scalded milk, 1 tablespoonful of melted butter or drippings, $\frac{1}{2}$ yeast cake dissolved in $\frac{1}{2}$ cupful tepid water.

Directions—Sift together dry ingredients, add milk, cooled, and the yeast and shortening; mix well, place in thoroughly greased breadpan, let rise till double in bulk and bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven. This makes two small loaves. If started by 8 o'clock it can be finished by noon.

One farmer advertised a Plymouth Rock rooster in The Sentinel and sold six pigs and two cows from the same ad.
