Photographer Goes With Girl Hikers but Returns
COTTAGE Grove people were considerably excited one day last week over the report that became current to the effect that one of the photographers of the city had joined the girl hikers on their journey to California. It was learned authoritatively that he had left the city in their company—but it seems that it was April Fools' Day and he only accompanied them a short distance out of the city to get their photographs on the road. The pictures are now on display at the Armstrong Studios.

True Nature.
Cottage Grove, Ore., April 6.—Editor Sentinel: What is more beautiful than to take a walk or ride through the country, breathing the fresh spring air and smelling the perfume of the wild flowers everywhere? When one walks through the orchard with the trees in their fullest bloom it seems like being in paradise. The beautiful birds singing and calling to their mates makes life more enjoyable. The true beauty of Nature makes one want to forget about the toil and hardships they must endure and enjoy the pleasant spring weather. No wonder the poet wrote, "What is more beautiful than Nature in all of its splendors."
A BLUE MOUNTAIN SUBSCRIBER.

Lots of Clean Up Days.
It is well to respect the proclamation of the governor of Oregon and have a clean-up week in May after the pesky fly has got out and is able to walk all over your butter, but we should also respect the order of the honorable mayor of Cottage Grove and have two clean-up days, Friday and Saturday, April 9 and 10, and clean up the city and destroy the fly before he is able to get out and fall in your soup. Get busy!
W. W. OGLESBY,
City Health Officer.

Noted Lecturer Here.
Dr. C. James Ivey, the only lecturer on the bible who uses the law of reversals as a basic principle, is lecturing every night except Saturday and Sunday at the Methodist Church. He has no new doctrines but treats the old ones in a new way. He has given about 30 years to the study of the bible from a scientific standpoint and has delivered his lectures before hundreds of large church gatherings. He will be here two weeks or more.
Visiting Cards—The Sentinel office.

Easter Observed.
Easter was appropriately observed in all the churches of the city with special sermons and services.
At the Methodist Church holy communion was held at 7 a. m., there was a baptismal service in the afternoon and in the evening the sacred cantata, "The Beautiful City," was given by the pastor and thirty young women in costume. All the services were well attended.
At the Christian Church a well-attended program was given in the evening by the bible school. A good-sized offering was received for the National Benevolent Association.

Little Business at Council.
Very little outside of routine business came up at the council meeting Monday. The resignation of Cliff Hayes, who is now in California for some time, was accepted. The request of the Royal Neighbors lodge to be allowed to park and care for the little three-cornered piece of property at the junction of Sixth Street with the railroad was granted.

Mrs. Thompson Wins Range.
Mrs. Archie Thompson won the range given away in the contest at the McQueen-Boldon store. Mrs. Schuefele was a close second with only a difference of 400,000 votes. Mrs. Lucy Holland was third.
