The three boys were drifting down river in an old scow when it struck a rock and the Craighead boy, frightened, jumped into the water to swim ashore. Alexander called to him to return to the boat, and then followed in an attempt to save him from the swift current, but was forced to make his way to the rock.

The body was recovered Monday and the funeral is being held this afternoon. The relatives from here being present.

An unusual method was used in locating the body. Game Warden Hillis took charge of the search. The method used was to make a dummy and eight this with stones until it was about the same weight as that of the boy. This dummy was dropped into the water at the spot where the boy disappeared. A buoy was attached to the dummy to guide the searchers, who followed the buoy down stream until it settled into a deep hole within a few feet of the body for which the search was being conducted.

Both Legs Broken.

Silk Creek, Ore., May 4.—(Special to The Sentinel.)—Will Nickerson sustained fractures of both legs above the knees Saturday when a tree fell on him while he was falling timber.

District Attorney Investigates.

The Eugene Guard yesterday said: The district attorney is investigating an unusual case in Cottage Grove. The deputy sheriff reported to him that a citizen there returned home a few nights ago to find another man in his house. The next morning a trail of blood was traced from this house for a long distance down the street. G. Ambrose, a recent arrival from Roseburg, where a wife and two children are living, was found suffering from two bullet wounds, one through the abdomen. His condition was reported serious yesterday, but he is better today and Mr. Devers delayed a trip to investigate the case.

The injured man refuses to make any statements regarding the shooting.

LESTER CRAIGHEAD IS DROWNED AT SPRINGFIELD

Was Grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hickey; Novel Method Used in Search for Body.

Lester Craighead, the 17-year-old boy who was drowned at Springfield Sunday, was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hickey of this city and a nephew of Stanley Hickey, Norman Hickey and Mrs. Rose Curran of this city. The boy's mother is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hickey.

Young Craighead was drowned in the Willamette River a mile south of Springfield, at noon Sunday. Ray Alexander, a companion who jumped in to save the Craighead boy, was himself rescued by Norman Furuset, another occupant of the boat.

The three boys were drifting down river in an old scow when it struck a rock and the Craighead boy, frightened, jumped into the water to swim ashore. Alexander called to him to return to the boat, and then followed in an attempt to save him from the swift current, but was forced to make his way to the rock.
