HEBDOMADAL.

C. CHAPMAN, editor of The Oregon Voter, wishes to know the meaning of the word "hebdomadal," which The Spectator used in welcoming The Oregon Voter and which it has used in welcoming several other papers to the Portland newspaper field. The word has the appearance of a lot of letters thrown together with little regard to their positions, but it is a real word.

Blighted with this word and other equally formidable language, all competitors of The Spectator have lived but a few issues. Chapman acts as if stricken with a fear that a like fate awaits his infant.

We should think that a man whose name starts with three C's should be able to see through anything, but as "Chap" talks as if he really desires information we will endeavor to enlighten him.

"Hebdomadal" is not a dangerous word, nor one of pretentious meaning. In language adapted to the intelligence of the ordinary newspaperman, it means "weekly." The Spectator might give the definition as "weakly." We trust that Chapman will rest easier now that the awful strain has been relieved.

While we are about it we may as well furnish The Voter further information that may prove useful when gazing in enchanted admiration upon the orthographic and philological hebdomadal puzzles in The Spectator.

That scintillating hebdomadal magazine is greatly given to the use of what at first seem strange words of hidden meaning. The person who gazes for the first time upon these wondrous words stretching their kinky way the full length of an 18-pica column, marvels at the wisdom of the one who uses them with such nonchalant assuredness.

But there is no need to fear that a post graduate course in word study will be necessary to the enjoyment of the hebdomadal visits of The Spectator. Master the strange words in one issue and you are prepared to enjoy those that follow. The Spectator is familiar with the use of a few high-sounding words and these it works overtime. We do not know whether The Spectator uses these multiple-jointed words because it knows how to use them better than any one else—or because it doesn't know better.

If the United States should become engaged in a war with Germany—which is not an improbability—there would come a supreme test of the patriotism of our naturalized citizens—a large number of whom are from Germany and Austria—and for citizens born here who have German and Austrian blood in their veins.

It may be funny but it's perfectly natural for one automobile owner not to want some other automobile owner to tell him how to run his car. No auto owner with any professional pride whatever will admit that some other auto owner knows any more about a car than he does.

GOOD SPORTS.

COTTAGE GROVE has a large number of people who enjoy trout fishing—and there is good trout fishing to enjoy. The reason that there is good trout fishing is because the streams have been regularly restocked. There will be good fishing in the future if the restocking is continued—but if the stories the fishermen tell are one-quarter true, restocking is absolutely necessary.

The money from licenses issued to Cottage Grove people pays for hatching the fish and transporting them to this station. The expense of distribution must be borne by the Cottage Grove Rod and Gun Club, to which the fish are shipped. The dues in this club are one dollar a year and this money is used for expenses connected with distributing the fish.

If funds for distribution are available a car of eastern brook trout will be distributed to Cottage Grove streams this year. If funds are not on hand they cannot be distributed.

No good sport neglects to pay his share of the expenses. All those who fish should support the club that makes good fishing possible.

THE FIFTH STREET ROAD.

IT IS ALMOST unbelievable that anyone would oppose an improvement that would so greatly benefit Cottage Grove as will the proposed Fifth Street road leading directly south from the city.

This road will prove a great convenience to the large section of farming country which it will serve. It will prove a great convenience to the J. H. Chambers saw mill—and it happens that the money received from the sale of timber cut for use at this mill will probably be used in building the road. It will give a good road leading south from the city, which there is not at the present time. It will give a shorter route south from the city. This road will not in any way conflict with the improvement of the road on the West Side. Those boosting for the new road will boost equally hard for the improvement of the present south road on the West Side. A good road on the West Side is needed.

When the road is completed it is quite likely to be designated as one of the Pacific Highway routes through the city. If this is done it will take a large part of the automobile travel through the city, tourists will see the business section of the city and pass our beautiful high school building, instead of skirting the city, seeing but a part of the residence section and a lot of tumble-down buildings that housed the business of a half century ago.

To have tourists see fine brick buildings, clean paved streets and have them go away with a mind picture of a pretty and busy little city will benefit all sections alike. Some of them will stop to make purchases. It is not an East Side proposition. Those living on the East Side will not be benefited more than those living on the West Side. It is something for the benefit of the entire city. That this is the view generally taken is evidenced by the fact that the large number of those boosting for the proposed improvement live on the West Side. There is but one regrettable feature in seeking to change the route of the highway, and that is that there is a possibility that a garage owned by one of Cottage Grove's most enterprising citizens may be slightly injured. However, the changing of the route of the highway is not now under consideration. That is a possibility of the future.

The owner of the garage that would be affected by changing the highway is not opposed to opening the proposed road. So far the only opposition that has been encountered comes from The Leader (whose only excuse seems to be that its editor lives on the West Side), but that opposition will have no effect. The road will be opened next year if not this.

The Yoncalla Times, recently destroyed by fire, has been reestablished and comes to us now in a new form with pages 6x9 inches and of yellowish hue. It should get a large number of full-page ads.

A man who makes fun of mollycoddles is quite often a fellow who will remain standing without hitching while some frivolous female pats and pets him and makes him believe she loves him as long as he makes good with the theater tickets and luncheon after the show.

In a South American country a man is expected to kiss every woman he is introduced to. If that practice prevailed here we men would have to train our minds to forget previous introductions.

The groom may not be very conspicuous at the wedding but he at least has the satisfaction of knowing that without him there could be no bride.

During good times a man squanders his money and then during hard times blames society for the inequalities of life.

Don't call a cop a loafer. The truth sometimes cuts too deep.

DRIVING THE PEOPLE FROM GOD AND BIBLE

Are "Doctrines of Demons" Responsible?

Satan's Successful Method—Why God Permits Darkness For Light—Faith and Love Tested—Responsibility of Preachers—God Slandered—Truth Soon Triumphant.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Pittsburgh, May 9.—Pastor Russell gave two addresses here today. We report the one from 1 Timothy 4:1, 2. It is a severe arraignment of education and especially of ministers, notwithstanding its moderate language.

The Pastor declared that we are gradually awakening to the fact that the world does not love God, and that few of the churches recognize Him as the gracious Heavenly Father. Although the Bible tells us that God is Love, that His mercy endureth forever, and that from Him comes every good and perfect gift, nevertheless the doctrines of demons instilled into our minds from childhood have hindered us from appreciating these statements.

Back in the Second Century, when Bibles were very expensive and few people could read, Satan laid the foundation for gross errors. The clergy began to claim that the bishops were successors to the twelve Apostles, thus implying that their teachings were of equal authority. Nobody was allowed to preach unless authorized, or ordained, by these so-called Apostolic Bishops. The result was the separation of the Church as the clergy—the public being called children of the Church.

Conditions During the Dark Ages. Later the Apostolic Bishops, with Emperor Constantine, started creed-making. Thereafter creeds took the place of Bible study; for the Emperor decided that the Nicene Creed was the standard of Orthodoxy, and that whoever differed from its teachings was a heretic and subject to persecution. This condition lasted twelve hundred years. When we consider how much error could be brought into the Church in twelve centuries, it is no wonder that our creeds are more than half error, and that the doctrines of demons so leavened the whole mass that it became injurious to spiritual health.—Matthew 16:3, 11, 12; Luke 13:21.

Then the authority of the Apostolic Bishops began to be questioned. The Bible began to be sought and studied, but all who did this were esteemed heretics. Finally the people insisted that they be permitted to read the words of Jesus and the original Twelve. The pseudo-apostles (Revelation 2:2) were forced reluctantly to give the people the Bible in the vernacular. Both Catholics and Protestants warned the people that the other's edition was especially wrong. The object was to prevent Bible study.

The same spirit is manifested everywhere yet. Whoever agrees with the creeds is tolerated by his own class. Whoever presents the Bible without sectarian bias is branded a heretic; and vilification heaped upon him is reckoned service to God, however false.

What Are "Doctrines of Demons?" Doctrines of demons, the Pastor explained, are various falsehoods designed to misrepresent God's dealings and character, and thus to hinder God's Message from taking effect in human hearts. The Almighty could have prevented Satan from practicing deception and slandering the Divine character. But it is not God's purpose to use force in gathering the Church. He sent forth His Message, that those hearing should have opportunity of responding voluntarily.—2 Peter 1:4.

Personally and through his demon host, Satan seeks to misrepresent God's Message. (2 Corinthians 4:4.) He induced us to believe that before man's creation God had made a great place called Hell, supplied with fireproof devils and fuel to last to all eternity, and then made men, knowing that nearly everybody would go there. Additionally, we were taught that we would be rendered indestructible in order that our torments might last eternally. No human mind ever invented such doctrines. They are the work of demons, to separate us from God and His Word, through preachers, evangelists, and the creeds handed down from the past.

Satan began this opposition to God by telling Mother Eve that her sin would not bring death, as God had said; and he has continued the statement until the whole world are convinced that when men die, they are more alive than ever. This is the fundamental doctrine of demons, upon which are based all the false doctrines that have troubled us. The Bible says, "The dead know not anything"; "The wages of sin is death."

These doctrines of demons include Purgatory and masses for the dead. They include the work of spirit mediums; for as bishops and priests are deceived, so are spirit mediums. They think that they communicate with the dead; whereas the Bible makes clear that they are deceived by the fallen angels the demons, thus giving the only confirmation of Satan's original lie, that the dead are alive.

A large part of our troubles have started in ways that we at first thought was fun.

The rising generation should be a wise one, considering the questions we older ones have to answer for the youngsters.

When a bridegroom turns to whisper in his wife's ear that she's all his now, she is just as likely as not looking up at him in a way that seems to say: "You will have to dance to my music now, old man."
