saucepan and cover. Have the gas very low. In this way vegetables can be kept warm indefinitely and there is no danger of their getting burned or dried up.

In answer to a correspondent's query the editor would say that good success has been had in washing a white corduroy skirt with naphtha soap and cold water. If brushing with a stiff brush does not smooth the nap down sufficiently, iron on the wrong side over a coarse bath towel.

Two ounces of borax sprinkled over a garbage can or refuse pile will effectively prevent flies from breeding.

A sprig of parsley heated with canned peas give them a fresh and delicious flavor.

Arranging Grange Prize List.
The prize list is being prepared for the annual grange fair which will be held September 16, 17 and 18 in the old high school building. The committee in charge wishes to create considerable interest in the children's department and for that purpose will increase the prizes in that department.

Thief Steals Washing.
The J. H. Boldon family came near being compelled to delay their trip east because of the fact that some miscreant purloined the washing from their clothes line and they were left rather short of clothing. The thief has not yet been apprehended. Several other clothes lines were robbed the same night.

Leave for Fort Stevens.
About 40 members of Sixth Co. left for camp at Fort Stevens last night. The officers who went were Capt. Woods, Second Lieutenant Cruson, First Sergeant Richmond and Q. M. Sergeant Ostrander.

Van Northwick Buys Anderson Farm.
In a cash and trade deal during the past week F. B. Van Northwick became the owner of the J. D. Anderson dairy ranch on Coast Fork and Mr. Anderson became the owner of the Van Northwick ranch, formerly the Gates ranch. Mr. Van Northwick also took over the city milk business conducted by Mr. Anderson, purchasing the Anderson dairy herd.

Benson Treats to Strawberries.
J. S. Benson was treating his friends last week to strawberries brought home with him from his Wolf Creek ranch. They are of the Oregon variety, a medium-sized berry but a very delicious one. The Sentinel received several boxes.

Harrington Goes to Duluth.
L. P. Harrington, of Creswell, field worker for the state department of education, left last week for Duluth, Minn., where he will represent Oregon at the convention of national superintendents. He will visit a number of the Minnesota summer schools after the convention.

New Houses Building.
Miss Grace Blackwell has had a bungalow erected in the south central portion of the city. B. G. Crowe and P. H. McGee are hauling the lumber for new farm homes.

It's surprising how much news The Sentinel gets when there are so many who know news that they do not tell.

Big Additional Revenue From Better Egg Yield.

"There is no telling what may be accomplished by poultry breeding in the way of increased production of eggs," says Professor James Dryden head of the poultry department of the Oregon Agricultural College. "When it is known that the average of the State of Oregon and of the United States as a whole is about 80 eggs per hen a year and that it is possible to secure an average of 200 eggs a year, the great possibilities will be at once recognized. As it is, the production of eggs alone in the State of Oregon amounts to over $5,000,000 a year and of eggs and poultry over $8,000,000. An increase of a dozen eggs a year per hen in this state would mean about $1,000,000 added revenue in the year and at the same time a much higher percentage of profit to the producer. Taking the whole country over the increased production would soon pay the cost of the Panama canal."

"There is no section of the United States better adapted to profitable poultry production than localities in Oregon. Men and women equipped with the requisite knowledge and industry need not hesitate to embark in the business here. The only danger is that people rush into the business who know nothing about its many details."

Oregon Stone Industry.
Hundreds of thousands of dollars of Oregon capital have been invested in the stone industry of eastern and western Oregon.

But the stone quarries have been lying idle while public buildings are erected from stone imported from Alaska and Indiana.

The Portland First National Bank to be built by an eastern architect will probably find no Oregon stone good enough.

A Portland architect has been selected to erect the Monmouth State Normal School building, and he has not favored Oregon stone in the past.

In the old days a fine building was erected at the Corvallis Agricultural College of Oregon stone from Lincoln County, but all recent buildings used imported stone.

The Yaquina Bay sandstone has been used on some of the finest buildings in Portland and San Francisco, and is being considered for two federal buildings in Oregon.

The average architect on a state or federal building seems to imagine he has done his duty by the state that gives him employment when he turns down Oregon stone.

Most of them play into the hands of brokers and agents for imported building material and our federal and public officials are satisfied to let them.

With freak laws killing industries on one hand and indifferent officials letting them die on the other Oregon is not developing anything but high taxes.—Exchange.
