Society

The M. P. G. Club meets today with Mrs. Albert Hellmuth.

A marriage license was issued last week to Jos. B. Parker and Mrs. Lulu M. Knowlton, both of this city. It is probable that they have since been married, although word to that effect has not reached here.

Mrs. A. W. Kime entertains the Royal Neighbor Club this afternoon.

Mrs. DeSpain gave an informal at home last Wednesday afternoon, it being a farewell neighborhood social previous to her departure for her new home in Eastern Oregon. Eighteen guests were present and a two course luncheon was served. Mrs. DeSpain was the recipient of a number of beautiful gifts from her friends.

Chas. Beidler was given a pleasant surprise at the Beidler home by a number of his friends Tuesday evening, the occasion being his birthday anniversary. About thirty guests were present and ice cream and cake were served.

The Sentinel wishes to publish all society items and wishes that those knowing of any would report them either in person or by phone.

Mrs. C. W. Caldwell entertained about twenty last night in honor of Mrs. Kennedy of Corvallis, who is visiting here. The evening was spent in social conversation and light refreshments served.

The picnics to have been given by the Social Twelve and Emanon Clubs last Thursday were postponed until favorable weather.

HISTORY OF LIBERTY BELL HISTORIC RELIC

port of Boston had been closed, and then that the Battle of Lexington had been fought, the tidings reached Philadelphia April 24, 1775, and the consequent meeting of "8,000 people, by computation," resolving "to associate for the purpose of defending with arms, their lives, liberty and property against all attempts to deprive them" of these inalienable rights; it summoned patriots to the memorable meeting of June 7, 1776, when Richard Henry Lee offered his resolutions, "that these United Colonies are and ought to be free and independent states and as such they have and of right ought to have full power to make war."

And then it convened congress for consideration of a declaration of independence, and on July 8, 1776, it sent echoing round the world the Proclamation of American Independence.

The state house bell was now the liberty bell.

Then came the War of the Revolution and the flight of the bell to Allen town. The bell became an exile on that first journey. The battle of the Brandywine had been fought; the British were marching on Philadelphia. Patriots determined to save the bell from capture and possible destruction. Before Howe and his troops marched into Philadelphia loving hands lowered the bell—the state house bell it was then, despite its prophetic inscription of liberty—and it was placed on a truck. The bells of Christ Church and of St. Peter's Church received like, probably equal attention. The baggage of the continental army, too, became a part of the train of 700 wagons which moved out of Philadelphia, guarded by 200 North Carolina and Virginia soldiers. The train moved out of Philadelphia September 18, 1777, on to Germantown, Bethlehem and Allentown, the state house bell finding refuge in Zion's Church, which it reached safely.

After Washington's victory at Monmouth the bell came back to the state house in Philadelphia—to what is now Independence Hall—the nation's holiest shrine.

Here the liberty bell announced on October 24, 1781, the surrender of Cornwallis and freedom from England; it welcomed "His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and his lady" in November, and in April, 1783, it proclaimed peace. It sounded the alarms of war in 1812 and rang for peace in 1815. The liberty bell tolled the funeral knell of Washington; its peals welcomed Lafayette to the Hall of Independence when he returned to America in 1824 and proceeding "under arches wreathed in flowers"; it ushered in the fiftieth anniversary of the Republic; it tolled for Jefferson and Adams when they entered into rest, "to its deep tone the slow measures of its tolling giving a very solemn impression"; it rang in sorrow again when Charles Carroll of Carrollton died, and when the great Lafayette passed away.

But once more was it to toll for a great American—for John Marshall, last survivor of the great characters who made the nation. He died in Philadelphia July 6, 1835, and on July 8, the very day of the anniversary of the Proclamation of Independence, as the liberty bell tolled solemnly while the funeral cortege moved slowly down Chestnut Street on its way to Virginia, its sides parted, its voice became mute and it entered with the great expounder of the constitution into silence.

Inspector Stewart called the attention of C. A. Parks, state horticultural commissioner, whose headquarters are in Salem, to the blight here he had found it, and the commissioner at once took steps to eradicate it before it spreads further.

A deputy inspector for the north part of Lane County, to work in the orchards near where the blight was found so thick around Monroe in Benton County, has recently been appointed by the county court and he is now busy with his duties. It is believed that the disease can be kept out of this county, although it had started to spread from the Monroe orchards and was found among a few quince trees about Junction City. These have been cut down and burned, which is the only way to get rid of the pest.

Inspector Stewart says that the Benton County authorities are now endeavoring to check the spread of the blight down that way and he thinks that if the proper measures are taken they will be successful.

"The fruit growers and the authorities down the valley have to organize before they can do effective work. They realize that the blight has obtained a good foothold and are doing all they can to check it," said Inspector Stewart. "The blight in Lane County is practically done away with but we are not going to quit. We must constantly be on the alert or it will spread to the orchards of this section."

MAN HELD FOR ROBBERY CLAIMS C. G. AS HOME

Eugene Register: After watching for two days and two nights, a posse of Linn County officers yesterday arrested Clyde and Jesse Davis, who live on a ranch on the Upper Mohawk river, in Lane County, and James Wallace, who says his home is at Cottage Grove, charging them with raiding the home of Mrs. Marian Barr, a widow, at Crawfordville, not far from the Lane County line, on July 5.

As far as The Sentinel has learned there has been no such Wallace living here for some time, although it is possible that it is a young man by that name who left here several years ago.

Arcade Has Large Crowd.
The first episode of "The Exploits of Elaine" drew a large crowd at The Arcade last night and it gives promise of being a strong drawing card in the future. The cartoon comedy made the hit of the evening, drawing many bursts of laughter from the large audience.

Tonight they have a special 3-part feature, "The Wolf Unmasked," and also an exceptionally good scenic and educational picture, "Sicily in Calm and Storm" and "Training in the French Army."

"Who Pays" series has been booked in this popular playhouse, and deals with the twelve problems of life. They consist of twelve different series, of three reels each, one to be shown each week. These are not serials and each one is distinct by itself.

Man of 77 Kills Man of 83.
Roseburg, Ore., July 12.—Charles R. Stimpson, aged 77, was arrested here today at the hospital of the Oregon Soldiers' Home, charged with the killing of Alexander Church, 83 years old, by beating him on the head with a cane.

According to the home authorities, Stimpson asserts that Church was trying to take his slippers. There had been hard feelings between the men, it is said, Stimpson saying that people, including Church, had been laughing at him, and Church had threatened to beat him.

Stimpson is hardly able to walk because of his age, and Church was so feeble that he could not walk unsupported. Church and Stimpson were both admitted to the home in October last year, Church from Portland and Stimpson from Corvallis.

Roseburg Wants Attorney.
Roseburg, Ore., July 12.—F. E. Alley, once a prominent land attorney of this city, is in jail at Seattle awaiting preliminary hearing on a charge of grand larceny. Jules E. Binden, owner of the Seward Hotel, obtained the warrant. After cashing checks aggregating $160, which he claims is only half the amount of checks cashed by Mr. Alley in another hotel and three cafes in Seattle, they were later returned marked "no account."

Mr. Alley has been unable to furnish bail. He is also wanted in Roseburg, where he jumped a bond in the sum of $400. This bond was signed by Fredrick Kribs of Portland. If acquitted in Seattle, Mr. Alley will be returned here for trial on a charge of non-support.

Milo Roach Takes Over Music House.
Milo A. Roach of Eugene, who has been interested with K. K. Mills in the firm of Mills & Roach, has taken over the business. Miss Jessie McCord will have charge of the business. Mr. Mills will continue to conduct his undertaking business.

LANE COUNTY IS ENTIRELY FREE OF BLIGHT

Inspector Stewart Has Made Hard Fight to Keep Down Pest That Ruins Orchards.

Because the county appropriated money for the purpose of fighting fruit pests, Lane is the only county in the Upper and Central Willamette Valley that is free from fire blight, according to C. E. Stewart, county fruit inspector.

Inspector Stewart a short time ago discovered the blight in many places in Southern Benton County, next to the Lane County line, and since then he has discovered it in Linn, Marion and Polk Counties. In walking down the streets of Salem a few days ago he discovered an English hawthorne tree on the state capital grounds badly infested with the blight. He also found it in several other parts of Salem.

Inspector Stewart called the attention of C. A. Parks, state horticultural commissioner, whose headquarters are in Salem, to the blight here he had found it, and the commissioner at once took steps to eradicate it before it spreads further.

A deputy inspector for the north part of Lane County, to work in the orchards near where the blight was found so thick around Monroe in Benton County, has recently been appointed by the county court and he is now busy with his duties. It is believed that the disease can be kept out of this county, although it had started to spread from the Monroe orchards and was found among a few quince trees about Junction City. These have been cut down and burned, which is the only way to get rid of the pest.

Inspector Stewart says that the Benton County authorities are now endeavoring to check the spread of the blight down that way and he thinks that if the proper measures are taken they will be successful.

"The fruit growers and the authorities down the valley have to organize before they can do effective work. They realize that the blight has obtained a good foothold and are doing all they can to check it," said Inspector Stewart. "The blight in Lane County is practically done away with but we are not going to quit. We must constantly be on the alert or it will spread to the orchards of this section."

NEW HEALTH REGULATIONS WILL HAVE EFFECT OF STOPPING IMPORT

Those Using or Selling Chinese Eggs Must Post Large Placard and Label Pastry.—Other Important Changes in Food and Dairy Laws.

On May 22 a new law went into effect which comprises a revision of practically all the food and dairy laws previously on our statutes. A few new laws were also added. Following is a synopsis of a few of the important changes that food vendors and manufacturers will have to observe in the future:

Chapter 272, Laws of 1915, provides that all eggs shall be branded on the case, box or carton with the name of the state or province where produced.

All food and drink manufacturers and vendors using foreign eggs in their products must erect a sign three feet in length and six inches in height, and persons selling foreign eggs must erect signs six feet in length and one foot in height. Every cake or pie containing any foreign eggs must also be labeled.

The sanitary code consisting of Sections 81 to 90, inclusive, of Chapter 343, Laws of 1915, provides for certain sanitary restrictions in every place where food products are handled. It gives the commissioner power to close any establishment that is unclean, unhealthful or unsanitary.

Sidewalk display of food is prohibited, except in show cases. Exception is made in the case of food products that necessarily have to be peeled, pared or cooked before they are fit for consumption.

All meat, while being hauled through any street or thoroughfare, must be covered with a clean cover. All places where food products are handled must be thoroughly screened, and sleeping in the kitchen of the little restaurant or other establishment where food is prepared is prohibited.

"Filthy" is one term used in defining conditions under which foods shall be deemed adulterated. "Filthy" is defined in the same section as applying to "food not securely protected from flies, dust, dirt, and as far as may be necessary, by all reasonable means from all foreign or injurious contamination."

The standard for total solids in milk is reduced from 9 per cent to 8.5 per cent. Heretofore the only standard for butter was that which provided a maximum moisture content of 16 per cent. The new law provides, in addition to the moisture standard, a minimum of 80 per cent of pure milk fat.

Potato Baking Made Easy.
A device for baking potatoes is a long tin frame with six little tin spikes on it. A potato washed and ready to bake, is fastened on each spike and the frame is set in the oven. The potatoes can be easily handled in this way, and, moreover, they are evenly and well baked. When the contrivance is used there is no danger of charred and broken skins on the side next to the oven.

CAN IT BE?
(Editorial in Eugene Register.)
Can it be that the people of Lane County do not care whether a representative is kept at the San Francisco exposition this summer and fall or not? Can it be that they are perfectly willing that other counties shall skim the cream from the immigration resulting from tourist travel and tourist investigation this year? Can it be that there are not even a few hundred public spirited men in all this vast county who are willing to make up the small fund that must be raised by private subscription if it is raised at all?

The response to the call for funds would seem to indicate that these things are very nearly true. Immediately following the announcement that a county appropriation for this purpose could not be made a request was sent out for private subscriptions in small amounts. To date just twenty men have responded to the request. And scrutiny of the list reveals the fact that these twenty are the ones who are always at the front in every movement for the public good. They are the ones whose purses are always open when the interests of Lane County are to be furthered. Are we to deduce from this that there are only a few public spirited men in the whole community?

The Register does not believe that this is the case. It believes there are hundreds of citizens who are ready to help in movements for the advancement of this part of Oregon just as soon as their attention is called to the need for help.

Surely no one doubts the advantages that will result from having Lane County's opportunities told to the exposition visitors. Person after person has testified to the interest that these visitors have shown in Oregon and to the fact that Mr. Warren has thus far been besieged with inquiries about Lane County. With all this interest in evidence it will be a pity if for the remainder of the exposition Lane is to be the only county of the valley that is unrepresented. If only a few will give a dollar, or two dollars, or five dollars—which will never be missed in a year from now—the fund will soon be raised and Lane County will be assured of representation.

You can't afford to miss reading the want ads.

Want School Children to March.
The G. A. R. and W. R. C. would like to have all children up to the sixth grade in school age march in the procession to greet the liberty bell during its stop July 15. While we deeply deplore the brevity of its stay, we still desire to show to the guardians of the famous relic that we are as patriotic and loyal a people as they will find in the whole United States.

All children are requested to meet in front of Phillips Hall.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS.
Minutes of City Council for Meeting Held July 6, 1915.

Roll was called and minutes read.

A motion was made to ask S. F. Ry to fill the pits on the west side of the main tracks from the depot, south to Durham's barn.

Ordinance No. 421, providing for the censorship of moving picture shows, was read and the recorder was instructed to make some changes.

The application of Mr. Asher for use of water outside of city limits was granted at 25 per cent above the regular rate in the city.

The entire proceedings of each meeting of the council were ordered published in The Sentinel for 6 months at $3 per month.

On motion the recorder was instructed to proceed at once to collect all street assessments where any amount is due on the principal and to notify all those delinquent on interest payments, that the same must be paid at once.

The street commissioner was instructed to have the intersections of cross streets between West Main and Birch Ave. cut down to make a better approach to those two streets.

The following bills were read and order paid:

Real Estate Bargains

Watch This Column For Some of the Good Things in This Vicinity.

75 acres near Denmark, level black land, covered with young pine, few acres under plow, fenced on three sides. Splendid graveled road (county) runs through place, abutting on co-operative cheese factory, $35.00 per acre, half price.

120 acre tract one mile from Denmark, good house, good road to house, salmon stream runs through place, about 20 acres of this rocky and covered with white cedar, balance good land. $10.00 per acre.

160 acre tract, two miles from Denmark, hill land, heavily timbered at one time, killed by forest fires. Good grass land, enough white cedar for ranch use, about 40 acres level enough to plow. Not all in a body, in three different forties, springs on each one, 320 acres adjoin that can be bought right with comfortable house and small barn and half fenced, and joining forest reserve. $10.00 per acre.

Coast land near postoffice and stores, where grass grows all the year, 7 cheese factories in this vicinity and one of the best dairy communities in the state. Railroad will be built near there within the next two years.

You may look far and wide for anything to compare to the foregoing three properties, but you cannot beat them for future values.

20 acres, modern bungalow, "new," good bottom land, everything, tools and stock to go with the place. Price $4500. Good place to own and can play even here.

6 acres near Cottage Grove, box house and fair barn, bottom land, all cultivated. Price $750.

10 acres adjoining Cottage Grove, all under cultivation, family orchard, good house and barn. This is a bargain at $3500, easy terms.

152 acres black loam, 16 miles east of Cottage Grove, 7 room house, 3 barns, 60 acres cleared and under cultivation, school and depot on place.

90 acres pasture, all fenced, an ideal place for stock and dairy, water piped to barn. $5000, 1/2 cash and balance to suit.

Cottage Grove is the place to which you will eventually come. Climate unsurpassed, and if you have tired of the frozen north, and the extreme heat of the east, write me today for bargains, if you mean business.
