Worms Cause Many Children's Ills.
Worms, by thousands, rob the child of nourishment, stunt its growth, cause Constipation, Indigestion, Nervousness, Irregular Appetite, Fever, and sometimes Spasms. Kickapoo Worm Killer gives relief from all these. One-fourth to one of these pleasant candy lozenges, taken as directed, kill and remove the Worms, regulate your child's bowels and restore its health and vitality. Get an original 25c box from your Druggist. Don't endanger your child's health and future when so sure and simple a remedy can be had.

Household Helps.
Be systematic—even the odds and ends of housekeeping should be attended to regularly. Set a day to attend to the drawers in dressers and closets; examine storerooms and closets and see what is needed; look over fruit and vegetables that need attention and see that they are used before too late.
Mildew can be removed by rubbing the spots with green tomato and salt and exposing the spots to the sun.
If you wish your eyebrows to look pretty be sure no powder is left on them.
A spotless tablecloth, smooth and straight, is essential to the enjoyment of a meal.
Keep eggs in a cool, dry place. Eggs absorb flavors, and should be kept in a covered dish.
Varnished Wall Paper.
I have varnished wallpaper in the bath room and was told by the agent when taking the house that it "washed like oil paint." It that true? If not, is there any way of cleaning it? I would be very grateful for an early reply.—Housewife, Lansdale, Pa.
Varnished paper can be washed quite satisfactorily by adding two table-spoonfuls of ammonia to a half pail of water and washing with soft flannel. Dry off and wipe down again with a chamomile skin wrung out of warm water, to which two table-spoonfuls of turpentine have been added. This gives a very good polish to the paper and makes it look as good as new.
Kitchen Hints Worth Remembering.
Salt is a good absorbent, as the housewife will discover if she runs for the salt receptacle when ink is spilled on the carpet or on the tablecloth, and puts on salt, renewing the salt as fast as it absorbs the ink. If the salt is put on the ink promptly it is generally so effective that practically no ink stain remains.
An added flavor is given to after-dinner black coffee if each lump of sugar to be served with it is rubbed with a piece of lemon peel a few moments before time to bring on the coffee. Orange peel adds a delicate touch to the afternoon tea if the sugar to be used is rubbed with it a little while before it is served.

PADS AND FANCIES.
Some Savory Recipes.
Swedish Meat Balls.—Buy top sirloin by the pound and get the butcher to grind it before you. Mix the meat with a pinch of kitchen herbs, some fresh chopped parsley, a little chopped onion, a sixth of the quantity of stale, fine bread crumbs, salt, cayenne and fresh cream to make a manageable paste. Roll into balls, sprinkle with flour and fry brown in butter or olive oil.
Boiled Rice.—Take a cupful of well-washed rice and mix it with double the quantity of cold water; add salt to taste and let the rice boil fast for 20 minutes, when the liquid will have disappeared. Then set the vessel, tightly covered on the back of the stove for the rice to "soak" or finish the cooking with the steam. Care must be taken to protect the pot from too much heat, as rice cooked in this dry manner will soon burn. Together with the first boiling, it takes about fifty minutes or an hour, to cook rice in this way. It must never be stirred, as this makes a soggy mess; but many good cooks often turn the edges up with a fork so as to let the steam out when the rice is nearly done. Any rich gravy or butter is a proper accompaniment, but it does splendidly with curried chicken.

GROCERY STORE IS ROBBED

Kerr & Silsby Victim of Thieves Who Empty Money Drawer and Dine on Highest Priced Viands.

Robbers last night entered the Kerr & Silsby Store, helped themselves to the contents of the money drawer, served themselves lunch on the highest priced viands in the store and carried away some confectionaries.

Entrance was gained through the rear door. A bolt was broken off and the other lock probably picked. The key, which had been left in the lock, could not be found this morning. The door plainly shows the marks of a crowbar or some form of jimmy. An attempt was also made to force one of the rear windows open.

There was only a small amount of change in the drawer, probably about $2.50. Some gum and chocolate was taken but there is no evidence of other goods being taken. The drawers of the desk in the office were ransacked but nothing is missing from them. Among the articles taken from the cash drawer were some revenue stamps.

COURT TO LET TAXPAYERS DECIDE ON BRIDGE

The Oregon state highway commission will, as soon as possible, prepare estimates as to the cost of a wagon bridge across the Willamette river on the Lane-Linn County line at Harrisburg. On Thursday H. W. Libby, Lane County's engineer, met with Assistant State Engineer Sadler and Engineer Geddes of Linn County, to take measurements for the bridge, which will probably be erected within the next two years.

Mr. Libby said yesterday that the highway commission will make estimates of the cost of at least two types of steel bridge, on a concrete bridge, and on a wooden bridge. The measurements taken by the engineers show that the main structure would have to be 450 feet long, besides the two approaches, the one on the Harrisburg side being from 150 to 200 feet long, and the one on the Lane County side about 300 feet long, making a total of about 950 feet.

The type of concrete bridge upon which the state highway commission will figure the estimate is new, and, according to Engineer Libby, there are only one or two in the whole country at the present time. Until the last year or two, it has been considered impossible to erect a bridge of this type of concrete.

The Lane County Court members say that they are willing to assist in the building of this bridge next year or the year after next, if the taxpayers of the county desire it. They say they will not act unless the people vote for such an appropriation in the annual budget. The members of the court admit that there is a big demand for the structure, but they have decided to let the taxpayers settle the matter.—Eugene Register.

TAXES MAY BE MET IN TWO PAYMENTS

The unusual circumstances that there are two dates on which taxes become delinquent this year has given rise to many misunderstandings among the taxpayers. Charles V. Galloway, of the state tax commission, states that the law may be summed up as follows: If one-half of the taxes are paid before April 1, the taxpayer may pay the balance any time before October 1, without penalty or interest charged. If the balance is not paid before October 1, that date the second half of the taxes becomes delinquent, and to it may be added a penalty of 10 per cent and interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum. If the taxpayer does not pay one-half of his taxes before April 1, 1915, the entire amount becomes delinquent September 1, and the penalty and interest as above specified begins September 1.

By the enactment of house bill No. 471, the recent legislative assembly provided for certain changes in the manner of tax payments, to become effective in 1916. This act has nothing whatever to do with tax payments in the present year.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to express our thanks to the people of the Cottage Grove country who have rendered us such kind assistance since the recent fire that destroyed our property.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Hopman.

One stroke of a bell in a thick fog does not give any lasting impression of its location, but when followed by repeated strokes at regular intervals the densest fog or the darkest night cannot long conceal its whereabouts. Likewise a single insertion of an advertisement—as compared with regular and systematic advertising—is in its effect not unlike a sound which, heard but faintly once, is lost in space and soon forgotten.

A PAIR OF SHOESTRINGS.

The Matter of Length and How to Tie a Bowknot That Will Hold.

A shoestring is "six-fourths" long when one does not specify the length required. "Six-fourths of what?" is likely to be the question put by the layman.

When a man buys a new pair of shoes the strings in them are just long enough. When he buys the next pair of shoestrings they are too long. The strings that come with the shoes are four-fourths long, the next pair will be six-fourths unless the purchaser asks for and can get four-fourths.

These lengths have to do with men's high shoes. There is not the same trouble in the case of low shoes. Others will not wear so long, but will retain their original blackness. The strong strings that turn brown are of linen or very strong cotton. The others are of mixed fibers that hold their color.

Many people prefer the less durable shoestring, not only because it holds its color, but because being of a less hard fiber it stays tied better than the other. A few of the millions of shoestring wearers know how to tie a bowknot that won't come untied. The method can be explained without a diagram.

Instead of tucking the bow once over before drawing the knot tight, tuck it twice over. A fiddle string used for a shoestring would not come untied if the knot were made in that way. This knot can be untied in the same way as the other, by pulling at the ends.—Philadelphia Record.

TRAPPED A SEAGULL.

Queer Contest of Strength Between a Bird and a Bivalve.

At first thought it is hard to imagine how a clam could endanger the life of a bird. That such a strange circumstance is not impossible is shown by the following incident:

A settler on one of the small islands near Vancouver was returning to his home by way of a beach of hard sand when he beheld an unusually large flock of seagulls gathered in a compact mass and beating with beaks and wings upon the sand. Evidently they were attacking some enemy. Overhead dozens of gulls wheeled and screamed in evident excitement.

The settler was almost upon the fighting birds before they burst apart and flew, chattering, toward the clouds. One, however, lay flapping upon the ground, and the man saw that a monster clam held the gull's beak in a vise-like grip. It was too heavy for the bird to fly away with, and for all the gull's frantic struggles it could not loosen the clam's tenacious grip.

With his hunting knife the man pried open the shells and freed the captive. The gull was exhausted from its desperate efforts and at first could only stagger like a drunken sailor toward the water. Finally, however, it flew away and soon returned in the van of a cloud of gulls come to inspect the enemy that had trapped one of their tribe.—St. Andrews Beacon.

Lip Reading Detectives.
In a Vienna school for the deaf and dumb, where lip reading is taught, a course has been established for the special purpose of teaching the art to detectives. The possibilities of lip reading, says the author of the account in the Volta Review, have been exaggerated. But they are sufficient to cause authorities to think the instruction of detectives worth while. When a detective becomes proficient, he is able to learn something of the conversation between people who are visible, but out of earshot. The article says that at from 50 to 100 feet it is possible for an expert to get the general run of a conversation. Some reading has been done with glasses at a distance of 125 feet. Instruction and practice in the art must be very thorough if the detective is to use it to real advantage in his work.

Transforming Clothesline Posts.
A suburban resident grew tired of the wooden clothesline posts in his back yard. He incased them in chicken wire netting and planted sprouts of honeysuckle around the posts. He then nailed a little bird house to the top of each. In a short time the honeysuckle had completely covered the unsightly posts and a pair of bluebirds built a nest in one of the houses. Many of this man's neighbors took up the idea, and honeysuckle vines and bird houses now make the clothesline posts of his locality a pride to their owners.—House and Garden.
