Mrs. Clyde Umphrey entertained informally a few guests Friday evening in honor of her husband's birthday anniversary. Somerset was the diversion of the evening, after which they partook of a dainty supper. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Beidler, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Phelps and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Cochran. The guests presented Mr. Umphrey with a pretty stick pin.

The Emanuel Club met with Mrs. Lawrence Phelps Thursday afternoon. A very busy and pleasant afternoon was spent. An interesting letter from Mrs. Ben Groff, a former member, was read by the president. Mrs. A. E. Phelps was the only guest. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Frank Knox. She will have the annual Christmas tree and the members will exchange gifts.

Mrs. A. W. Kime entertained yesterday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Romaine, who is visiting here. The afternoon was spent with fancy work. There were about 30 guests and a three-course luncheon was served.

The M. P. G. Club met yesterday with Mrs. Albert Helliwell, at which time the annual Christmas tree and exchange of gifts was held. The table was prettily decorated in the form of a star. A two-course luncheon was served. Guests outside the club members were Mrs. Bukley, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Laehr and Mrs. James Porter.

Service 11 a. m., subject, "The Prince of Peace." Evening, "Christmas Carols."

FADS AND FANCIES.

An old music stool is a most useful thing to have in a small kitchen. It can be kept under the table when not in use and thus conserve space, and the ability to move around on it without getting up is delightful. Screwed up high you can do your ironing seated and put down low you can hold fruit or vegetables in your lap while peeling. If you are in a kitchenette you can twist about, getting things in every direction, and how it saves the housewife's feet. Try it and you will never again want a fixed chair.

The newest lampshades are of white lace over white silk trimming of gilt straw braid.

Handsome old brocades or cretonne in peacock design are most in favor for sofa pillows this year.

Round flat tops of asbestos may be bought for the table top or use under the cloth in place of the old-fashioned felt.

Bedroom pillows should be for use and a rest for a tired head. So they are best made out of washable materials.

Never buy spices in large quantities—they lose their flavor before you can use them up.

To clean gilt frames, molding, etc., dip a soft cloth in the beaten white of an egg and gently wipe of the spots and dirt.

Lemon juice and cayenne are excellent used in French dressing, instead of black pepper and vinegar.

Sweet-pickled apples are delicious served with meats. They may be made just as pickled peaches are.

It is a good idea to keep a piece of sandpaper over the sink to clean the pots and pans with.

Don't forget to make grape jelly—it is one of the most useful of all sweets for winter.

If you want to be sure that the bread pudding will be light, add a little baking power to it.

Use a silver knife to peel fruit and an old-fashioned porcelain kettle for boiling. Avoid the copper kettles of our grandmothers.

Peaches may be easily peeled if dipped into scalding water for a minute and then plunged into cold water. The skins slip readily.

The flavor of "home canned fruits" will be much improved if the cans are opened three hours before the fruit is needed and thus allow the fruit to breathe.

A cure for damp, moist hands is four four ounces of cologne water and one-half ounce of tincture of belladonna. Rub the hands with this several times a day.

All dishes, cups and spoons used in cooking must be placed at once in a pan of cold water.

If peaches lack flavor, crack a few of the stones and add the kernels to the syrup while the fruit is cooking. Do not put the kernels in cans when sealing, simply boil in the sirup.

If the children bite their nails, dip the ends of their fingers in a decoction of aloes.

Midgits—To three eggs, one cup of butter and one and a half cups of sugar mixed together smoothly, add one cup of seeded and chopped raisins, a little finely chopped citron, a teaspoonful each of cloves, allspice and cinnamon, and sufficient flour to make them firm enough to roll. Cut in tiny odd shapes with fancy cookie cutter and bake. These may be frosted with pistachio frosting and dusted with powdered walnuts.

TALES OF THE TOWN

H. S. Beers is up from Roseburg. Bert Richmond has bought a Ford.

Buy some good carpenter tools for the boy for Christmas and encourage his mechanical abilities. Get them at Wynne & Woods' Hardware.

J. H. Robinson sold the Depot Lunch counter last week and has since purchased Miner's restaurant.

Manager Over at Hampton's has put in an unusual Christmas window representing Crater Lake in a snow storm.

Mrs. K. K. Mills went to Eugene today. I have sold the Depot Lunch Room and have purchased Miner's restaurant, where I have put in a complete stock of goods, and where I will continue to serve patrons in the same manner as before. I solicit the business of former patrons and am desirous of having new ones also. J. H. ROBINSON, Dec 15c

Fifty-five went from here last night to attend the Gadsdi concert. A special train had been chartered for the occasion.

The bootlegging case of the State vs. Mrs. Henderson, which was to have been held yesterday, was postponed on account of the disappearance of the principal witness.

One of those dandy good coffee percolators, or a chafing dish, would just suit. See those at the Swengel Hardware store.

Dr. Oglesby is so much improved that he expects to be at the office in a few days.

Mrs. J. P. Graham visited friends in Eugene yesterday.

Mrs. J. L. Lingo and son are here from Sylva, Wash., to spend the holidays and are visiting at the home of Frank Kelly.

A good line of bracelet watches, also mantle clocks at cost. Madsen, Dec 15-22

Miss Veta Pitcher returned to Dighton yesterday after an extended visit here.

Oregon consumes 536 board feet of lumber per capita annually.

To repair spokes, tongues and reaches of broken wagons, the blacksmiths and wheelwrights of the towns and cities of Oregon and Washington used over 400,000 board feet of oak, ash, hickory, etc. The average cost per thousand board feet of this raw material was over one hundred dollars.

Eugene Buys Lighting System.

Negotiations for the purchase by the city of Eugene of the Oregon Power Company's electrical distribution system in Eugene and throughout its suburbs were completed Monday night when the city council ratified the action of the water board in entering into agreements and contracts with the Northern Idaho and Montana Power Co., owner of the plant, and the Oregon Power Co., lessee. The purchase price is to be $150,000, of which $50,000 is payable at the time of the transfer of the property, and the remainder is to be paid in monthly installments. The entire purchase price is to be paid from the revenues of the electric plant, no part of it to be paid out of the general fund of the city or by taxation against property.

Over a million and a quarter board feet of wood is used annually in the mines of Oregon for props, lagging, ties and raffle boxes.

A new process of creosoting Douglas fir has recently been developed which does not impair the strength of the timber.

In 1914 in the construction of ships and boats at the ship building yards of Oregon and Washington, nearly 13,000,000 board feet of high-grade lumber and timbers were consumed. Australian ironbark contributed 35,000 board feet to this total.

A Hard Problem Answered.

A subscriber writes: "How is a boy going to learn anything when his teacher sends him home with problems like the following: 'If it takes a four-months-old woodpecker with a rubber ball nine months and 13 days to peck a hole through a cypress log that is big enough to make 117 shingles and it takes 165 shingles to make a bunch worth 98 cents, how long will it take a cross-eyed grasshopper with a cork leg to kick all the seeds out of a dill pickle?'"

The Sentinel is asked to answer the question. The correct answer is as follows:

"If the grasshopper's cork leg is new and hasn't shrunk any, and if it is a male grasshopper who has been crossed from birth, and if the woodpecker's rubber bill was made from a worn-out automobile tire from an 1820 model Ford roustabout, and if the shingles from the cypress log have no knot holes, and if the teacher who asked the question is a paid-in-advance subscriber to The Sentinel, it would take the cross-eyed grasshopper just exactly twice as long to kick all the seeds out of a dill pickle as it would if he could do it in half the time."

In Justice to Mr. Zacharias.

The Sentinel said last week there would be no further publicity concerning the recent automobile contest, but we will overstep that promise to make the following explanation in justice to Mr. Zacharias: The Sentinel referred to several thousand votes which it was said that Mr. Zacharias got through a favor not extended anyone else. Mr. Zacharias was in Eugene the week that this occurred. He was unable to complete his report blanks in time for the count of votes that week. He knew that he would have at least a certain number of additional subscriptions to turn in, but did not know just which ones they would be. Under the circumstances the contest department accepted the money for a certain number of subscriptions, the names of which were turned in four days later. This was done because of the disadvantage he was at in being away from the city. By this favor extended him by the contest department he received quite a number of additional votes which he would not have received had the contest department demanded that the names come with the money. The following week the same favor was extended to both Mr. Zacharias and Mr. Durham. The only object The Sentinel had in making the statement that it did last week about these votes was to quiet the talk of those who had claimed that special favors would be shown to another candidate.

At the request of Mr. Zacharias the records of the contest were put in escrow for a recount of the votes that was to take place last Wednesday evening. At the time the publisher of The Sentinel explained that there several names on Mr. Durham's report blanks which he had given his word of honor that no one should see. For this reason a recounting was refused except upon a charge that there had been an error in awarding the prizes and then only by a court of authority. As there has at no time been any question of the proper awarding of the prizes, as Mr. Zacharias himself has not raised that question, there will be no recounting for that purpose, although all records of the contest were voluntarily placed in escrow to be held for any desired legal proceedings.

There will be nothing further said on our part, and this much would not have been said except in justice to one of whom we had said what might have been construed as an unfair remark.

Nature's Limit.

Fellow dropped into the office the other day and ordered the paper, and we were pleased. Said it was a good paper, and we were glad. Said it was more than worth the money to any man of intelligence, and we were tickled. Said it was the mainstay of the town, and we were superstitious. Said it was the greatest booster and developer in this whole community, and we yelled for joy. Paid for his paper—and we slid gently to the floor in blissful unconsciousness. Nature had reached its limit.—Altoona Tribune.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation of the many kindnesses extended us during the sickness and death of our husband and father.

ORDER TO PRESERVE ROADS

Court Makes Further Regulations Concerning Vehicles.

Motor vehicles with solid tires have been prohibited from operating on several more roads of Lane County during the rainy season. Following the order of the court prohibiting such vehicles from using the McKenzie highway between Thurston and Blue River, the court last week made a similar order covering seven different roads in various parts of Lane County. The same order regulating the weight of loads to be hauled in horse-driven vehicles on these roads as applied to the McKenzie highway was made.

The roads affected by this order are as follows: The river road, extending through Santa Clara, from Eugene to Junction City; the prairie road, extending east and west between Santa Clara and Irving; the side road extending east and west between a point a short distance north of Santa Clara and Irving; the main Pacific Highway between Goshen and Creswell; the main road between Pleasant Hill; the main road from Eugene to Coburg.

The weight of loads on motor vehicles with inflated tires shall not exceed 1500 pounds, and the weight of loads on horse-drawn vehicles shall be as follows: On vehicles with tires an inch and a half wide, not to exceed 1500 pounds; tires two and a half inches wide, not to exceed 2500 pounds; tires three inches wide, not to exceed 3500 pounds; and tires four inches wide, not to exceed 4500 pounds.

This order is effective until the first day of May, 1916.

THEATER MANSUES COOPER

E. M. Blackford Claims Business Was Misrepresented.

Enoch M. Blackford, a printer from Portland, claiming that he was "stung" on a deal for the purchase of The Arcade Theater at Cottage Grove, yesterday began suit in the state circuit court for Lane County against W. B. Cooper and R. G. Nixon of Cottage Grove for $2976.90 damages.

Blackford claims that the business of the theater was misrepresented to him and instead of making a nice profit every month, as he expected to make, he lost the sum of $1141.60 from June 28, 1915, the date he took over the theater, to November 19, 1915.

Blackford says he was a printer on the Morning Oregonian and was working at the rate of about $35 per week.—Eugene Register.

Mr. Blackford is employed by The Cottage Grove Sentinel.
