but of the man and boy on our streets, we, the members of the Cottage Grove Grange, desire to express to you our hearty approval of the sentiments of your recent editorial entitled: "The Saloon in the Home." Fears of the pollution of the home by the liquor traffic are insincere, unless accompanied by the approval of the banishment of that traffic from our public streets; for the liquor traffic, wherever located and by whatsoever agencies conducted, is, everywhere and always, the deadly foe of the home. And when these fears for the purity of our homes are put forward as arguments for the restoration of the saloons, they betray all too surely the source from which they emanate and the motives by which they are inspired. For that reason they are unmistakable reminders to us that our work is not yet done.
"The liquor traffic, located just beyond our borders, and operating immediately within our borders, through the agencies of the United States mails or our express companies, may be to a degree less inimical to public welfare than the saloon entrenched upon our public streets, but only to the degree measured by the restriction of its operation. So far as it operates at all, it operates to endanger and destroy, not only the home, but every man and woman exposed, either directly or indirectly, to the liability of its ravages. There is no ultimate safety for us except in its complete banishment from every foot of soil over which the American flag floats."

THERMOMETER DROPS TO 9½ ABOVE ZERO

Last night was the coldest experienced here in many years and old timers are racking their brains for a former record breaker to equal it. The thermometer dropped to 9½ above zero. Cottage Grove has heretofore escaped the extremes that have prevailed elsewhere and there has been practically no snow. There has been remarkably few frozen pipes, only twelve bursted pipes having required the attention of the plumber.

Rev. J. C. Richardson Dies
Rev. J. C. Richardson, a pioneer Baptist minister of this valley, died in Salem Saturday at the age of 83 years. He was born in Franklin county, Mo., Feb. 8, 1832, and came to Oregon in 1846.

Rev. Richardson was one of the most forceful speakers of the old school of ministers of the early days in Oregon, and he was known from one end of the state to the other as a most successful evangelist, although his principal field of labor was in the southern part of the Willamette valley and in the Umpqua valley.

Mrs. Hannah Deets Dies.

Mrs. Hannah Woolley Deets died January 13 at the age of 68 years, after an illness of 10 weeks. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon, Rev. H. N. Aldrich officiating. Interment was in I. O. O. F. cemetery.

Hannah Woolley was born in Knox county, Ill., April 2, 1848. She was married to Louis S. Deets Sept. 10, 1874, at Rio, Ill. They lived in Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska. Mrs. Deets came to California about 15 years ago, to Oregon about 10 years ago and to Cottage Grove 5 years ago. Seven of nine children survive. They are: Mrs. Minnie Heidenreich, Los Angeles; Fred J. Deets, Lafayette, Ore.; Mrs. Lilly M. Perkins, Omaha; Mrs. Annie Andrews, James Garfield, Roy L. and Harry K. Deets, all of Kearney, Neb. Fred J. and Harry were present at the funeral. Two sisters and four brothers survive. They are: Mrs. Mary Weech, Galesburg, Ill.; Mrs. Harriet McIntyre, San Dimas, Calif.; Elijah Woolley, Long Beach, Calif.; David Woolley and Chas. Woolley of Cottage Grove.

Supreme Court Reverses Case.

The supreme court has reversed the case of Max Lueddenmann, Ernest Lueddenmann and R. B. Raley, doing business as Lueddenmann, Raley and company, against William Rudolf, in which the plaintiffs won a decision in the circuit court for Lane county for the recovery of a real estate commission of $1000, together with 60 interest and costs and disbursements. H. E. Slattery, attorney for Rudolf, who lives near Lorane, appealed the case and was notified recently that the lower court had been reversed. The plaintiffs claimed they sold a place of 1440 acres in the state of Washington owned by Rudolf for $25 and acre. They claimed $1000 as commission on the sale, but the supreme court held that the plaintiff's contract of employment was insufficient under the statutes of frauds and the plaintiffs could not recover.

Civil War Veteran Is Dead.

Lorane, Ore., Jan. 18.—Samuel Harris died suddenly Sunday, Jan. 16, at 4:30 a. m., at his home on Fawn Creek, aged 69 years, two months and 11 days. He leaves a widow and two daughters, Rose and Ruth, one son and brother in the east. He moved with his family here from Eugene two years ago.

Mr. Harris was confined to his bed only a few days and on Saturday seemed much better, but took suddenly worse in the night and passed away before help arrived.

Mr. Harris served as a soldier during the Civil war. The funeral was held Tuesday at 1 o'clock at the I. O. O. F. cemetery.

School Now Over 600.

The attendance in the public schools has now passed the 600 mark, the enrollment now being 606, the largest ever recorded here at this time of the year. If the enrollment continues to increase as it usually does, the enrollment will reach 640 by the end of the year.

Thermometer Way Down in California.

Mrs. W. G. Van Riper writes from Westwood, Calif.:
"To appreciate real winter you should be here. The snow is almost up to the second sash on the window and the icicles are so thick on the house that they look like one solid cake of ice. Yesterday morning the thermometer registered 10 below zero. It was some cold too."

Sues on Promissory Note.

Eugene Register: Sarah L. Harmes filed suit in the circuit court, late Saturday afternoon, against L. F. Woolley, in which she alleges $5490 is due her from the defendant. The plaintiff recites that the defendant signed a prom-

Who Would Like to Learn to Operate Typesetting Machine ?

The Sentinel is desirous of learning if there are any in the Cottage Grove country who are desirous of learning to operate a typesetting machine. The profession, when learned, is one of the most remunerative of those not included in the learned professions. Salaries for operators in the cities run from $21 a week up to as high as $40 a week. Usually there are many who would like to learn such a profession. This is one that is not likely to become overcrowded. An ability to spell and a natural inclination towards handling machinery is desirable. If there are a sufficient number to make it worth while The Sentinel may arrange a school of instruction.

isory note, dated Feb. 3, 1911. It is alleged that interest has been paid annually but only $10 has been paid towards the original note. Attorney fees of $75 is asked.

Circuit Court Jurors.

The following are jurors from this end of the county for the February term of court:
Cottage Grove—Emmett Sharp, Geo. McQueen, James Lebow, James Linebaugh, John Veatch, D. B. Burton, Fred Beidler, Wm. M. Medley, M. M. Wheeler, Geo. O. Knowles, W. McFarland, O. E. Woodson.
Saginaw—M. C. Horn, J. L. Queen, J. E. Hill.
London—J. W. Bemis, J. E. Banton, G. A. Small, John W. Massey.
Lorane—E. E. Hoffman, W. W. Jackson, Edmund S. Addison, Herbert M. Doty.
Dorena—N. A. Bales.
Divide—J. W. Hawley.
Disston—L. W. Hunt.

Train schedules have been somewhat disrupted during the past week on account of storms, through trains being the most affected. Service from Portland this way has been little affected. Deep snows in the northern California passes have caused loss of time.

Jayhawkers! Attention!
All those who were formerly fortunate enough to be residents of Kansas, known to fame and other things as the Jayhawker State, which said persons, have since been still more fortunate in becoming residents of Oregon, and are now full-fledged webfoots, or about to become such, are hereby notified that the annual Jayhawker reunion and basket feed, than which no better are ever served in this or any other community, will be held at 6:30 Tuesday evening, Jan. 25, in W. O. W.-K. P. hall. Those who do not attend will have only themselves to blame if they go hungry for the coming year. An ambulance corps has been provided for the occasion. Don't forget your baskets.
