SILK CREEK
(Special to The Sentinel.)
Jan. 18.—Mrs. Jennie Walker came out Friday from Cottage Grove.
Mrs. M. F. Babcock has been ill the past week but is better.
Messrs. O. Heinie and W. W. Gildersleeve were in the Grove Friday.
Sherril Slagle came over from Lorane the last of the week.
The Rev. Abbott of Eugene spoke at the Methodist church Sunday at 2:30 p. m.
S. Burcham and Carl Slagle were Cottage Grove visitors Saturday.
Harry Williams of Disston was visiting the first of the week at the home of L. L. Woolley.
January 16 was the eleventh birthday of Edith Wheeler. Lola and Cora Wilson were invited to spend the day at the Wheeler home in honor of the event and the three little girls enjoyed themselves very much.
The young people were enjoying the snow the first of the week and also the coasting.
Miss Pearl Ashby returned Friday from a visit to Mrs. Ralph Lynch of Lorane.

LORANE
(Special to The Sentinel.)
Jan. 18.—G. M. Bailey and daughter visited in the Grove Friday.
Rev. Dr. Abbott was a visitor here Saturday, preaching on Sunday forenoon and going to Silk Creek for the afternoon service.
Frank Davis, who hauled some freight over on Thursday, found the snow deep enough to be troublesome on the mountain road.
Wild birds are in some distress from the continued cold spell and gather in great numbers wherever anyone puts out some food for them.

NAME THE FARM AND HAVE A LETTER HEAD

It Pays, Says Dean Morton, and It Pays to Advertise, Too, When There's Farm Stuff to Sell.

The Oregon farmer can swell his annual receipts by using good printing and by occasional advertising in the weeklies of his county, says D. W. Morton, dean of the new school of commerce of the University of Oregon.

A farm letter head should carry the name of the farm, the name of the owner, the location of the farm, and perhaps a small picture of some feature of the place, says Dean Morton, who regards the farmer as a business man with a substantial investment upon which he should make every effort to pay interest.

"It gives a farmer a certain business standing if he has a neat letterhead of good stock, and it improves the value of his farm to have a name and something of an individuality," he said. "There is some initial expense in having a picture taken and a cut made, but the publisher of the nearest country paper will attend to the details and afterward will do the printing reasonably. "If the farmer raises high class animals, his letter head may contain a picture of a prize animal with its record; or if he has a stock farm, a picture of a bunch of stock; or if he has the best house or barn in the neighborhood, a picture of that; or a picture of a grove or stream is usually effective on stationery. There are a few Oregon farms not worth naming, and few that do not provide something worth a permanent picture.

"Advertising rates are very low in Oregon country papers, and a farmer at a cost of from 10 to 50 cents may often sell a horse, a second-hand machine, or some other thing about the place he does not need, by putting a small advertisement in his weekly paper. "A farmer's advertising should of course conform to the best advertising standards; it should be very definite and absolutely truthful."

FINE PROGRAMS PLENDILY RENDERED

Probably the most enjoyable entertainment of the season was that given at the high school Friday evening by Ora Read Hemenway's class in elocution assisted by a number of others. Every number was splendidly rendered and roundly applauded by a large audience.

The complete program was as follows:
Piano Solo—Grande Pokka de Concert—Homer N. Bartlett—Genevieve Jury.
Uncle Josh and the Insurance Agent—(The human phonograph) W. Almond Hemenway.
Reading—An Indian Legend—Bertha Stephens.
Male Quartet—Out on the Deep—Lohr—Messrs. Richmond, Aldrich, Mackin, Umphrey.
Reading—A Book Agent—Eunice VanDenburg.
Vocal Solo—My Heart at Thy Dear Voice—Saint Saens—Mrs. Leon Des Larzes.

Pantomime—Tragedy of the Ganges—Characters:
Solo parts: Ruby Hendry, Lala Walker, Bertha Stephens.
Maidens: Maude Doyle, La Villa Buel, Pearl Whitley, Ruth Jorgenson.
Reader—Mary Bartells.

Quartet—Bring Back My Love O'er the Sea—Shattuck—Messrs. Richmond, Aldrich, Mackin, Umphrey.

A Patron of Art (Farce in One Act)—Cast of Characters:
Mrs. Agusta Alexandra Morley, (a member of forty-two clubs,) Eunice VanDenburg.

Genevieve Morley, (her daughter,)—Hazel Dumont, (a music teacher,) Carrie Woods.

Theresa Blumenshenkel, (Mrs. Morley's cousin-in-law,) Caroline Schilling.
Miss Ernestine Money Clacker Rittenhouse, (from below Market St.,) Bertha Stephens.

Marie, (her Maid,) Helen Rodolph.
Bridget, (of Irish descent,) Janet Davidson.

Tom Morley, (Mrs. Morley's son,) Robert Jones.
A butler, Neal McDonald.

Good Night, Ross McFarland.

Former Residents at Post.
The following items concern former residents now living in Eastern Oregon:

Post, Ore., Jan. 14.—(To The Sentinel.)—In a letter received by Mrs. Morris, Mrs. L. D. Beck of Woodstock, Ill., writes that the climate of the Willamette valley is far ahead of that of Illinois.

Annie Steel is attending the University of Chicago. Martha and Norman are in high school. Norman was in his first debate recently on the affirmative for woman's suffrage. His side won.

Mrs. Margaret Martin, formerly of Creswell, writes that she and her adopted son, Ray Cleavers, are spending the winter in New York City, the latter studying vocal culture, preparing to teach.

Joe Watkins and wife left here Thursday for the Valley. Joe is nursing frozen fingers and toes acquired while driving stage during 14 below zero weather. He was in this country in 1875. He has enough of Central Oregon to do him the rest of his life.

People here are trapping and poisoning rabbits by the thousands. They are trapped by fencing the stacks and leaving it so they can get in. One man caught 265 in one night. They are shipped from some localities to Portland's poor.

Have not heard of any rabid coyotes for months.

Much deep snow. Webb Dunn would not much more than "chin" it.

Old settlers say this is an unusual winter. We could find our spring only by sticking up a pole out of the snow drift.

Almost everyone is suffering from grip in these parts.

School at Post is not over crowded, there being five pupils, one girl and four boys.

Dave Rissue is falling timber and bucking logs at C. R. Henry's mill.

Ben Groff is bucking hay off the west end of his stack. Ben's got to be a real expert in handling hay hardware.

George Knox is making final proof on his homestead this week.

Grant Allen made a trip to Prineville Friday.

Willard Moss is spending the winter at Grays Harbor, Wash. He thinks Central Oregon beats that country two to one.

The Kellem boys of Eugene, well known in Cottage Grove, are holding meetings at Prineville.

People here welcome the snow and wish for more as insuring crops and grass next year. Thus far more than usual has fallen in addition to two very rainy days earlier in the winter.

Road Supervisors Named.
The county road has named the following supervisors in this section: District 13, J. C. Wright; No. 14, Warren Kelly; No. 15, Edward Tullar; No. 17, R. C. Gleason; No. 56, W. W. Hawley; No. 57, O. E. Crow; No. 68, Emmet Sharp; No. 69, Curtis Veatch; No. 76, Finley Whippis.

TAKE THIS MAN'S ADVICE TRY THE GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY

It always gives me pleasure to recommend anything that is right and so I feel it my duty to herald the praises of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

For years I was troubled with kidney disease and it was so intense that I was bedridden for days at a time. I gave up all hope and doctors for miles around gave me no help. Incidentally I tried several patent remedies and at last tried Swamp-Root. From the first it gave me relief and it was no time before I was able to be up and around and now I am perfectly well and able to work as I used to before my terrible sickness.

No now let me thank you for your wonderful discovery and take this opportunity to recommend it to all who suffer from kidney troubles.

Yours very truly,
WALTER SHIVER,
317 N. Main St., Hope, Ark.
Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 25th day of March, 1912.
