FRANK HENDERSON FOUND NOT GUILTY

Is Acquitted on Bootlegging Charge by Jury in Circuit Court at Eugene.

Frank Henderson was acquitted in circuit court last week on the charge of bootlegging. This was Mr. Henderson's first trial, but Mrs. Henderson has been on trial three times. A jury in justice court found her guilty and two juries at Eugene disagreed.

In the trial of Henderson an effort was made by the defense in the trial to impeach the testimony of C. T. Hanners, who was employed to obtain testimony against Henderson. A number of people of Junction City, where Hanners lives, gave testimony to the effect that he could not be believed. Other witnesses for the state were George Mote, G. B. Pitcher, J. M. Parker and A. J. Kaiser, and for the defendant, Frank Woodruff, J. J. Darnielle, Forrest Miller, J. G. Pitts, N. J. Bryant, J. R. Turnbow and W. Woodard testified.

The jury in the case consisted of the following: George B. Camp, P. P. Colgaard, Chas. Acheson, Ira Calef, Walter Edmiston, G. W. Allison, T. C. DeVaney, Clare Lee, James Horn, George I. Dean, Lawrence Heitzman and F. H. Needham.

ROAD MEN SAY CROSSINGS MOST DANGEROUS

The railroad crossings between here and Walker were characterized as the most dangerous in the state by State Engineer John H. Lewis, County Surveyor Hollis W. Libby, Road Supervisor McKy and Abe Gilbert, who were here Friday inspecting the piece of work being done at Divide. These men expressed the doubt, however, that funds could be secured to eliminate these crossings this year.

BOND ELECTION IS ASKED

Petitions Being Circulated for an Issue of $700,000.

Petitions asking for a special election in Lane county for the purpose of bonding the county for the sum of $700,000 to build a hard-surfaced road from Cottage Grove, near the southern boundary of the county, to the northern boundary between Junction and Monroe, are in circulation.

W. J. Sheridan, Eugene manager of the Warren Construction company, the paving company that has laid several miles of Eugene's street pavement and has paved many miles of country roads in Multnomah, is circulating the petitions, and he says he has already obtained a large number of signatures. He started out with the petitions only Monday.

The Eugene chamber of commerce, at its last meeting, tabled a resolution in favor of the bonding proposition, but notwithstanding this action, Mr. Sheridan says he believes a large number of citizens of the city are in favor of the proposition. He argues that the building of a paved road through the county will result in the expenditure of most of the money here and that it will mean more money in circulation and more money for the laboring man.

The petitions state that the bonds, if issued, would be payable in 10 equal installments of $70,000 each, the first payable five years after their issuance, and the others each year thereafter, the last being paid 14 years from date of issuance.

The distance proposed to be covered by this paved road is 40 miles, according to Mr. Sheridan.
