DRESS UP WEEK AT EUGENE

Merchants of County Seat Have Joined in Nation Wide Movement.

Eugene's first Dress Up Week will begin Monday, April 3, and continue until Saturday night. The merchants of that city are behind the movement and are making great preparations for this event.

On the above dates Eugene will be "dressed up" for the occasion and the various stores will have exceptionally fine displays of spring merchandise. Make your plans to go to Eugene for Dress Up week and you will be well repaid.

The Reason for Dress Up Week. The Dress Up idea grew out of the fact that with the coming of the war in Europe the American people lost something of their confidence and, because they did not know what effect the situation would have upon the American industries, a large portion of the American public at once entered upon a course of rigid economy. When people set out to economize, one of the first things they do is to cut down on what they usually spend for clothes.

The war in Europe brought prosperity to Americans and when this prosperity had advanced to such a point that it needed only something to crystallize in the public mind the fact that this country was prosperous, the Dress Up campaign was launched. The Dress Up propaganda of last fall urged Americans to open their eyes and look at the situation as it was. To feel confidence in American prosperity and in the soundness of our industries and then to express that optimism and confidence by wearing the better clothes that they now could afford to wear, but which, through their uncertainty, many of them had refrained from buying.

The Dress Up movement aims to make the public realize how much of one's success and happiness in life, under our present social system, really depends upon our wearing of the right sort of clothes. It emphasizes the psychological effect of clothes not only on those with whom we come in business and social contact but upon the wearer. And yet the Dress Up idea is not in any sense a bid for snobbery. Remember the dates, April 3 to 8. Be sure and visit Eugene. We bid you welcome.

Has a Kick.
At Washington, internal revenue officers have been investigating a drink recipe which figured in a North Carolina moonshine case. Two moonshiners got into a quarrel with the result that one informed the authorities of what was doing at the still. At the trial the recipe for the latest North Carolina temperance tippie, called white-lightning, was brought out. The recipe consists of one bushel of corn meal, 100 pounds of sugar, two boxes of lye, four plugs of tobacco, four pounds of poke-root berries, two pounds of soda. Water to measure and distill. This will produce 14 gallons of the "third-trail liquor, sub," two drinks of which "would make a rabbit spit in a bulldog's eye."—Hemet (Calif.) News.

Rags Becoming Precious.
"Save your waste paper and rags," is the warning sent out by the department of commerce, Washington, D. C., to commercial organizations throughout the country.

It is urged that because of the shortage of paper-making materials in this country, due to the impossibility of importing either rags or paper pulp in war time, it is necessary for the paper materials in the United States that materials formerly wasted be saved.

Covering the cook books with paraffin paper will keep them in good condition and at the same time allow the lettering on the back and sides to show. Besides looking neat, the books will be so well protected that they will last longer.

PRESIDENT WARNS AGAINST RUMORS

Formal Statement Issued to Reiterate That Mexico is Not Being Invaded.

Washington.—President Wilson issued a warning that "sinister and unscrupulous influences" are spreading alarmist reports about the Mexican situation with the object of forcing intervention by the United States "in the interests of certain American owners of Mexican properties."
In a formal statement the president told the people of the United States to be on guard and not to credit such stories. He urged those who disseminate news to test the source and authenticity of every report from the border, and called attention again to the government's announcement that the sole object of the punitive expedition now in Mexico was to punish Villa and his followers.

The news services supplying newspapers had been asked, the president said, to assist in keeping this view constantly before the Mexican and the American people, to the end that the expedition should not take on the color of war.

The purpose of the American commanders was described as embracing co-operation "in every possible way" with the forces of General Carranza, and withdrawal from Mexican territory as soon as the object of the expedition is accomplished.

The president solemnly warned the people "that there are persons all along the border who are actively engaged in originating and giving as wide currency as they can to rumors of the most sensational and disturbing sort which are wholly unjustified by the facts."

Official Data Awaited on Sussex Case. Official information on which President Wilson will decide whether the sinking of the Englishman and the damaging by an explosion of the channel steamer Sussex were the result of acts in violation of international law is being gathered from every available source by consular representatives of the United States in England and in France.

Information regarding the Sussex, which had been received, did not, high officials said, convince them that the vessel was the victim of submarine attack.

Should either the Sussex or the Englishman have been torpedoed the United States would consider the act to be a most flagrant violation of the rights of humanity, the principles of international law and the broad assurances regarding the conduct of submarine warfare which have been given by the German government. There is no evidence, or even a suggestion, that either of the ships was armed, so no defense could be offered on that score.

Hay Army Measure Passes House.
The Hay army reorganization bill was passed by the house by a vote of 402 to 2. The vote placed the house on record for increased national defense.

As it was passed by the house the Hay bill provided:
A regular army of 140,000 men, an increase of 20,000 over the present authorized strength. A federalized militia of 420,000 men under the control of the federal government. A system of reserves, recruited from retiring members of both the regular army and the militia. A reserve officers' corps of 50,000 recruited from graduates of military schools under federal supervision. Federal pay for officers and enlisted men of the national guard.

Authority for the president and secretary of war to make plans for the mobilization of the industrial resources of the country is provided for.

ALLIES HOLD CONFERENCE

Every Nation Aligned Against Germany Represented.
Paris.—The most important conference of the entente allies since the outbreak of the war began at Paris Monday under the presidency of Premier Briand. The premiers of Great Britain, Italy, Belgium and Serbia participated.

The British foreign secretary, Sir Edward Grey; the secretary for war, Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, and the commander of the continental forces, General Sir Douglas Haigh; the French commander-in-chief, General Joffre, and the Italian general, Cadorna, also held seats at the council table. Russia is represented by the foreign minister, M. Iswolsky, and General Giliensky, aide-de-camp to the emperor; Japan by the Japanese ambassador at Paris.

Wilson's Second Granddaughter Born.
Philadelphia.—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bowes Sayre here. She is the second granddaughter of President Wilson, and will be named Eleanor Axson Sayre, for Mrs. Sayre's mother. Mother and child were reported as doing well.

ham, and to his seed forever." Not long after Zacharias gave utterance to the Benedictus: "Blessed be the Lord God of Israel; for He hath visited and redeemed his people, and hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David;

As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began: That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us;

To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant; The oath which he sware to our father Abraham, That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve Him without fear,

In holiness and righteousness before Him, all the days of our life. And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest; for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare His ways;

To give knowledge of salvation unto His people by the remission of their sins. Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the dayspring from on high hath visited us,

To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace."

The third was the angel's song: "Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

The fourth one was the prayer and prophecy of Simeon when he saw the world's Redeemer: Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:

For mine eyes have seen thy salvation, Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people; A light to lighten the Gentiles and the glory of Thy people Israel."

B. F. Keeney County Assessor Rests on His Record

I regret that my opponent thought it necessary in his announcement to resort to insinuations against my integrity and ability, and the manner in which he drags Sheriff Parker in and uses him as a shield behind which to fight, is nothing short of an outrage. He would have it appear that Mr. Parker had joined with him in opposing my candidacy, when the truth is, so Mr. Parker states, my opponent nor no other person was authorized to quote him as making such a statement as published.

The facts are, Mr. Parker has no adequate means of knowing the relative cost of collecting taxes as between the old way and the present system, for he has just commenced for the first time the collection by the new system, and even when the year is closed, he can only approximate the difference, if any, for the reason that the tax collecting department is not wholly separated from the other departments of the office, but in the Assessor's office the relative cost of the two ways of assessing the county and preparing the assessment and tax rolls, can be determined, and the result stands emphatically in favor of the geographical by several hundred dollars.

Mr. Parker is the first tax collector to attempt to collect taxes as contemplated by the new system. He has assembled the taxpayers' descriptions on one statement when possible to do so, and, from all indications, the taxpayers are generally satisfied with the results. It will probably be as predicted by his letter which he sent out with the tax statements, from which I quote the following:

"I believe with the co-operation of yourself and other taxpayers, this new system will be a decided improvement over the old method and greatly lessen the cost of making the collections."

My opponent may go on and attack me and my administration if he chooses. He has served about the same length of time that I have served as Assessor. He has a record. I have a record. I submit mine as my bid for re-election. Pd. adv. BEN. F. KENNEY.
