The car bumped the rear end of the caboose and unloaded part of its load into the caboose, frightening passengers considerably.

There was no damage except to the gravel car.

DEVERS NATIONALLY KNOWN.

Reputation of Lane County Prosecutor Has Traveled Far.

J. M. Devers is known throughout the United States as being a potent factor in Oregon's enforcement of the prohibition law, according to R. P. Hutton, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Oregon, who has returned from a two months' visit in thirty-three of the eastern states.

"I received many inquiries regarding J. M. Devers," said Mr. Hutton. "Mr. Devers, W. H. Evans, district attorney of Multnomah county, George M. Brown, attorney-general, and Moses Alexander, governor of Idaho, are as familiar names to the prohibitionists throughout the east as are the names of Christy Mathewson and Ty Cobb to the base ball world."

"Oregon's 36,000 dry majority and Lane county's 4,000 dry majority and Cottage Grove's three to one also Eugene's three to one for the dries together with the reports of successful liquor prosecutions have put Lane county on the map everywhere with publicity that was absolutely free."

"I met the heads of three immense firms whose business is founded almost entirely upon advertising. Singularly, every one of them remarked upon the valuable publicity Lane county was getting free and complimented the efficiency of the executive and prosecuting officers who made this possible."

"It was indeed a surprise to hear a New England business man call Mr. Devers by name and wish him success."

"I think it is safe to say that Lane county's record vote for prohibition is the best ad the county ever had and that the aggressive efficiency of prose-
