WALKER RESIDENTS OBJECT TO HIGHWAY CHANGE

Remonstrance Petition Is Presented to County Court Regarding Railroad Crossings.

Fred Wright and other Walker residents appeared before members of the county court Monday and presented a remonstrance to the proposed change in the Pacific highway between Eugene and Cottage Grove. The county court recently ordered a survey to be made of this road with the purpose of eliminating the dangerous railroad crossings.

Mr. Wright claims the expense of building the new road does not justify the county in expending the amount necessary to make the change as proportional advantages will not be gained. Members of the county court and others who are familiar with the road in question, say practically all of the danger will be abolished if the new road is constructed. They say they do not believe the county should stop for expense when human life is endangered. County Surveyor Hollis Libby said today no actual data on the cost of constructing this road had been compiled as yet. He said, however, about three miles of road would be built if the change is made.

MAIL CAR COMES INTO CITY ON TWO WHEELS

Newspaper Reporter and Photographer Rushed to Scene of the Supposed Wreck.

The Sentinel received a telephone message the other day to hurry out the London road with a photographer and get the details and pictures of a terrible automobile accident. Official Photographer Armstrong was quickly located and C. A. Bartell and his Saxon Six were impressed into service and in a few moments the entire party was speeding towards the scene of the supposed wreck at 60 miles an hour or less. About a mile out the Blackmore & McFarland truck was found speeding to town with an unusual load. With its fore end tied into the rear of the truck and riding on the two rear wheels, was the London fast mail car, F. A. Clow, owner. Mr. Clow was riding in his car at the steering gear as calm as a cucumber and apparently wondering what there was out of the ordinary in the way his car was being brought into the city. Official photographs were taken by Mr. Armstrong. Nothing had happened except that the transmission had refused to work.

SAYS WE'RE AT MERCY OF INVADING ARMIES

Major of U. S. Army Thinks We're Conceded Though Courageous Nation.

"Preparedness" was the subject of an address by Major U. G. McAlexander, U. S. A., commandant of cadets at Oregon Agricultural College, who spoke at the commercial club Friday night. While the speaker was of necessity restrained from making comments on the great war in Europe, he was able to so frame his remarks that the audience could easily see the defenceless condition we would be in should this country become involved with any of the stronger powers. For instance, he stated that England would have no difficulty in landing sufficient forces on our eastern shores to practically take possession of that entire portion in sixty days; Germany could do the same thing in ninety days and Japan would have an easy matter with the west coast, for she could clear the Pacific of our ships and land four times the number of men who would be found opposing them in the same time.

Major McAlexander said we were most conceited nation when it came to talking of military strength. He stated that we had never faced disciplined troops, except once during the Spanish war, and our foreign wars were with minor powers. He did not underestimate our courage or resources but stated that all this would not avail if there was no preparation, for wars in these times come with startling suddenness, and the trend of his excellent address was for the American people to wake up and get ready, for we are standing on uncertain ground.

The major has been sent out by the war department to tell the people in different parts of the country the facts regarding the actual position we are in to resist an enemy.

He spoke at the high school auditorium in the afternoon.

FIREMEN SAY RUBBISH SHOULD BE REMOVED

Eighty Per Cent of Fires in Cincinnati Originated from Trash of Some Kind.

The Cottage Grove fire department is continuing its fight on combustible rubbish and trash which are not alone unhealthy but form fire traps. At their meeting Monday night the firemen recommended that during clean up and paint week all rubbish of this nature be removed and unsightly buildings razed. The annual report of the fire department of Cincinnati showed that over 80 per cent of the fires in that city originated in rubbish or trash of some kind. Those noticing fire traps of any kind have been requested to report to the chief or captain in their district.

A beautifully illustrated folder "Four Gateways to the Pacific Coast" has just been issued by the passenger department of the Southern Pacific. This folder gives a general description of the Southern Pacific routes to the Pacific coast through Portland, Ogden, El Paso, and New Orleans. The new folder is printed in orange and black. It's whole arrangement and design should make a strong appeal to the tourist, and should produce beneficial results to the Pacific northwest. The publication is to be given wide distribution throughout the east. Copies can be obtained by addressing John M. Scott, general passenger agent, Southern Pacific, Portland, Oregon.

WAS FAVORITE HYMN OF HER HUSBAND

The hymn this week is the second submitted by a woman. It is submitted by Mrs. Orrin Robinson because it was the favorite of her husband, who died a year or so ago. It is as follows:

There comes to my heart one sweet strain,
A glad and a joyous refrain,
I sing it again and again,
Sweet peace, the gift of God's love.

Chorus:
Peace, peace, sweet peace,
Wonderful gift from above.
O wonderful, wonderful peace,
Sweet peace, the gift of God's love.

By Christ on the cross peace was made,
My debt by his death was all paid,
No other foundation is laid
For peace, the gift of God's love.

When Jesus as Lord I had crowned,
My heart with this peace did abound,
In him the rich blessing I found,
Sweet peace, the gift of God's love.

In Jesus for peace I abide,
And as I keep close to his side
There's nothing but peace doth betide,
Sweet peace, the gift of God's love.

Plenty of Jobs.

North Douglas Herald: M. R. Ryan was in town the fore part of this week looking for ten or twelve men to work for the Leona Mills Lumber Company. He was offering two dollars per day and up, and how many men do you suppose he got? Just two at the last hearing. On all sides we hear the cry of hard times, not enough work for the laboring men of the country, yet here is an instance where there is more work than there is help. We want it known that there is plenty of work in and around Drain, so if any man is out of work he cannot give the excuse that there is nothing to do.

COUNTY CLERK IS MAD.

contained therein, shows that it is the product of a contemptible, narrow and diseased brain, and in order to give your readers an idea of its latitude, I demand that you publish both your demand and this reply in full.

STACY M. RUSSELL,
County Clerk.

We regret very much that Mr. Russell demanded the publication of his letter.

In the first place it shows that we lied when we said that he is always amiable and cordial.

In the next place we had no desire to bring ridicule upon Mr. Russell. In his own letter, however, he himself does what we did not desire to do.

The registry receipt returned to us is signed by a deputy in the office. We wonder if the clerk's office is supplied with a deputy to receive the mail.

In his reply to our letter Mr. Russell talks very much like a man would talk caught with the goods on. He ululates much like a well known resident of Illinois did just before being ousted from the United States senate. Something has got under his hide.

Mr. Russell thinks we have been unfair to him—at least he says that. We have said but a small part of the things we might have said—but a small part of the things others are saying.

For example, when we made it known that only two print shops were permitted to bid on the county ballots, that these two were told that they had better get together and that the price paid under such circumstances was more than $200 higher than it should be, several taxpayers suggested that there must be graft somewhere.

We would say to Mr. Russell now that by absolutely refusing to be bound by the instructions of the taxpayers of the county, that by absolutely refusing to let any but print shops in the county seat have a chance at the printing he lays himself open to such a suspicion. To those who have made such a suggestion to us we have defended Mr. Russell. We haven't the slightest idea that he is guilty of anything of the kind; but Mr. Russell should instruct his deputies to so conduct the office that it will not be open to such a suspicion.

Two years ago Mr. Russell was bitterly attacked. The Sentinel received for publication a letter making some grave charges against Mr. Russell. We had but one issue before the primary election. We wrote the author of the letter that it would not be fair to Mr. Russell to give it publication unless Mr. Russell be permitted to reply in the same issue. We would like to ask Mr. Russell now if our conduct at that time was "the product of a contemptible, narrow and diseased brain?"

In January The Sentinel was named one of the official papers. Shortly afterwards the county clerk gave to the Eugene Guard, which was not an official paper, the publication of the financial statement of the county officers. We took the matter up with the district attorney; he rendered his opinion that the publication should have come to The Sentinel. We went to Mr. Russell, showed him the opinion of the district attorney and demanded the copy, in accordance with the law. What did he do? He asked his chief deputy what he should do. What did his chief deputy tell his superior to do? He told him to disregard the district attorney's opinion—in other words, to disregard the law—and to pay the fine imposed for such violation, as that would be cheaper.

We might have asked Mr. Russell what kind of a deal he had made with a democratic newspaper that he would go so far as to disobey the law in order to do the paper a favor.

We might also have asked Mr. Russell if he always disregards the law when so instructed by his deputies.

We might also ask Mr. Russell if he has ever heard that old saw to the effect that "those whom the gods would destroy they first make mad." There is but one thing apparent from Mr. Russell's letter—that is that he is good and mad.

We would say to Mr. Russell that it is immaterial to us what he says about us. All we want is a square deal for the taxpayer, and if abuse of us will bring that highly desirable result about we will be entirely satisfied.

Mr. Russell has said that the attack upon his office is making him votes. Then why the letter quoted above?

HANDY HUSBAND.

Knew How to Get Part of the Breakfast

"I know one dish I can prepare for breakfast as well as any cook on earth," said my husband one morning when the cook was ill and he had volunteered to help get breakfast. He appeared with his dish and I discovered it was Grape-Nuts which, of course, was easy to prepare for it was perfectly cooked at the factory, but it was a good illustration of the convenience of having Grape-Nuts about.

"We took up Grape-Nuts immediately after returning from a five years' sojourn in a hot country. Our stomachs were in bad condition and we were in poor health generally.

"In a day or two we liked Grape-Nuts better than any other kind of food on the table. We both gained steadily in health and strength, and this was caused by Grape-Nuts and Postum.

"A friend of ours had a similar experience. She was seriously ill with indigestion and could find nothing to eat that would not give her heartburn and palpitation, especially at night.

"She found that a small dish of Grape-Nuts with cream made her a satisfactory supper and gave her a comfortable night's rest. In a short time she gained several pounds in weight."

"There's a Reason." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest. apr12only
