Mrs. Elbert Bede entertained the Emunion club and a few other friends in honor of Mrs. Elbert Smith Thursday afternoon at her home on Jefferson street. The afternoon was spent in conversation and fancy work. Mrs. Bert Trask and Mrs. E. W. Armes favored the company with vocal music, accompanied by Miss Weirley. Refreshments were served in two courses. Mrs. Lawrence Phelps will entertain the club next week.

Times, Marshfield: Friends have been apprised of the approaching wedding of Miss Elsie Baker and Mr. Fred Hill, both of Marshfield, which will take place in June. Miss Baker's home is in Cottage Grove, but for the last year or two she has resided in Marshfield, and has won a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Mr. Hill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill of Hall avenue, and is well known and liked by his many friends.

The Constellation club will hold a business meeting Thursday in Masonic hall, at which time election of officers will be held.

Little Miss Ruth Griswold is entertaining a number of her little friends this afternoon in honor of her birthday anniversary.

The Monday Evening club met Monday night with Mrs. C. H. Beals. The evening was spent with sewing and light refreshments were served.

The M. W. A. and R. N. A. lodges held a big social gathering last Wednesday evening. The Woodmen joined the women after R. N. A. lodge and the time was spent in playing "500," after which a bouillotte "feed" was served by the Royal Neighbors.

The faculty and seniors of the high school held an enjoyable picnic yesterday evening at Currin bridge.

Members of the Christian church held a social afternoon Monday at the C. F. Walker home in honor of Mrs. Walker's sister, Mrs. W. R. Short, who was about to leave for California, after a six months' visit. A miscellaneous shower was given Mrs. Short and after a busy afternoon of social chat and amusement she was crowned queen of the May, the day being May 1. About twenty were present and dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. A. B. Wood entertained yesterday afternoon at a mid-day dinner in honor of the eighty-fifth birthday anniversary of Mr. Wood's mother. The guests were the women of the neighborhood of the same age. The guests were taken home by Mr. Wood after dinner in his car. Mrs. Wood is still spry of mind and body at her advanced age.

The Social Twelve club met Thursday with Mrs. Will Hall and spent the afternoon with the usual fancy work. Mrs. G. A. Over and Mrs. McAdams were guests. A dainty luncheon was served.

Members of the Eastern Star were pleasantly entertained Friday evening by those whose birthdays came in April. In an interesting contest Mrs. Helen Silsby won the prize. Members of the committee were Mrs. G. O. Knowles, Mrs. H. N. Aldrich, Mrs. Rex Gleason, Mrs. C. H. Beals, Mrs. Andrew Brund and Mrs. W. W. Oglesby. Luncheon was served by a committee composed of Mrs. H. A. Miller and Mrs. K. K. Mills.

The M. P. G. club was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Albert Helliwell. Mrs. Roy Short was a guest. The afternoon was spent with the usual fancy work and a dainty two-course luncheon served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. K. K. Mills.

Invitations are out for a private dance tonight in Moose hall.

GARDEN AND ORCHARD HINTS

Work to be done May 1 to 15. Thoroughly soak all shrubs planted at this date, both before and after planting, especially if they have been sent from a distance.

Holly flourishes better than many shrubs in the shade of other trees and stands transplanting later in the season. Never cut off the growth of bulbous plants when clearing up. Allow them to finish their growth if they are expected to do well next season.

Lighten up the soil where flattened down by winter rains around fruit trees but wait a while before mulching.

Where the celery trenches are ready a crop of lettuce may be taken from the hills between them. If short of herbaceous plants many may be propagated by means of the shoots now throwing up and in many cases these are the better for being thinned.

Make an additional sowing of asters. Such varieties as Victoria, Semple's and Comet are all good. Thin the sweet peas in the open if they have come up too thickly. Clear away the lumber and rubbish from around the yard. Mow the lawn and try to give your place an inviting appearance. Poorly kept places are poor advertisements for the owners.

It is safe now to plant out verbenas, stocks, asters and pansies. It is not safe to risk petunias, salvia, coleus, heliotrope and other more tender annuals till about the middle of the month.

Look out for aphids on roses. Dose with a solution of whale oil soap if they are in evidence.

POLLENIZATION SHOULD HAVE MORE ATTENTION

Fruit Inspector Gives Good Advice to Fruit Growers.

"A good many fruit growers do not pay sufficient attention to pollenization," says C. E. Stewart, Lane county fruit inspector, "and that accounts for frequent shortages of certain crops, especially cherries and pears."

Some pears are self-sterile and others are not, the inspector says, but he does not know the cause of it. On that account, he says, it would be better when setting out a pear orchard to set out at least two varieties in the same tract so that there will be proper pollenization.

"It is the same way with cherries," said Inspector Stewart. "The Royal Annes and all other sweet cherries need a different variety near by to insure a good crop. With two or more varieties together pollenization is much more perfect than if there were only one variety in an orchard."

Mr. Stewart said that at Alvadore and around Junction City the peach crop will be much better this year than in other parts of the county. One reason for this is that last year's crop in those localities was light while in other parts of the county it was very heavy. A short crop usually follows a heavy one and vice versa. There are several hundred acres of peach trees in bearing in the Klemmer orchards at Alvadore and the inspector says the trees are quite heavily loaded.

KINKS IN THE KITCHEN

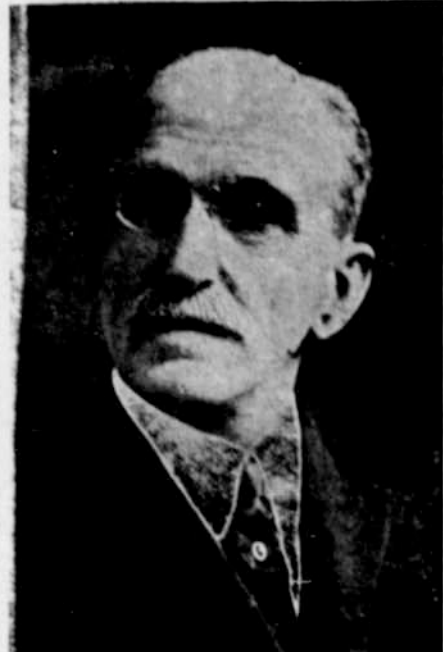

To keep cheese any length of time and prevent its getting hard, cut a small piece off. Cover the top surface of the remainder with a thin layer of butter, and then cover this with a clean cloth. The cheese can then be put in a cool place, and it will remain for a long time without getting hard or cracking.

Cayenne pepper and borax mixed and sprinkled on the pantry shelves will exterminate ants, which form one of the pests of the summer time.

Rub pears all over with a little grease or lard and put them on a cupboard shelf. This will help prevent their decaying.

Cold boiled potatoes cut lengthwise and broiled are delicious if served piping hot with plenty of butter, pepper and salt.

It seems to be war at any price just now.

CHARLES B. MOORES.

Charles B. Moores of Portland, who has announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for secretary of state, is one of the best known republicans in Oregon. For years he has been chairman of the republican state committee and as such has had the friendship and support of working members of the party in every precinct.

Mr. Moores is a real Oregonian. His grandfather, Col. I. R. Moores, represented Lane county in the territorial legislative assembly and in the Oregon constitutional convention. His father, John H. Moores, represented Marion county in the Oregon state senate.

Mr. Moores himself was speaker of the Oregon house of representatives in 1895 and has always been active in public affairs. He was appointed register of the United States land office at Oregon City by President McKinley and served one term. For 38 years he has been a trustee of Willamette University, of which institution he is a graduate. He is also a graduate of the law department of the University of Michigan. His four children were all educated in Oregon. A daughter at Willamette and O. A. C., one son at O. A. C., and two at the state university.

As a director of the Oregon Historical society, president of the Oregon State Pioneer association and a member of the dock commission of the city of Portland, he is laboring faithfully and with credit for the public welfare. He is a successful business man and in his public activities and private life his record is absolutely clean.

During the two campaigns in which Mr. Moores has been chairman of the state republican committee he has rendered a great service to the republican party and is recognized as probably the best posted man on public affairs in the state and remarkably well qualified to fill with credit the post to which he aspires.

Oleott's Republicanism.

A few democratic papers throughout the state are re-printing an article from the "Oregon Voter" regarding Oleott's republicanism. Here are one or two facts that are not contained in the article. Oleott was appointed to a position in Portland by Governor Chamberlain. When Oswald West made his campaign for governor Ben Oleott was his campaign manager and it is said he contributed to the fund that elected West. A little later Secretary of State Benson died and West promptly appointed his henchman to fill the unexpired term, overlooking the capabilities of Sam Kozer who had been chief deputy in the office of the secretary of state for many years.

The boasted efficiency in the office of secretary of state under Ben Oleott is no greater than it was under his predecessor and both conditions are due in large measure to Deputy Kozer who is a sterling republican and therefore stood no chance of receiving an appointment from a democratic governor. These are some of the facts regarding Oleott's republicanism which voters should not overlook.—Information furnished by Moores headquarters.

MANY HYMNS TOO SELFISH, SAYS SUTCLIFFE

Times Have Changed Since Church Member Confined His Religion to an Effort to Save His Own Soul from a Dread Place Called Hell.

Where cross the crowded ways of life, Where sound the cries of race and clan, Above the noise of selfish strife, We hear thy voice, O Son of Man.

In haunts of wretchedness and need, On shadowed threshold dark with fears, From paths where hide the lures of greed, We catch the vision of thy tears.

From tender childhood's helplessness, From woman's grief, man's burdened toil, From famished souls, from sorrow's stress, Thy heart has never known recoil.

The cup of water given for thee Still holds the freshness of thy grace; Yet long these multitudes to see The sweet compassion of thy face.

O Master, from the mountain side, Make haste to heal these hearts of pain, Among these restless throngs abide, O tread the city's streets again.

Till sons of men shall learn thy love And follow where thy feet have trod; Till glorious from thy heaven above Shall come the city of our God.

—F. Mason North

'Thy kingdom come!' O Lord we daily cry,

Weary and sad with earth's long strife and pain!

'How long, O Lord!' Thy suffering children sigh,

'Speed Thou the dawn, and o'er the nations reign.'

Thy kingdom come! Then all the din of war Like some dark dream shall vanish with the night!

Pence, holy peace, her myriad gifts shall pour, Resting secure from danger and afright.

Thy kingdom come! no more shall deeds of shame Brutish and base, destroy the soul divine;

Bright with thy love's all-purifying flame Thy human temples evermore shall shine.

Thy kingdom come! then shall thy blessed will Rule all the souls in thy fair image made;

Angels and men thy every thought fulfill; In earth and heaven thy mandates be obeyed.

—Henry Warburton Hawkes. ROBERT SUTCLIFFE.

It has been stated on good authority that only one person in 15,000 understands the currency question. We see no reason for such gross ignorance. All there is to it is to get hold of as much of it as possible and hang on to it as long as possible.

TO RID CHILD OF WORMS.

Don't scold the fretful, nervous child. Often it's due to worms. Get rid of these by giving one-half to one lozenge Kickapoo Worm Killer, a laxative worm candy. Give only plain nourishing food, lots of out-door exercise and put to bed early. Watch stools and continue giving Kickapoo Worm Lozenges, they will positively remove the worms. 25c at Druggists.

Republic Tires (STAGGARD TREAD)

Are made especially for the climate and roads of the Cottage Grove country. They are guaranteed for 5000 miles—and that's going some, ain't it?

Last summer the manager of the Republic Tire Co., of Youngstown, Ohio, spent three months in Oregon studying the climatic conditions and manner of roads with the idea in mind of building a tire that would endure under all the conditions that must be met here. The result was the black, tough, Staggard Tread tire, for which we are exclusive agents here. One branch of the Republic Tire Co.'s factory does nothing but manufacture this special Willamette Valley Tire, and that is done in order to give YOU the best there is to be had in a tire.
