

Society

If you know a society item and do not inform the newspaper, it is your own fault if it is not printed.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Christian church met with Mrs. Lydia G. Read last Thursday afternoon. An interesting program and a pleasant afternoon were enjoyed.

Curtis O. Parker and Miss Berenice Lamb were married Sunday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lamb, at Goshen. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Parker, of this city, well known throughout the county. The young couple will be at home in the Mote residence on north Tenth street after September 1.

The Woman's Relief corps held their regular business meeting in Phillips hall Saturday afternoon. About ten members enjoyed the afternoon. An interesting letter from Mrs. Duffy was read. It was decided to have the social entertainments, including reception, birthday dinner, etc., every three months.

Mrs. Carrie Hemenway entertained at dinner Wednesday evening. The guests were Judge and Mrs. Shinn, Mrs. Ilma Beager, Jack and Bonita Beager and Aileen Armstrong.

A few young people gathered at the home of Mrs. J. P. Graham Friday evening in honor of Ben Sanford and Chet Baker, of Portland, who were visiting here. The evening was spent in an informal manner. College songs were sung and huckleberry punch and wafers were served.

Leona Society.

Aug. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Purdin entertained in honor of the birthday anniversaries of their daughters, Gladys and Florence. The evening was spent in playing "500" and other games and dancing. The house was beautifully decorated in pink and green and maiden-hair ferns. Sandwiches, cake, cream puffs, coffee and punch were served at 12 o'clock. Those present were Lloyd Mooney, Chester Davis, Roley Doney, Cordis Miller, Jesse Pitcher, Lloyd Ritchey, W. M. Negley, Oscar Warren, Gene Kinney, Thelma Haymen, Dora Burch, Ralph Depe, Mae Warren, Fred Tucker, Edna Miller, Viva Ritchey, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilkins and family, Florence Purdin, Gladys Purdin, Mrs. E. B. Storm and Fred Boyce, the latter of Portland.

FADS AND FANCIES

The common red ant is very hard to fight. He is small and so numerous that his name is legion, and he seems to be everywhere at once. If ants get into the house, the simplest way to drive them out is by the liberal use of oil of pennyroyal. This may be sprayed on cotton batting and strewn around in small pieces. Fresh pennyroyal leaves spread about the place infested by ants will be quite as effective as the oil.

Mint grows well in water. Pick the sprigs from the top of the mint and the new shoots will grow continually—thus you will always have fresh mint in abundance.

Buy a long vanilla bean; they are usually 5 cents apiece. Put it in a preserve jar with a patent screw top and rubber. Fill the jar with powdered sugar, screw on the top and let it stand a week. When flavoring for cake is desired, mix a tablespoonful of the odorized sugar in the jar with the granulated sugar of the recipe. Cake usually requires two even tablespoonfuls; custard, one tablespoonful. The vanilla bean retains its strength for a year if the jar is always kept carefully replenished with powdered sugar so that the bean is sunk in it.

In making fruit pies that have an overabundance of juice, bind the edge, when the pie is ready for the oven, with an inch wide strip of muslin that has been wrung out of cold water, pinning it. When the pie is finished, unpin the strip and deftly peel it off at once. You will find that any juice which has crept through the edges has been absorbed by the muslin and you have a tidy oven. Besides taking this precaution, sprinkle a little cornstarch or flour both in the bottom of the pie and on top of the berries. This thickens the juice.

A woman who does much of her own work has most ingeniously (and artistically) solved the problem of keeping her kitchen range in beautiful condition by painting the greater part of it with silver paint used for radiators. The top, of course, was left black, and the other plain surfaces, but all the embossed panels into which the manufacturer put unnecessary money and the housekeeper unnecessary labor, she has painted silver. The artistic contrast between the glossy black surfaces and the silver gray is really charming; the latter never needs cleaning and only occasionally a little touching up to be in perfect condition.

It should be a matter of common knowledge, since flour is always within convenient reach, that wheat flour is the best extinguisher to throw over a fire caused by the spilling and igniting of kerosene.

Saltines lightly buttered and sprinkled with grated cheese and a little cayenne pepper, then browned in the oven, are delicious with salad.

A cement for mending almost anything can be made by mixing litharge and glycerine to the consistency of thick cream or fresh putty. This cement is useful for mending stone jars, stopping leaks in seams of tin pans or other purposes of a similar nature.

TESTED RECIPES

Punch—Place half a cupful of raisins in a saucepan with cold water to cover and boil gently for 20 minutes. Strain, and add two cupfuls of sugar and a third of orange juice, a third of lemon juice, and strain. Cool, and dilute with iced water. Add a pint of claret if desired.

Creamed Eggs with Cheese—Boil five or six eggs hard, cooking them about 10 minutes after the water reaches a boil, throw them into cold water to loosen the shells and remove these. Cook together in the chafing dish, or over the fire, a tablespoonful each of butter and flour until they bubble, pour upon them half a pint of milk, stir until thick and smooth, and season with salt, pepper and a teaspoonful of sauce. Add a heaping tablespoonful of grated cheese, and while this melts out the eggs across three times and lengthwise twice, put them with the sauce and serve as soon as the eggs are heated through.
