Pendleton Normal School Proven Necessity

(Copied from Portland Oregonian.)

MONMOUTH, Ore., June 26.—The Oregon Normal school opened this week . . . students enrolled 785, largest on record for state Normal in Oregon . . . how to care for large student body a problem . . . 800 being crowded into auditorium with seating capacity of 550. Galleries filled with extra chairs in aisles. More than 150 students seated on platform. New boarding houses completed, additions to rooming houses built and tents used. One hundred girls sleep on upper floor of school.

The official school report gives 150 grade pupils in Monmouth, for teacher practice.

Read what those you have elected to handle the affairs of your state and who are thoroughly informed regarding school conditions in Oregon have to say concerning measure 308 on the ballot at the coming election:

By James Withycombe, Governor of Oregon: "Oregon is unquestionably in need of more normal school work and Pendleton is the logical place for a school of this class in Eastern Oregon."
 By J. A. Churchill, State Superintendent of Public Instruction: "I trust that the voters of the State will assist in raising the standard of our schools by establishing a State Normal School at Pendleton."
 By P. L. Campbell, President of the University of Oregon: "At least one additional Normal School is urgently needed in Oregon."
 By W. J. Kerr, President of the Oregon Agricultural College: "Since the people of Pendleton are initiating a measure for the establishment of a Normal School at that place, it will give me pleasure to support this measure."
 By J. H. Ackerman, President Oregon Normal School, at Monmouth: "A careful analysis of the situation will convince any one that Oregon needs a Normal School in Eastern Oregon and Pendleton fills all the government requirements."
 By the County School Superintendents of Oregon: "Resolved, that it is the sense of the County School Superintendents of the State of Oregon, in convention assembled, that the best interests of the schools of the State demand increased facilities for the training of teachers, and that we, therefore, endorse the initiative measure to establish a Normal School at Pendleton."
 By Mrs. Charles H. Gastner, President of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs: "I most heartily endorse the location of said Normal School at Pendleton."
 Prof. Robert C. French, Former President of the Normal School Located at Weston: "An immediate establishment of such a school at some central point such as Pendleton would prove a great asset to the State of Oregon."
 B. F. Mulkey, Ex-President Southern Oregon Normal School: "I shall support the location of an Eastern Oregon Normal School at Pendleton."

State Board of Regents of Oregon Normal School declares that "the necessity for additional Normal school facilities in Oregon is apparent."
 Portland Chamber of Commerce endorses measure 308 and say Pendleton most logical location for Normal school in Eastern Oregon.

Society

If you know a society item and do not inform the newspaper, it is your own fault if it is not printed

An elaborate affair of the past week was the "at home" given by Mrs. Helen Silsby, Miss Esther Silsby, Mrs. George Kerr, Mrs. B. K. Lawson, Mrs. H. K. Metcalf and Mrs. H. A. Miller Tuesday afternoon at the Silsby home on south Third street. The home was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, smilax, ferns and roses. A character contest was the feature of the entertainment. The names of about 50 of the guests were represented by objects cut from magazines and pinned to the walls. Mrs. Charles Adams won the prize for guessing the greatest number of the names. Elaborate refreshments were served. There were about 75 guests present.

North Branch (Minn.) Review: A quiet wedding was solemnized at Hotel Van Devere in Center City, at 11 a. m. Saturday, September 30, when Miss Bessie Griffin, of Cottage Grove, Oregon, became the bride of Fred Smith, of Harris. Justice of the Peace Van Devere officiated. Only the groom's family and a very few friends were present. After the ceremony and a bountiful luncheon with Mrs. Frank Wright, at Lindstrom, the happy pair departed for Minneapolis, where they visited for a few days with friends. They will be at home at the Smith farm after October 15.

Prof. and Mrs. Skei entertained at breakfast Sunday morning for the Misses Kinsey and Miss Lulu Currin.

The Tuhabachee club will hold a special meeting tonight at the home of Miss Ipha Widdersheim.

The Social Twelve club meets this afternoon with Mrs. Herbert Eakin.

The M. P. G. club meets next Tuesday with Mrs. Leon DesLarzes.

The Emanon club is meeting this afternoon with Mrs. Van Allison.

Dorena Society.

The Dorena Christian Endeavor tendered a reception to Miss Ruby Senesey, Miss Mae Harbert and Arlo Bristow, county Christian Endeavor officers, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Deane Saturday night. A very interesting program was carried out after which light refreshments were served. About 24 were in attendance.

Miss Minnie Ferguson, of Creswell, was the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. Almeda Deane, Saturday and Sunday.

FADS AND FANCIES

In preparing chicken, steak, etc., the night before for breakfast, cover with a quart of water to which three tablespoons of salt have been added. There will be no taint and the meat will be tender.

Keep a bottle of red ink in the laundry and add a few drops to the rinse water when you are washing pink dresses or pink stockings. It will keep the color bright and new. Of course this method cannot be used for dresses trimmed in white unless the trimming is removed.

When you bake next time, put a wet cloth in the oven when you put the bread in. The crust will not be so brown or hard.

To prevent the stains that often result from muddy skirts, dilute sour milk with water and soak the skirt in it overnight, then wash in the usual way. The skirt will wash easier and look whiter.

A tablespoon of water or milk should be allowed for each egg in making an omelet.

For something new and dainty, spread the buttered fudge pan with minced dates before turning the candy into it.

When a screw becomes loose, remove it and fill the hole with bits of sponge packed in tightly. Then replace the screw and it will hold as firmly as ever.

There is nothing better for mending broken dishes or a lamp that is loose in the collar than alum melted and used while hot.

Water in which macaroni has been cooked will make excellent starch to use for dainty lingerie garments or fine gingham.

In baking cakes, gems and muffins, which are very apt to stick to the bottom of the pan, try cooling the bottom of the pan quickly on ice or by folding over it a wet cloth which has been soaked in cold water. This does not fail to bring out the cake in perfect condition.

Housekeepers make a mistake in having a great variety of one meal, as it does not allow change enough from day to day. Where there are several kinds of vegetables in the garden, or in market, the temptation is to cook some of each. Then the family gets enough of them all at once, for there is nothing different for tomorrow. Better limit a meal to one starchy and one green vegetable, then wait a day or two before having those kinds again.

TESTED RECIPES

Cheese Souffle—Grate half a pound of American cheese and beat it with three tablespoons of softened butter and the yolks of four eggs. Take the inside crumbs from a French roll, soak them in a quarter pint of milk and then beat into the egg yolks and cheese mixtures. Season with half a teaspoonful of salt, a very little cayenne pepper and fold in the stiffly whipped whites of the eggs. Pour into a deep buttered souffle dish and bake for half an hour in a moderately hot oven. Serve immediately.

Peach Ice Cream—Prepare a rich boiled custard from one pint of milk, one heaping tablespoonful of cornstarch dissolved in a little cold milk, a pinch of salt and two eggs beaten with two tablespoonsful of sugar. Cook the cornstarch and milk, stirring constantly in the upper part of the double boiler for seven minutes, then add the eggs and sugar and cook for two minutes longer. Cool, add a cupful and a half of sweetened peach pulp and a half pint of double cream that has been whipped solid with two tablespoonsful of powdered sugar. Turn into a chilled freezer and freeze slowly until firm and smooth. Repack in a melon mould with a water tight cover and bury in ice and rock salt for two hours before serving.

THOSE HITCHING RACKS.

Where are those hitching racks? Not to be seen; For merchants and wives must see nothing unclean. They must have everything just spick and span. They care not a fig for the poor farmer man.

But if some day they wake up to find That in their sales they're falling behind, They'll blame Uncle Sam for being so good As through parcel post to bring clothing and food.

ASHLAND PRESIDENT FAVORS PENDLETON

NEED OF EASTERN OREGON SCHOOL FULLY SHOWN BY B. F. MULKEY, FORMER HEAD OF ASHLAND SCHOOL.

Portland, Ore.—The Honorable B. F. Mulkey, ex-President of the Southern Oregon Normal School at Ashland, says, concerning the establishment of an additional Normal School at Pendleton: "I shall support the measure heartily for the reason that the present Normal School, though one of the best in the country, cannot be adequate to meet the needs of so large a state as Oregon. There is no institution that touches the masses of the people so closely as does the Normal School and the benefit derived from the taxes paid by the people of the state for the maintenance of such schools returns directly to the man and woman who paid the taxes and is conferred directly upon them and their children. The expense of maintaining a good Normal School in Eastern Oregon to a taxpayer on an assessed valuation of $4000.00 would each year be under the cost of a good Havana cigar. I sincerely hope that the coming election will grant to the people of Eastern Oregon the relief they seek in a Normal School."

BUSINESSMEN ARE FOR NEW NORMAL

PORTLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE STRONGLY ENDORSES BILL FOR SCHOOL TO BE LOCATED AT PENDLETON.

Portland, Ore.—The Portland Chamber of Commerce, which stands at the head of the businessmen's organization of the state, recently endorsed the measure proposing a Normal School at Pendleton in a resolution, giving the following reasons:

"We believe that Eastern Oregon is reasonable in its demands that such a school be located east of the Cascade mountains, hence we recommend its location at Pendleton as the most logical for the following reasons:

"First, it is a city of some size, having an enrollment of over 1,000 grade pupils.

"Second, Pendleton is very accessible, having over twenty passenger trains each day from five directions.

"Third, its location is as near central as could be expected, making it easy of access at a moderate cost to the students.

"Fourth, it is our understanding that the citizens of Pendleton propose to donate a very favorable site for the school.

"Fifth, many other advantages are: A good public library, several churches, pure water and a live, intelligent community that will take pride in the progress of the school."

Puss In Boots.

No collection of fairy tales is complete without "Puss In Boots," and it is interesting to know that it has amused the children of a hundred generations. The various versions of the story differ materially, however. It is believed that the Zanzibar version is the original. There the man is ungrateful to the clever cat and is punished by awaking to find his prosperity a dream. In France, Italy and India the cat is a swindler and the Marquis of Carabas is his accomplice. In Russia and Silesia "Puss In Boots" is a moral story and the cat helps the man from motives of gratitude. When Cruikshank illustrated "Puss In Boots" he rewrote it and introduced the moral motive of gratitude in the cat, but the American version does not point out any motive. Why should the cat help his master to title and riches? In our story he is a weak fellow who does nothing to help himself, and we feel that the cat is throwing his energies away on an idler.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Daddy and the Kiddies.

We'll call him "daddy," because that's what his kiddies call him, and this is an intimate story of "daddy" and his two youngsters. Frequently "mother" and the kiddies go to the picture show in the evening while "daddy" stays home alone. "I'm too tired to go along," is his reply to invitations. But the other evening the pleadings of the youngsters won. "Daddy" enjoyed the pictures, but he enjoyed the kiddies' fun more. When the trip home was made and the youngsters tucked in bed "daddy" heard one youngster say to the other: "Don't you think the show's lots better when 'daddy' goes with us?" "The answer came, 'Lots better.' And how many 'daddies' would cease to be 'too tired' if they realized how much the kiddies yearn for them!—Detroit Free Press.

He Had Patience.

An elderly gentleman was rambling along a country road one afternoon when he saw a small boy who had been sitting on the bank of a creek roll up his fishing line, pick up his can and start away from the piscatorial scenery. "You shouldn't give up so soon, my boy," remarked the elderly one chidingly. "The fish will be biting better in an hour or two."

"I know that," answered the boy a little sadly, "but I am—"

"You give up too quickly," interjected the other. "The next time you come out here you want to bring more patience with you."

"That's that, mister," said the boy, sighing deeply. "I got plenty o' patience, but I ain't got no bait."

Hughes Sympathetic With Demands of Labor Which Are Proved to Be Just.

"I am sympathetic with every demand to improve the conditions of labor, to secure reasonable compensation for labor. I am in sympathy with every effort to better human conditions, and particularly the condition of those who toil in industrial pursuits, in railroad pursuits, in all these great activities that are essential to our prosperity. But when you have a proposition to change the scale of wage you have a vital proposition which requires examination. You must at least know whether the demand is a just one.

"Labor, of course, should not desire anything but what is just. I do not believe labor intends to ask for anything but what is just. What is just can be examined and will survive investigation. Nothing is lost by having the process of reason applied if only that which is just is required."—Mr. Hughes in His Speech at Portland, Maine.

SURRENDER TO FORCE WOULD LEAD TO DISASTER.

"That kind of virus in our life—surrender to force—would bring us no end of disaster. If we let capitalists or workingmen, any interest, learn that the way to get what is wanted is by applying pressure and if we continue in that course for a few years, democracy will be a failure, and we might as well give up our form of government."—Mr. Hughes in His Speech at Portland, Maine.

PUBLIC OFFICER SHOULD STAND LIKE A ROCK

"Government under pressure is not American Government. Whenever pressure is applied to any public officer he ought to stand like a rock and say: 'Here I stand until we substitute reason for force. It is not an American doctrine to legislate first and investigate afterward.'"—Mr. Hughes in His Speech at Portland, Maine.

DEMAND WAS NOT FOR EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

"It is said that the judgment of society has made the demand for the eight-hour day. This was not an eight-hour day, and the judgment of society had nothing to do with the proposition laid before Congress and passed by Congress. The proof of this is found in the bill itself, which proposes an investigation to find out whether Congress had any business to do the thing which it was asked to do, and which it did do."—Mr. Hughes in His Speech at Portland, Maine.

WE SHOULD CONSIDER WHAT IS RIGHT THEN DO IT

"Our Government is based on the idea that we have Legislatures to investigate, to consider what is right and to do what is right. It is based on the idea that public opinion is formed from discussion of questions, and that we can come possibly to right solutions. It is not based on the idea that the Government must act without knowing the justice and merits of the cause in which it acts."—Mr. Hughes in His Speech at Portland, Maine.

THERE SHOULD BE NO ACTION UNDER PRESSURE, UNDER DICTATION.

"We have one priceless treasure in this country, and that is the reign of good judgment after public discussion. In the long history of the people, victory after victory has been won over tyranny and force. We have a free press, we have a free form of public discussion, to the end that there may be a general understanding of our activities and a general appreciation of what is necessary to the improvement of our conditions. We may disagree about this measure or that, but we have confidence in the public judgment in the long run. Hence there is one thing which we must always maintain, and that is that there shall be no action on the part of our elected representatives, taken under pressure, under dictation. We must know what the facts are and what justice requires."—Mr. Hughes in His Speech at Portland, Maine.
