UNDER THE BIG DOME AT SALEM

By ELBERT BEDE.

State Capitol, Salem, Ore., Jan. 27.—(Special to the Sentinel)—Talk concerning consolidation of houses and commissions is overshadowing even talk concerning bone-dry legislation. The program as to carrying out the wishes of the people concerning prohibition is cut and dried, so to speak, but there is yet considerable doubt about what commissions are to be abolished, which consolidated, and with whom.

In the first place, Governor Withcombe two years ago made some recommendations along this line, which, by the way, were not carried out to any appreciable degree. This year he has made further recommendations, some of which are not in harmony with those made two years ago.

In the next place, there is considerable jealousy between the senate and the house as to which is to have the credit for consolidation legislation. Work was started with consolidation committees in both houses. Both had plans which were not entirely in harmony and there had been as much trouble in getting the consolidation committees to consolidate as to decide which boards and commissions to consolidate. The committees are now holding joint sessions, but there is no reason to feel certain that differences are to be harmonized.

With recommendations from the governor and with each body of the assembly suggesting ideas of its own, those attached to salaries are sitting tight and are probably hoping that when the session closes the various forces will still be trying to harmonize their ideas and that the operation that would amputate them from their salaries will not have been performed.

Incidentally it may be mentioned that many of those whose political sustenance is threatened have friends in both houses and that many members who have such friends wish to see the ax drop somewhere else first.

Also incidentally it may be mentioned that each particular head of each particular department can explain in detail why the entire fabric of government would be destroyed beyond even the remotest hope of recovery by any interference with that particular department.

Still more incidentally it may be mentioned that several political booms of great promise are being incubated during the session and care is necessary that they be not exposed to draughts and other extreme atmospheric conditions that might affect seriously the delicate and only partially developed embryo. Therefore great diplomacy must be exercised in handling anything so delicate as the ousting of those of sufficient political influence as to have secured a job with salary attached. Also ambitious members must make good on their promises and must heed the demand from those with votes who insist on some tangible evidence that state expenses have been cut.

Also there is some little feeling that the republicans are willing to put a democrat under the guillotine while having a different feeling towards those of their own faith, and vice versa.

Of course, there are many members who have no political ambitions to satisfy, are not particular as to who gets the credit, who owe nothing to those who would like to continue permanently their strong attachment to the monthly pay check and who make no fine distinctions about political faith or previous condition of servitude. This was well shown when the bill to abolish the tax commission came up in the senate and Senator Garland said that he would vote to perform a neat operation just below the ears of one of the few of his own faith now holding state jobs and would expect the republicans to reciprocate later on. Senator Baldwin, also a democrat, voted to make a democrat the first victim.

Some of the feeling between the two houses was exhibited when this same bill came up for consideration in the house. The skids were put under it there because of counterplans of the house and it was at this time that Representative Thomas decried hasty and ill-considered action on the part of the senate and said that it was up to the house to play the part of the conservative, to preserve the even balance of legislation and act as the governing weight of the two houses, thus reversing precedent.

Plans now under way propose abolishing the labor commissioner, the industrial welfare commission, the industrial accident commission and the child labor commission and investing the duties of all those departments in a commission to be known as the Oregon labor commission, the consolidation of the station registration board with the live stock sanitary board, the consolidation of the dairy and food commission with the state board of health, making the dairy and food commissioner sealer of weights and measures, abolishing the state tax commission, consolidating the desert land board and the state land board, consolidating the insurance and corporation departments.

It is pretty certain that the ways and means and committee will demand the carrying out of a number of the consolidation plans in order that the money to be appropriated may be made to go around and may possibly suggest some consolidations of its own.

Representative Bean, of Lane county, is taking a great interest in the consolidation program and has mapped out a bill covering the whole subject which he will introduce in the event of lack of progress by the consolidation committees.

The bill by W. B. Jones to abolish school supervisors was put on the skids immediately after a fresh application of lard.

The bill by Representative Griggs which would provide for the semi-monthly payment of wages by railroads, mills and other private corporations, is of considerable interest to residents of Lane county but is meeting strong opposition from the railroad lobby. Mr. Griggs, who lives just over the line in Douglas county, is a quiet member but is learning the ropes and seems to be popular with his colleagues.

Mr. Jones, of Lane, has introduced a bill to prohibit involuntary servitude and forcible detention in home or private institutions; another to require the county court of Lane county to purchase a site suitable for fair purposes.

The Lane and Douglas county delegations have introduced a bill to provide for the transfer of certain records from one county to the other, made necessary by the change of boundary lines two years ago.

Mr. Bean has introduced his gasoline road tax bill, providing for a tax of one cent a gallon and a half cent tax on distillate. In connection with this he has introduced a second bill to remove the requirement that gasoline must be of 60 per cent specific gravity. It is expected that this will reduce the wholesaler's price one cent a gallon, so that the price of gasoline will not be changed by the imposition of the tax.

Col. W. G. D. Mercer, sergeant-at-arms of the senate, has received considerable undesirable advertising in the papers of the nation through the fact that he gently pulled the coattails of a minister who was taking a little too much time in his prayer for the saving of the senate. The papers have put in to the mouth of the colonel words he did not use and had no intention of using. As a matter of fact the colonel said nothing to the divine. He did not expect that even the gentle tugging at the coattail would be noticed, and the imputation that he whispered into the ear of the praying one that "he had gone far enough for those fellows", or any like words, is entirely without foundation on fact.

The colonel delivered the prayer himself Friday morning, and it was short and to the point.

Senator Garland, of Linn county, is a hard working member, both for his district and the state at large. He has sound ideas which he has no fear of expressing. For one thing he is spending a great deal of time and energy in endeavoring to get the road over the Cascades by way of Fish lake made a subsidiary highway.

THINGS WE THINK

Things Others Think and What We Think of the Things Others Think

We often pardon in ourselves the frailties of life that we condemn in others.

Praise is one of the things that costs nothing and is worth millions. Let us not be stingy in giving it to the deserving.

The sensationalists are right. Armies of the Japanese are coming to this country—and are solving the servant problem.

A Brooklyn choir master says that the present day church music is profane. There are other kinds that result in a good deal of cussing.

An insane man recently tried to swallow an electric light bulb. That's certainly a unique method of trying to get light on the workings of the inner man.

John D. Rockefeller gives away millions every year for the cause of education, but he is yet a long way from having educated the people into the belief that the Standard Oil company is a philanthropic institution.

The road that is paved with good intentions isn't intended for heavy hauling.

A man who makes his wife and family completely happy comes pretty near being a christian.

The spice manufacturers have formed a trust and propose to put a little ginger into the business.

If a man is a transition from the monkey, it is about time for some people to start making the transition.

The man who makes two blades of grass grow where only one grew before isn't necessarily a nature fakir.

The man who patents a smoke-consuming attachment for cigarettes will earn a little clear to mansions in the sky.

THE MAID OF MONTEREY.

[Following is an old-time ballad of the Mexican war. Its author is unknown.]

The moon was shining brightly
Upon the battle plain,
And the gentle stars shone forth
On the features of the slain,
The guns had ceased their firing,
And the drums in silence lay,
Then came the Senorita,
The Maid of Monterey.

She cast a look of anguish
On the dying and the dead,
And a gentle prayer she offered
For those who fought and bled,
And as the bugle sounded,
Just at the dawn of day,
Then came the Senorita,
The Maid of Monterey.

She gave the thirsty water,
She healed the bleeding wound,
Her lap was made a pillow
For those who died and mourned;
And as the dying soldier
For one bright dream did pray,
He blessed the Senorita,
The Maid of Monterey.

Although she had a nation,
And prayed that it might live,
Yet for a foreign foe man
She had a prayer to give,
Then hail to this bright beauty
That drives death's pangs away,
The dark-eyed Senorita,
The Maid of Monterey.

'PEAR SCAB' IS DECLARED AN UNNECESSARY DISEASE

Plow Under Dead Leaves and Spray With Bordeaux Mixture.

"Abolish the unnecessary disease of pear scab," says the University of California to the fruit growers of the state. "There is no need of letting the surface of pears be blotched and indurated with this preventable disease. There was an unusual prevalence of 'pear scab' in California during the past year, yet it may readily be checked. The university tells how, in a circular on 'Control of Pear Scab,' written by Ralph E. Smith, professor of plant pathology, and obtainable free by writing to the college of agriculture at Berkeley. This is the method:

"Plow under dead leaves as thoroughly as possible.
"Spray with Bordeaux mixture twice while the buds are unfolding; first when the leaf buds are just opening; second a week or ten days later, just before the individual blossoms open. The first spraying is the more important, but both should be given.

"An extra precaution is to spray a third time, mixing the first lead arsenate codling moth spray with Bordeaux mixture instead of plain water.

"Good equipment and high pressure should be used, and the trees covered thoroughly, especially the twigs and buds."

SENATE TO HOLD LONGER SESSIONS

Democrats Bring in Measure to Meet Preparedness Expenditures.

Washington—With less than 30 working days remaining in the life of the 64th congress, the democratic steering committee of the senate decided to hold daily sessions of the senate from 11 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night, beginning Thursday, February 1.

An obstruction to business which democratic leaders fear is the urgent desire of republican senators to force discussion of President Wilson's peace address, as provided for in Senator Cummins' resolution to reaffirm the faith of the senate in the Monroe doctrine and the principles of Washington and Jefferson, advising against entangling foreign alliances.

In the house this week the revenue fight will begin. The entire membership of the ways and means committee considered the measure framed by Chairman Kitchin and his democratic colleagues.

The measure is designed to raise about $248,000,000 to meet extraordinary military and naval expenditures by excess profits tax and an increased inheritance tax and to provide $100,000,000 more to cover the purchase of the Danish West Indies, expenditures on the Alaskan railroad, the proposed government nitrate plant and other enterprises.

May Fight for Territory Pershing Quit

No official information is at hand as to whether Villa or Carranza troops are to occupy the territory left vacant by the Americans, but the belief is strong here that Villa, who is credited with having a force of at least 8000 well-armed men and who is now said to be at least four times as strong as when the American troops crossed the border, will make a desperate effort to take the territory.

The Pershing withdrawal will be carried out with as much speed as possible and it is hoped that the men will be back on American soil before the close of this week.

A combination of reasons is given unofficially for the withdrawal decision. First was the impracticability of actually "capturing Villa," as the object of the expedition was explained to be in a White house statement issued at the time the expedition was sent in. Then, with the border apparently safe, the demand for the return of the state troops has become more and more pressing.

4 CHILDREN SLAIN; FATHER ARRESTED

Tacoma, Wash.—Four small children were brutally murdered at Auburn early Sunday as they lay in their beds. It is alleged the room and beds had been saturated with kerosene and then the house set on fire.

Their father, S. A. Hewett, a Northern Pacific brakeman in the railroad yards at Auburn, was placed under arrest by the King county sheriff and taken to Seattle.

Hewett's story is that the four children retired as usual to their beds but during the night one was taken ill. He went to attend the little one, taking a kerosene lamp, which he left burning on a chair between their two beds. Being restless, he said he took a walk, returned later and fell into a sound sleep, from which he was awakened by flames crackling all about him. Unable to reach the children, he said he rushed to a neighbor's to give a fire alarm and then returned, and with a garden hose tried to quench the flames.

Examination of the children's charred bodies, the coroner said, revealed the fact that their skulls had been crushed in, while the mattresses on which they lay were saturated with blood.

Mrs. Hewett, the mother, left the family home last week and was in Everett.

Dry Bill Passed in Oregon House.

Salem, Or.—Callan, Kubli, Lewis, Mackay, Schimpff, Stott and Willett—these are the names of the only members who voted against the bone-dry prohibition bill Monday. The bill went through the house after a four-hour siege of oratory, by a vote of 53 to 7.

Food Forced on Hunger Striker.

New York.—Mrs. Ethel Byrne, who began a "hunger strike" when she was sentenced to 30 days in the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island for birth control propaganda, was subjected to forcible feeding.

Washington.—President Wilson Saturday cabled Emperor William formal congratulations on the 58th anniversary of his birth.

POOR AS WELL AS RICH MAY ACQUIRE COLLEGE EDUCATION

"Bachelors" at U. of O. Demonstrate All May Have This Advantage.

Is the cost of a college education prohibitive to a poor man? Certainly not, say the "bachelors" at the University of Oregon. The living expenses of these "bachelors," including food, rent, light, water, heat, laundry and accessories, are said to run from $8 to $15, depending on what the individual can afford.

There are now 24 "bachelors," men and women, at Oregon. Recently they perfected an organization, of which Allen Rothwell, a senior majoring in literature, is president. One object of the organization is to promote fellowship and exchange of mutually helpful ideas regarding the problems of living. Another object is to circulate throughout the state information regarding living conditions and the actual cost of living at the University.

"Any person who has good health and is willing to work can get an education at Oregon," said Curtis Beach, of Portland, vice president of the organization.

A good newspaper is a good booster for any good community. A Good Friend

A good friend stands by you when in need. Cottage Grove people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mrs. Keibelbeck endorsed Doan's over three years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

Mrs. M. Keibelbeck, Birch and J Sts., Cottage Grove, says: "I am subject to kidney weakness and I was never able to find any medicine that would really help me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. A short treatment of this medicine once in awhile keeps me free from all kidney complaint." (Statement given February 22, 1913.)

On March 27, 1910, Mrs. Keibelbeck said: "My estimation of Doan's Kidney Pills remains unchanged. I have never had this medicine to fail to give me satisfaction whenever I have used it." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Keibelbeck has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
