THE SHERER-IZED STORE

I'm running a Sherer-ized store; I wouldn't go back any more, for a car-load of seeds, to the way of our dads, to the sloppy old methods of yore.

You ask, "what does Shererize mean?" Well, firstly, it's making things clean; in a Shererized store there's no junk on the floor, no dirt or disorder is seen. The goods are protected from fleas; the mice do not gnaw at the pens; the rat never gloats o'er the shaker rolled oats, and the cat doesn't roost on the cheese. The goods that a customer buys aren't specked by the frolicsome flies, and no how-wow can weep on the crackers I keep, no matter how often he tries.

Folks come to my Shererized store, and when they have looked the place o'er, they murmur, "Gee Whiz. How delightful it is! We've seen nothing like it before!" The customer cheerfully spends, and when from my palace he wends, he gives me no knocks, but
