Mr. Anderson formerly lived here for several years, moving to Dallas and then to Montana, returning here a few months ago. The young couple will make their home at Cut Bank, Mont., where Mr. Anderson owns a farm.

Oregon Women, Attention.

Oregon housewives can kill two birds with one stone in their conservation work by mixing mashed potatoes with the flour in baking bread.

"The potato grower needs encouragement, and we must save wheat wherever possible," says Food Administrator Ayer, "and both these purposes will be served if the patriotic women of Oregon will comply with the earnest request of the food administrator that they adopt the role of mixing 10 per cent of mashed potatoes with the flour in making their bread and pastry dough. The potato is a simple and wholesome substitute that may be had at a reasonable price, and is entirely practical for home bread baking. All the commercial bakers are now making their bread and pastry dough with a generous mixture of either mashed potatoes or potato flour for the 'Victory' breads, and now it is up to the housewives to do their share in this matter. Experts pronounce the potato an entirely satisfactory substitute, and from samples submitted to me I can personally say that the use of mashed potato up to ten per cent, in no way detracts from the taste, quality, or appearance of the loaf. In fact, it is my personal opinion that the potato improves the taste of the bread. I am told, also, that the women of two generations ago used mashed potato in mixing their dough quite generously and quite generally, and that the potato was considered necessary in the mixing of the choicest bread and pastry."

Some More Side Lights from Industrial Side of School Life.

There is a continual demand for equipment and repairs in the modern high school. Some schools are able to supply anything for each department from any other department, from a gas engine for the physics laboratory to a Green horse for illustrative history.

Equipped as we are, we have produced so far this year a total estimated value and saving to the community between $90 and $100. It must be remembered that this production is from the sophomore class alone.

Cabinet for physics department. Screens for primary and domestic science department.

Fifty looms for lower grades. Thirty-foot board.

One teacher's desk for grammar room. Other articles for various pieces, such as bill board, library table, door repairs, blackboard repairs, horses for manual training department.

This is value in dollars and cents. What is the value in citizenship to these twelve or fifteen boys?

EUROPE NEEDS FOOD

Food Administration Declares It Is an Absolute Sin to Waste Food—Food Has Become Sacred.

Europe is still sending an insistent call for more food. We must send it if the war is to go on efficiently. If we eat it all we cannot ship it, and the food administration has already tried to picture how much that wheat is needed by people who will starve if they do not get it, the food administration states.

"For the least bit of heedlessness on your part in food conservation some one somewhere in the world must suffer privation," an official statement declares. "The food administration has mastered the problem of America's food in such a way that every ounce of food conserved and kept in the currents of trade goes to an empty stomach in Europe.

"It is an absolute sin to waste food. Food has become sacred.

"Food means life; it means somebody's life, and you cannot escape responsibility.

"There is no waste of food among the allied nations."

WAR BREAD COSTLY TO BRITISH GOVERNMENT

Every year the British government pays $200,000,000 toward the cost of that nation's war bread. That is the principal reason why English bread prices are lower today to the consumer than in America. Incidentally the British bread is much poorer than the American.

Great Britain has taken over all home grown grain, bought at an arbitrary price, and all imported wheat bought in markets of the world at prevailing prices. This is turned over to the mills by the government at a price that allows the adulterated war bread loaf of four pounds to sell at 18 cents. The two pound loaf costs 9 cents, and the one pound loaf sells for 5 cents.

In milling, however, 14 per cent more flour is extracted from the wheat than in America. And there is a compulsory adulteration of 20 per cent, and an allowable adulteration of 50 per cent.

Compared with American bread, the British product is only about 65 per cent pure at its best.

In France, under conditions somewhat similar, but with a larger extraction, the four pound loaf sells for 16 cents.

The price of want ads. is about the only thing that hasn't gone up on account of the war. One cent a word—three times for the price of two. ***
