DRAFT 258

Metro's Big Spectacle Succeeding "The Slacker."

ARCADE THEATER
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 6, 1918
15c and 25c

Alta King was in Eugene Monday on business.

LOVE OR LUMBAGO?

"Draft 258" at Arcade.

"Draft 258" is Metro's great successor to "The Slacker." It is a flaming torch of patriotism. This seven-act patriotic feature has been given a superb production suitable to its great central idea and its thrilling and absorbing story. It dramatizes the present situation in America, when foreign propaganda battles for a victory with native patriotism, and shows the actual struggle, the honest difference of opinion that sometimes separates families. The arguments that drive home the truth to Matthew and George Alden in "Draft 258" will prove of value to every person who sees this picture.

William Christy Cabanne directed "Draft 258," and he and June Mathis wrote it. Mr. Cabanne is the man who wrote and directed Metro's great patriotic production, "The Slacker," and "Draft 258" is even greater than "The Slacker," if such a thing is possible. "Draft 258" will carry a message straight into the heart of every person in the audience. Delightful Mabel Taliaferro, the star, has long been a favorite in Metro wonderplays, and she has never been greater than in her role of the girl patriot in "Draft 258." Arcade theater, Wednesday, March 6. Tickets 15c and 25c, with war tax added.

Liberty Loan Essay Contest.

The National Committee of Patriotic Societies during the second liberty loan campaign instituted a prize essay contest on the subject, "There Should Be a Liberty Bond in Every Home."

More than 3000 essays were submitted and the first prize, a $50 liberty loan bond, was awarded to Morris Wolf, of the Business high school, Washington, D. C. Other contestant schools ranking high in order of excellence were the Dunbar high school, of Washington; the Joliet (Ill.) high school, the McKinley manual training school, of Washington; the Gilman school, Roland Park, Md.; the Northwestern military academy, Wisconsin; the Deerfield high school, of Highland Park, Ill.; the Eastern high school, of Washington, and the Hindman settlement school, of Kentucky.

The essays were limited to 600 words and every school competing was required to have a campaign for the sale of liberty bonds. The total sale of the bonds resulting from these campaigns went into the millions. The Gilman Country school, of Maryland, led the list, purchasing $60,000 worth of bonds.

The National Committee of Patriotic Societies, which has its headquarters in Washington, will hold a similar contest during the third liberty loan campaign and hopes to have every high school in the United States competing.

RED CROSS NOTES.

Attention, Auxiliaries! The request that children do not be brought to meetings where work is carried on is universal and not confined to the Cottage Grove country or Lane county. The bringing of children, no matter how sweet or well behaved, interferes more or less with the work and is an annoyance to many workers, some of whom are extremely nervous because of the strain they are under during these war times. Workers complain to the chairman and it then becomes necessary for the chairman to speak to the mother of the child or children. Remember that if one mother is permitted to bring a child or children all should be permitted to do so and any mother knows that work can not be carried on with a roomful of children. The women who are cooperating so splendidly in the Red Cross work are asked to carry the cooperation one point further and make some arrangement for the care of the children at home or with someone who is unable to go to the Red Cross meetings.

The Home Economics club met Tuesday afternoon at Red Cross headquarters, 25 registering for the work. Mrs. F. J. Helliwell was elected president, Mrs. J. W. Buckley vice-president and Mrs. K. K. Mills secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will be held Thursday, March 14, at 2 p. m., with Mrs. J. W. Buckley as leader.

Many donations are coming in to the superfluous store. There are some articles for which there are many calls, such as odd drinking glasses, odd cups and saucers, vegetable and other dishes. A single dish of a set is just as acceptable as several of a set.

The shipment this week was made up as follows: 42 pajama suits, 15 pairs of bed socks, 45 helmets, 8 sweaters, 8 pairs of wool socks, 961 surgical dressings.

The M. P. G. club held a Hoover market at Red Cross headquarters Saturday, the sum of $3.50 being netted for the Red Cross.

Jasper Patten has contributed a load of wood.

Another Way to Hooverize.
In using peanut butter, add two parts of water to one of the butter. Mix and whip to a stiff cream. The butter is thereby much improved in flavor, as well as increased in bulk.

HONOR GUARD NOTES.

The Honor Guard is planning to buy a liberty loan bond. To do this we will have to give benefits. We hope to schedule a basketball game with some other Honor Guard team in the near future. The present high school team is made up of Honor Guard members, so we know we will win. Everybody buy a ticket and help us buy our liberty bond. At the business meeting on Feb. 17 at which were discussed plans to earn money for liberty bonds, the following committee on general arrangements was appointed: Trysta Martin, Thelma Wilkinson, Juanita Short and Esther Jorgenson. The committee for selling tickets: Myrtle Potts, Ruth Phelps, Louise Mattheyer, Grace Harding, Esther Jorgenson, Fern Holcomb, Myrtle Swanson, Hildred Hall, Lola Ferguson, Juanita Short and Ada Gilchrist. Each member of the Honor Guard is to boost the game and buy tickets.

The Honor Guard girls are aiding the Red Cross in making bandages. Corps 1 attends Monday night and corps 2 on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Louise Mattheyer is one of our most faithful members. She attends twice each week.

Plans for making gift boxes for each of our home boys in Battery C will be discussed later when more definite news regarding their destination is obtainable.

We have voted to subscribe $10 to the scrap book fund, which was the Honor Guard's Christmas gift to each Oregon soldier.

We have received the February number of the Honor Guard magazine. It is the best one yet.

Notice.
I am closing my gallery temporarily in order to give my entire attention to other work. Those having pictures or films that they have not called for are requested to do so at once. Those desiring work done will please call early in the coming week, as we expect to move to our new field by March 10. Studio will be reopened after the war is over.

ARMSTRONG STUDIOS.

Weather Report for February.

Maximum temperature 60, on the fifth; minimum temperature 25, on the twentieth; precipitation 7.85 inches; snowfall 1 1/2 inches; 6 clear days, 10 partly cloudy and 12 cloudy. Precipitation for same month last year 5.32 inches.
