Alien Boy

Friday, July 17
8:30 p.m.

Alien Boy is a four piece rock band from the Eugene, Oregon area. They have all been playing professionally in the NW for more than 30 years. Roger McConnell, guitarist and singer, has played in many NW regional acts, notably Alcyon Massive and Phamous Phaces. Mike Trathen also is an alumni of Phamous Phaces, and is the bass player and singer. Kevin White is a guitar player and sings as well, rounding out some very sweet three-part harmonies. John Trout is the drummer, and has played in some legendary NW bands, such as Flasher and Eastman Band. Together, they are a formidable outfit, playing everyone's favorite rock songs and some very classy original material.

Friday, July 17
6:30 p.m.

BMD welcomes the Eugene pop/alternative/rock band Left of Yellow to the Main Stage this year on Friday night at 6:30 p.m.

Captivating vocalist and songwriter Jamie Kenagy leads this melting pot of markedly talented musicians. Influences range from Fleetwood Mac, Queen, The Police and Rush, to Johnny Cash, Shawn Colvin, MGMT, Grace Potter, and The Black Keys to name only a few.

Their sound is an exciting mix of guitar and keyboard driven melodies backed by pulse pounding beats. This band finds joy in looking for creative ways to honor artists by delivering moving renditions of their beloved work, and performing originals penned by front-woman Jamie.

Their hope is that you'll be moved in some way as you listen to the songs that have inspired them as individuals and musicians, and have FUN. See website for details.
