Lumber outlook not too cheerful

The general outlook for the northwest lumber industry is not as cheerful as it might be. It becomes more apparent every day that the big bulge in buying that was experienced during the late summer months was out of proportion to the current consumption, even granting that much more lumber is being used than there was a year ago at this time. That is particularly true of the domestic cargo markets. Nearly ever mill had a lot of business unfilled when the strike was called because it will be remembered there were very few plants that had their crews taken from the jobs on the same day and most of them were out before the tentative date which had been announced for May 6. The Filling of these old order, together with a heavy volume of new business, placed en route at very big footage of lumber a few weeks after the mills go to going. Remembering the tieup which resulted from the long-shoremen's strike, everyone was inclined to take at face value their threat to go out again the latter part of September, consequently nearly all domestic cargo buyers anticipated their requirements.

CITY BEAT

Selections from the City of Cottage Grove's Friday Update
Cottage Grove Youth Advisory Council (YAC)

The City is currently taking applications from youth interested in being a part of local government by joining the Cottage Grove Youth Advisory Council. YAC members attend and participate in City Council meetings, discuss local issues and visit the State Legislature. Annually the YAC also holds a YAC Academy where the YAC members get hands on experience with a sewer line camera, backhoe, police felony traffic stop and a zombie apocalypse. All middle-school and high school-aged youth in the community are eligible to apply, and forms and information about the YAC are available on the City's webpage. Anyone interested can bring the application form to the YAC meeting on Nov. 2 at 6:15 p.m. in City Hall.

Scenic Bikeway conference

City Manager Richard Meyers attended the Oregon Scenic Bikeway Proponent Conference in La Grande, Oregon recently as a member of the Oregon Scenic Bikeway Committee. The conference is held to review the Scenic Bikeway program and to discuss the progress of the Scenic Bikeways designated throughout the State. The Covered Bridges Scenic Bikeway in Cottage Grove was one of the early scenic bikeways designated in the State program.

At the conference the results of a report conducted to examine the economic impacts of Scenic Bikeways were presented. The report, prepared by Dean Runyan Associates, listed Cottage Grove's Covered Bridges Scenic Bikeway as the fourth most ridden of the 12 Scenic Bikeways. Cyclists who rode the Oregon Scenic Bikeways made expenditures of approximately $12.4 million in 2014. The 8,400 rides on the Covered Bridges Scenic Bikeway translated into about $1,390,000 spent by the riders.

Focused traffic enforcement

The Cottage Grove Police Department utilized some additional staffing on Wednesday and Thursday of last week to conduct focused traffic enforcement in a few problem areas. In response to a complaint, officers issued nine citations on Wednesday for parking in a fire lane near Lincoln Middle School. On Thursday, officers conducted 15 traffic stops, which resulted in warnings or citations for 11 failing to yield to a pedestrian in a crosswalk, one for cell phone use and three for failure to obey a traffic control device. The City says additional efforts are being planned and will be conducted at different locations in the community.
