"We played every game really hard, and we found our energy and passion. It was a lot of fun to watch those kids compete," Roberts said. He also expressed excitement about a lot of the returning talent that the team will have next year. But in the mean time, Lions football saw the last games of 14 seniors this season. This includes star receiver Brynden Howell, return man and receiver Michael Tharpe and Reily Boyce. However, Cottage Grove does expect the return of quarterback Blake Sentman and running back Zane Levings, two players of great value to their offensive production this year.

With fall sports over, it's now time for Lion supporters to look to basketball, wrestling and swimming, which started Monday night.

Mootz

Mootz has since been around the country to places like Ohio and even competed in competitions at Texas A&M University. However, obtaining a student-athlete offer from a school like TCU and in a sport like horseback riding is no easy task. Mootz had to create her own video reels and send them out to schools and hope she got recognized. She received one other offer from Delaware but jumped at the opportunity to play for TCU, as there are only 18 division one equestrian teams in the country.

Athletic Director Dave Presley was also present at the signing. "We couldn't be more proud to see one of our students go off to compete in division one sports," he said.

Mootz expressed gratitude and thanked her friends, family and Cottage Grove High School for all the help she has had in her equestrian career (and being excused from school on numerous occasions).
