Wrong-way crash kills Drain woman, 35

Police say that alcohol is being considered as a factor in a wrong-way crash that killed a 35-year old Drain woman.

At about 12:23 a.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 29, troopers with Oregon State Police and emergency personnel responded to reports of a crash involving a passenger vehicle and semi truck on Interstate 5 at Milepost 150 just north of Rice Hill.

According to OSP, preliminary information indicates a 2016 Honda sport utility was traveling southbound in the northbound lanes of I-5 when it collided with a northbound 2016 Freightliner tractor head-on.

The passenger, Deanna L. Teaven, age 35, of Drain was pronounced deceased at the scene by emergency personnel. The driver, Charles B Jones, age 39, also of Drain, was taken to Sacred Heart Medical Center

After impact with a Honda SUV, this tractor-trailer spilled its contents of powdered coffee creamer.

Riverbend for treatment of serious injuries.

The driver of the Freightliner, Ruben Macias Solorzano, age 23, of Santa Ana, Calif., was not injured. The truck, registered to England Trucking, was towing a box trailer loaded with powdered coffee creamer. After the impact with the Honda, it rolled over onto its side, spilling the contents.

One northbound lane of I-5 was closed for over six hours. OSP was assisted by the Douglas County Sheriff's Office and the Oregon Department of Transportation.

Route from Roseburg area to coast back open

The Oregon Department of Transportation announced over the weekend that it has reopened Highway 42, which was closed at the Douglas/Coos County line following a Dec. 23 landslide, effective Sunday morning. Pilot cars will direct traffic through a one-lane section there, ODOT said, and travelers are cautioned to expect delays as repair work continues.

Police search for missing Creswell man

Mark Jason Manderscheid

The Lane County Sheriff's Office announced a search for a 31-year old Creswell man missing since Dec. 26-27.

On Dec. 29, family members reported 31-year-old Mark Jason Manderscheid missing from Creswell. Police said he was last seen in Oakridge the evening of Dec. 26 or 27. Manderscheid reportedly told friends that he was on his way to camp in the Hills Creek Reservoir area for the night before returning to Eugene, then possibly heading to Seattle, Wash. He was reportedly driving a mid-1990s gold-colored Toyota 4-

Runner with custom aluminum rims.

The Lane County Sheriff's Office initiated a search that included resources from the United State Forest Service, the Civil Air Patrol and the Lane County Sheriff's Special Vehicles Group (SVG). The whereabouts of Manderscheid are still unknown. According to LCSO, search operations were continued on Saturday.

Donations aid Creswell pantry

An official with Community Food for Creswell, which operates the Creswell Food pantry, a volunteer-run Food for Lane County partner agency, said that a local farm has been donating over 500 dozen eggs for low-income residents.

Andi Saxon of Tangled Orchard Farm with one of the farm's recent egg donations.

Susan Blachnik explained that a call for donations of eggs for the pantry led to regular donations from Tangled Orchard Farm. In a recent letter to the Sentinel, Blachnik wrote that the farm donates an average of 510 dozen eggs weekly, which help to feed 542 people each month through December. Tangled Orchard Farm, located on Cloverdale Road near Creswell, has now contracted with Sundance Natural Foods, Jazzy Ladies Cafe, and the Kiva Grocery Store. Its owners plan to donate their 2016 mid-summer eggs from the young hens until the eggs are large enough for commercial sales.

"As owners of this growing family farm, Andi and Brad have shown their compassion for Creswell's hungry by providing highly nutritious eggs, a versatile protein-rich food that appeals to all ages," Blachnik wrote.
