On Wednesday, March 9th, classrooms in Watertown, Wisconsin, will put books aside and spend the day learning with the newspaper. This is an annual event for the Watertown Daily Times and is called No Books Day. Last year 49 classrooms participated.

"Teachers tell us students love a break from the usual text books and that they love seeing how their school subjects connect to the real world," reports Dawn McBride, Newspaper In Education Coordinator for the Watertown Daily Times.

"Newspapers can be used in the classroom for activities using every school subject – math, science, social studies, history, art and even P.E.," says McBride.
