Kinkade, Zuvich continue consistency

Consistent scoring from Mark Kinkade and Todd Zuvich continued for the Cottage Grove High golf team last week despite unpredictable greens at one course and inclement weather at another.

The Lions finished third Thursday in a four-way meet at Emerald Valley Golf Course in Creswell, as Zuvich led the way with a sizzling round of 78 (second only to a 76 turned in by Springfield's Jon Dayton).

"That was a good score for him, given the fact that several greens weren't up to par," said Cottage Grove head coach Clive MacDonald of Zuvich. "They were aerating many of the greens."

The Millers won the match, edging North Eugene 335-338, while Cottage Grove would up third at 341 and Elmira fourth at 402.

MacDonald said his team likely would have won the competition had it not been short-handed. While the other teams picked their four best scores from five individual rounds, the Lions had to take what they got from everyone.

Kinkade shot an 80, Brent Hoover fired an 88 and David Butler finished with a 95.

One day later, the Lions were competing on their home course (Hidden Valley) for the last time this season, against visiting South Albany. However, a steady rain prevented the scores from dipping down into the 70s.

Kinkade turned in the best round of the day with an 82, while Zuvich alloted an 87, Hoover a 92, Alan Gates a 94 and Butler a 96. The Lions edged the Rebels 451-458.

"Putting was just impossible," said MacDonald. "We were putting through puddles, there was just absolutely no way to judge the greens. I'm not disappointed with those scores at all."

MacDonald said all things considered, Kinkade, a sophomore, and Zuvich, a junior, have done an admirable job so far this season.

Mark inkade fought the Hidden Valley layout and a steady rain Friday to lead Cottage Grove past South Albany.

"You've got to give them a lot of credit for staying in the low 80s," he said. "We haven't really played a dry course all year."

This Friday and Saturday Cottage Grove will participate in the 36-hole Thurston Invitational at Tokatee Golf Course, the site of the Midwestern League district championships on May 19-20.

After seeing all of the teams in the league, the Lion coach is still convinced his squad is capable of finishing as high as fourth at district.

"I honestly do," he said. "At district, we only have to score four guys instead of five, which should help us. If we could get our scores down in the mid 80s..."

I've worked in both local and state courts throughout my thirty-plus years of law practice, and presided in local courts as a judge for over eighteen years. I have a broad range of experience in many different areas of the law.

The advantage of local courts is that they provide easier access to justice for the community. Many people appear without attorneys. I believe that everyone has a right to be heard, to be understood and to understand. This does not always happen in larger courts; the volume of cases does not permit it. For the non-lawyer participant, proceedings can be a blur, conducted in a language only lawyers and judges understand. This is a shame. I know that when a person comes to my court, he or she considers the matter to be a very important one. Therefore, I take it very seriously – not just because it's my job, but because it's also the right thing to do. I do my best to make sure that all participants get their say and my full and fair consideration.

Then I must correctly interpret and apply the law. Once I make my decision, I do everything I can to make sure everyone understands my ruling and the reasoning behind it. It's that simple; but it takes years of practice to do it all well. I may not always succeed, but I give it everything I have. If retained as your Justice of the Peace, that is how I will continue to serve you.
