

SPEEDWAY

drop of the white flag, Hirst still possessed the coveted position. Both drivers would battle it out in lapped traffic on the final circuit.

Hirst had the advantage going into turns three and four, but coming out of the final bend, Crockett managed to thread the needle underneath Hirst and edge him out for the victory. It marked the second consecutive win in the 2016 Speedweek for Crockett, the 21st Speedweek triumph of his career, and his seventh Speedweek triumph at CGS.

Kyle Hirst, driving for Scott and Jason Finley, was second followed by Visalia, California driver Steven Tiner. Completing the top five finishing order included Cory Eliason, also from Visalia, in fourth while fifth went to Trey Starks of Puyallup, Washington in the Doug and Kathy Rutz entry.

With so many cars, the field was split into two groups for time trials. Kyle Hirst and Roger Crockett were the fastest cars in their respective groups. Heat race winners were Robbie Price of Cobble Hill, British Columbia, Steven Tiner, Eugene's Kyle Miller and Jason Solwold of Burlington, Washington. Miller was driving for car owner Kady Adelman while Solwold was in the familiar Mike Anderson machine.

Crockett would earn the pole after capturing the win in the trophy dash. Raquel Ivie of Eugene would win the evening's B Main.

With the 360 Sprints in town for Speedweek Northwest, the famed quarter-mile clay oval also hosted IMCA Modifieds and Street Stocks. Both classes showed very good car counts.

In the IMCA Modified feature, Cottage Grove's Tyler Smith was in front on the first lap. Smith was then overtaken on the second circuit by Albany native Craig Hanson. Hanson led for much of the race but was passed late on lap 20. Jesse Williamson, of Eugene, was the man to make the move and held on to win his second race of the season at CGS.

Corbett's Collen Winebarger was second, followed by Craig Hanson. John Campos of Keizer placed fourth while Coos Bay youngster Preston Luckman finished fifth.

Justin Austin of Pleasant Hill (driving for Art Hiatt), along with Springfield's Jake Mayden and Craig Hanson, were the heat race winners. Collen Winebarger was victorious in the Dot's Trophy Shop Trophy Dash while the B Main was won by Albany chauffeur Matthew Drager.

The Street Stocks ended up having a good race as well. Eugene's Chris Sine showed the way early until he was passed on the sixth lap by Kevin Williamson. Williamson, of Coburg and the youngest of three Williamson brothers, was briefly challenged during the main event, but he stayed in front to win his second race of the year at "The Grove".

Chris Sine was the runner-up followed by his wife April Sine. The top five was completed by Jefferson's Rick Chambers in fourth and Creswell driver Garrett Barth.

Chris Sine was fast time of the night as well as the winner of the Dot's Trophy Shop Trophy Dash. Heat winners were Sine and Andrew Langan of Jasper.

The Williamson brothers dominated the Cottage Grove Speedway on Independence Day. Jesse Williamson (Eugene) won his second race of the season at CGS in the IMCA Modified feature. His younger brother, Kevin (Coburg), passed Chris Sine in the sixth lap of the Street Stocks to also win his second race of the year at the local Speedway in Cottage Grove.
