Helena Saloon:

Under-21 Root Beer Watering Hole

Imagine that you're strolling through Bohemia City, and you happen upon the Helena Saloon, the renowned local watering hole. You think it might be nice to wander in, belly on up to the bar, and wet your whistle with a cold, frothy root beer or sarsaparilla. You might sit down at a table and relax for a while. Maybe you'd even try your luck at a friendly game of cards. Sound good to you? Well, then, you're in luck... if you're under the age of 21. Yep, you read that rightly! The Helena Saloon, and its attached root beer garden, are for them as ain't yet reached our great state's age of majority. Cold beverages will be available therein, along with decks of cards, a decent supply of poker chips, and, most importantly, a distinct shortage of extraneous adults.

Schedule: Open All Day, Every Day

Location: Bohemia City (near Heritage Stage)

Sponsor: Lane Electric Co-Op

Jay the Magician:

Kids of all ages will enjoy Jay, who will perform between acts on the Main Stage and Cultural Stage and will roam around Bohemia City delighting and astonishing festival-goers with his close-up magic tricks.

Pony Rides:

BMD welcomes back Ready, Set, Ride to provide our pony rides this year. Rides are $5 per child.

Slabtown versus Lemati Feud Contest:

Returning for the fourth year this ongoing competition is pure old-fashioned fun for children and adults. As we begin the 2015 Feud, Lematians have the bragging rights for their two wins and it's an opportunity for Slabtowners to even the score! Check the BMD website for details on how to join in the fun or visit the Gazebo Stage during the festival.

Train Rides:

The arrival of the train in 1871 was a blessing to Cottage Grove's farmers and miners. The BMD Express provides free rides to travel back in time and visit museums, covered bridges and the Victorian home of the town's first doctor. Train guides have free maps to offsite cultural heritage attractions that are easy walking distances from train stops and within a geographic area that's significantly smaller than a Disneyland theme park.

Remote Racing Cars

BMD welcomes back Full Throttle Attraction to provide this popular car racing game. Up to four racers can compete to determine who wins the race.

Test your skill at racing these miniature cars around the track and see who wins.

Cost: $3 for one race OR $5 for two races
