'The General' to Show Five Days at Arcade

Cottage Grove's Own Picture Has Thrilling Scenes; Committee Approves.

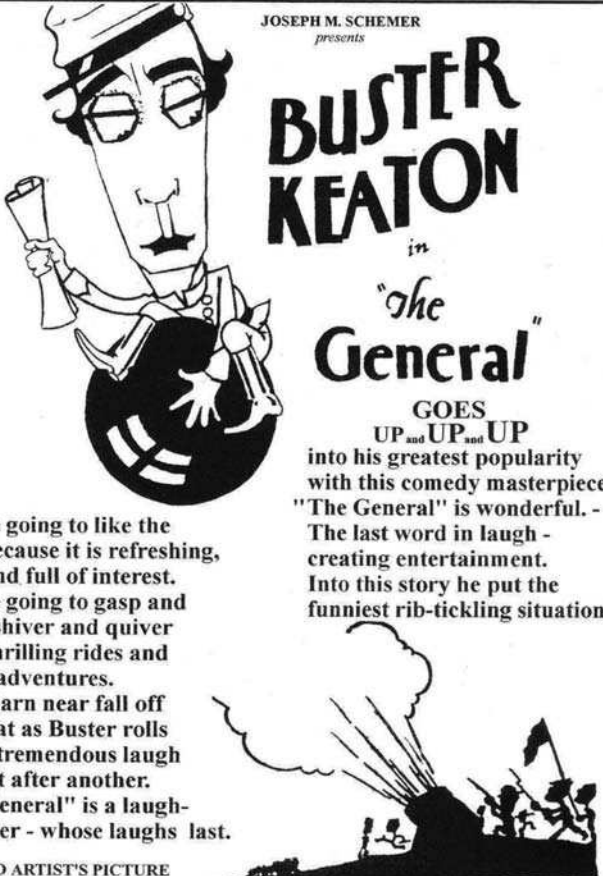

Cottage Grove's own movie, "The General," which Buster Keaton filmed here last summer, will open for a five-day showing starting Tuesday at the Arcade Theater. It is expected that a large number will attend from the surrounding country.

A chamber of commerce committee, which saw the picture in Portland as guests of the Majestic theater, reported being favorably impressed with the comedy and with the way Cottage Grove scenery showed up. The film is still showing in Portland.

One of the outstanding scenes of the picture is that showing a locomotive crashing through a burning trestle. Thousands were attracted to Culp Creek the day that this was taken. Many papers in the country have claimed that this scene was taken in miniature. One ingenious writer even told how the locomotive was lowered on cables to prevent it from being damaged in the crash. Thousands in this territory will bear witness to the authenticity of this thrilling scene. Many residents of this city took part in the picture and these are looking forward to seeing how they appear on the silver screen.

Matinees will be held each day of the engagement, the Arcade theater management states.
