4-H Leader's Emerald Pin goes to Mrs. Morton

A quarter of a century completed in the service of Lane County 4-H clubs, Mrs. Leon Morton, London, was accorded highest honors at the 4-H Leaders' "recognition night" held at Pioneer Hall, Lane County fair grounds, Friday night. Mrs. Morton received the emerald pin for 25 years of service.

More than 80 people attended the annual honor event, and C.L. Carpenter, assistant manager of the U.S. National Bank of Portland, Eugene branch, presented pins, seals and certificates to 4-H leaders who had served from one through 25 years. A total of 166 men and women, the leaders of 1,300 boys and girls in Lane County's 132 4-H clubs were included in the recognition service.

Two leaders honored with Mrs. Morton exceeded her in number of years of service. Mrs. Cora Wearin, Leaburg, has been a leader for 26 years and Mrs. Elvin Lewis, Applegate, for 28 years.

"Service is the performance of labor for the benefit of another," Mr. Carpenter said. "Certainly this definition describes the efforts of a 4-H club leader."

Darrell Smith, Elmira, a 4-H leader for five years, was unanimously re-elected for president of the Lane County 4-H Leaders' association during the annual business meeting which was a part of the evening program.

POLICE BLOTTER

Oct. 17

Trespassing, Axe & Fiddle

A bartender reported that an intoxicated Hispanic male refused to leave and has previously trespassed. Officers contacted the involved subject and the bartender. The subject was intoxicated but able to care for himself and left the premises. The bartender opted to give the subject one more chance before pressing charges.

Probation Violation, E. Whiteaker Ave.

A male came into the business at the location extremely intoxicated and was refusing to leave. The subject was a short Hispanic male who was eventually taken into custody for a probation violation. He was lodged in the downstairs holding at the police department.

Oct. 19

Welfare Check, Main St.

An area resident complainant observed what appeared to be a teenage subject staggering and stopping to vomit, believing the subject may be intoxicated. The subject was being accompanied by another older subject. Officers contacted the subjects who appeared intoxicated but they were able to care for themselves and where en route to their residence.

Oct. 20

Assault, Gateway Blvd.

A complainant advised that a male passenger of a vehicle assaulted an attendant at a business. The subject put the victim in a headlock until he almost passed out. The subject was angry about having to wait for a pump. Police were unable to locate the suspect on arrival.

Oct. 21

Fraud, Row River Rd.

A caller advised that a female subject picked up a prescription for a male subject that had been deceased for 10 days prior to the prescription being dropped off. Oxycodone was picked up on Oct. 18 and Fentanyl was picked up on the Oct. 19 by the unknown female.

Suspicious Conditions, CGHS

A complainant advised that there are subjects in the field between River Rd. and the gym and they have a fire going. Police determined it was tailgaters BBQing.

CITY BEAT

From the City of Cottage Grove Friday Update

Public hearing scheduled

The City Council will consider three applications to consolidate the M-1 and M-2 Industrial Zones into one M Industrial Zone at a public hearing on Monday, Nov. 28 at 7 p.m. The amendment will require that the Comprehensive Land Use Diagram, the Zoning Map and the Development Code Text be amended. All three applications will be considered at the same public hearing. The Planning Commission held a public hearing on the matter on Oct. 19 and recommended that Council approve the applications. The staff reports, public hearing minutes and proposed ordinance will be provided with the agenda prior to the public hearing. Any questions should be directed to the Community Development Department.

North Regional Park trees

On Thursday, Fleet and Facilities Manager Russ Kaleese, Maintenance Workers Alissa

Allen and Chad Reel, Urban Forestry Committee members Susan Johnson and Jim Kness and Public Works Director Jan Wellman went on a field trip to look at the trees in North Regional Park that are dead or dying. The City said this is a phenomenon that is plaguing many stands of trees throughout this general area. The trees appear to be dying from either drought conditions or beetle infestation. One of the dead trees was cut down so it could be observed from trunk to tip. Bark was removed from sections of the tree to see if insects were present. The trees appear to be dying from the top down, and most of the dead/dying trees are located around the edges of the tree stands. Trees on the edge of the stand receive more sunlight and are more prone to be affected by drought. Once drought conditions weaken the tree, it makes it easier for insects to move in because the tree lacks the ability to ward-off infestation. It was decided that no immediate action would be taken. Instead, City staff will continue to monitor the condition of the trees until a management strategy can be developed.
