

COMMUNITY BRIEFS

Food preservation workshops

A hands-on class in the art of preserving food will be taught by Oregon State University Extension Service Master Food Preservers on Saturday, Nov. 19. Entitled "All About Apples and Holiday Food Gifts," the class offers demonstrations as well as the chance for several samples.

The class costs $10-14 on a sliding scale, and those interested are asked to call 541-942-2360.

Annual turkey shoot

Creswell Clay Target Sports will host its annual turkey shoot on Saturday, Nov. 12, which features shots at clay targets for cash prizes. The public is invited, and everyone is guaranteed to win a turkey. Cost is $35 for four games.

Eye and ear protection is required, and no shot size larger than 7.5 is allowed. Questions can be directed to Dave Abel at 541-942-2021 or by email: Drabel7@aol.com.

'A Christmas Story' tickets on sale

Next on the Cottage Theatre stage is 'A Christmas Story,' based on humorist Jean Shepherd's stories about growing up in the Midwest in the 1930s.

Performance dates are Dec. 2-4, Dec. 8-11 and Dec. 15-18.

Something's fishy at the Elk's lodge

The Cottage Grove Elk's Lodge, 755 N. River Road, is hosting a Fish Fry Fundraiser for their scholarship fund on Friday, Nov. 11 from 5-7 p.m. All are welcome.

Free light giveaway

Point2point at Lane Transit District and Oregon Department of Transportation wants to help pedestrians and cyclists stay safe during the darker winter hours. Staff will be distributing free bike and walking lights in Cottage Grove during a "Be Seen Be Safe Light Giveaway" event on Thursday, Nov. 17 from 3-6 p.m. at the Bohemia Park shelter while supplies last.

Additional information can be obtained from Cammie Harris at 541.682.6206 or E-mail: cammie.harris@ltd.org.

'Peter and the Starcatcher' auditions

Cottage Theatre will hold auditions for the first production in its 2017 season, 'Peter and the Starcatcher,' on Sunday, Nov. 20 at 6 p.m. No appointment is necessary. Roles are available for approximately 16 actors, both male and female, ages late teens through sixties. Tony Rust directs this production, which will be on stage for three weekends, Feb. 3-19, 2017.

A wildly theatrical adaptation of Dave Barry and Ridley Pearson's best-selling novels, 'Peter and the Starcatcher' provides a fantastical backstory for the century-old character of Peter Pan. Interested actors are asked to come prepared to sing a pirate or drinking song in either a British or pirate accent, and to deliver a short Shakespeare verse. The audition will also include group improvisation exercises and readings from the script. First-timers are very welcome; no previous stage experience is necessary to audition.

Further audition details, including a detailed character breakdown, are available at www.cottagetheatre.org, or by calling Cottage Theatre at 541-942-8001.

Shakespeare Festival school visits

The School Visit Team of William Elsmann and Amy Lizaro with the Oregon Shakespeare Festival will be in Cottage Grove on Monday, Nov. 14 at Cottage Grove High School.

This autumn marks the 45th anniversary tour of the Oregon Shakespeare Festival's School Visit Program (SVP), which sends OSF actors directly to schools throughout the Western United States. Over 100 schools will host actors this fall.

In October, November and December, teams of actors will tour schools throughout Oregon, Washington, California and Kansas, engaging students from diverse backgrounds through live performances and active workshops.

Welcome Baby boxes

Local organization 90by30 is partnering with Pip & Grow to establish the Welcome Baby Box as the cornerstone of the child abuse prevention effort in South Lane County. Beginning in 2017, every infant in Cottage Grove, Creswell and surrounding regions will receive a "Smitten," Pip & Grow's signature infant sleep space, stocked with essentials for babies and parents. Throughout the month of November, Pip & Grow is celebrating the launch of the WBB effort with a special buy-one-get-one deal. One Smitten costs $100, and it comes with one to donate to 90by30, a savings of $40.

By Jan. 1, 2017, 90by30 hopes to have 100 completed Welcome Baby Boxes ready to distribute. Donations from individuals and groups will be used to fill the boxes, as well as contributions such as knitting baby booties to contributing money toward the purchase of the diapers, medical kits, clothes, books and other items.

90by30 is a campus-community partnership with the University of Oregon with the goal of reducing child abuse and neglect in Lane County 90 percent by 2030. The Welcome Baby Box, which aims to not only provide a safe place for the infant to sleep but furnish parents with the supplies and knowledge needed to get their child's life off on the right foot, is the first prevention strategy selected by a Lane County region.
