Department of Environmental Quality Proposes No Further Action for Former Midway Truck Stop

Proposal: The Oregon Department of Environmental Quality is recommending no further action for cleanup and assessment for the contamination on the property at the former Midway Truck Stop located at 241 Bear Creek Road in Curtin. The Site is a former petroleum service station that operated from 1956 to 1990 which consisted of retail and commercial vehicle fueling operations. Gasoline and diesel contamination in soil and groundwater was identified in 1991 which was caused by historic releases of petroleum products from several above-ground storage tanks and associated dispensing equipment. Soil contamination was found on the northern portion of the property to a depth of about 10 feet. Groundwater contamination was found beneath the northern portion of the property and under several residences and one commercial property north of the property.

Since 2004, DEQ has been providing clean water to four residences that had relied on groundwater for their domestic water supply. Groundwater has levels of methyl tert-butyl ether at just below, and occasionally above, DEQ's level of concern for long-term health effects. In 2008, DEQ and the new property owner entered into a Prospective Purchaser Agreement which required the new owner to conduct several cleanup activities. These included among other things, excavation of contaminated soil, installation of groundwater monitoring wells, and completion of a deed restriction that restricts certain land uses in the contaminated area. The property owner completed the excavation of contaminated soil in 2008, which significantly reduced risk to human health on the property, as well as reduced the source affecting groundwater contamination. The property owner also installed several monitoring wells to assess groundwater contamination and is in the process of completing the deed restriction. DEQ prepared a report summarizing the site history, assessment and cleanup activities conducted at the site, and is recommending No Further Action for assessment or cleanup of contamination at the property. Impacts to groundwater north of the property are still under investigation and cleanup by DEQ. DEQ conducted a public comment period soliciting comments in 2008 regarding the proposed remedial activities which have now been completed by the property owner. No additional comment is being requested. Once the deed restriction has been recorded in the county records, DEQ will provide a No Further Action Letter to the property owner.

How to get more information: Site summary information and other documents are available on DEQ's Environmental Cleanup Site Information database. Go to <http://www.deq.state.or.us/ig/ECSI/ecsiquery.asp>, then enter 1863 in the Site ID box and click "Submit" at the bottom of the page. Next, click the link labeled 1863 in the Site ID/Info column. You can also contact the DEQ Project Manager Bryn Thoms at thoms.bryn@deq.state.or.us or 541-687-7424. Accessibility information: DEQ is committed to accommodating people with disabilities. If you need information in another format, please contact DEQ toll free in Oregon at 1-800-452-4011, email at deqinfo@deq.state.or.us, or 711 for people with hearing impairments.
